The Map on the Wall - Jack Curtis

1. What was the purpose of the map on the wall in CDR Jack Curtis' office?
2. What did each of the pins placed on the map represent?
3. What were all the "differences" that CDR Curtis identifies in people? Instead of flaws, how does he describe these differences?
4. From the first time CDR Curtis meets a new sailor, what two things does he say they have from him?
5. How can our unit improve on these two qualities amongst cadets in the unit?
6. Why does he feel it is important that he has these two beliefs towards his new check-ins?
7. How does CDR Curtis feel about the differences in the people that check-in to his command?
8. Explain how you feel Hillgrove NJROTC can benefit from the idea of (or actually) using "A Map on the Wall" to bring the unit closer together as a team?
