From the Editor

I am very concerned for the state of the world today, mainly because of the ongoing Coronavirus. So many businesses are closing down and I am afraid there will be more to come (see page 20).

The newsletter has been hard hit this month with very few contributors, meaning fewer pages so my thanks to all those who did send in something for the newsletter otherwise we would have just had a book of advertisements.

I had intended to include some of my latest work in the magazine but a rare mishap in the workshop put paid to that, eventually I will tell you all about that unfortunate setback.

I hope you will read the Chairman’s Jottings on page 4, as Brian has all the latest news to tell you and some of it is quite sad.

I do hope you will photograph your work both old and more recently made and forward it to me to include in the October issue please, at the moment that will be the only way of being able to produce a Newsletter for you.

Graham

Chairman's Jottings

A big Hi to all our members, and here's hoping you are all keeping well. It's so difficult to find things to report or say due to this past six months so be patient.

Unfortunately as of now we still don't have an opening date for the club but it could possibly be the end of September.

"Fingers Crossed"

We will inform you as soon as we find out.

Brian Edwards

Our sincere condolences are sent to Len Owen on the loss of his dear wife. May she rest in peace.

I am sure we will join together in wishing a speedy recovery to Ann Flynn wife of our member Pat Flynn who suffered a heart attack and was rushed into hospital. Ann is now back home and is on the steady road to recovery.

We are still meeting on a Wednesday and Friday at Coombe for a cuppa and chat, all welcome 10am to Noon. It would be nice to see some new faces. We have our cuppa from the cafe.

Here's hoping you are all trying to keep up your turning and keeping busy
Please keep safe and well

Keep turning

Brian.

Letter to Wood Turning Clubs United Kingdom

Dear Sir/Madam,

South South Trading, specialises in African hardwood wood turning blanks for the hobbyist market.

We have an exclusive relationship with a supplier in Southern Africa and our first container of wood has arrived in the UK! We can now offer your club and its members a variety of species:

Camel Thorn Acacia Erioloba
Leadwood Combretum Imberbe
Mopane Colophospermum Mopane
Zambezi Teak Baikiaea Plurijuga
Mchibi Guibourtia Coleosperma

The wood is sustainably & ethically sourced and complies with the EU Timber Regulations We will have blocks of varying sizes, including bowl and pen blanks in all of these species, but only pen blanks in Michibi. A Facebook page has been set up - South South Trading – which provides more details about the wood species. We have a limited initial stock offering for testing purposes and to get a feel for the UK market. Once we get an idea of what the UK wood turning clubs are looking for further items will come on line. To this end we would greatly appreciate it if you could circulate this information amongst your members. Any feedback, or queries would be most welcome.

The work of Pete Wright

I have been busy in the garden growing some produce but also spent some time in the workshop making a bowl of fruit for my Daughter-in-law's Birthday. Am hoping she likes it.

Keep safe.

Not been doing much wood turning as I'm slowly emptying my shed which is taking a long time. I didn't know I had so much stuff. Anyway I've still put pen to paper.

Here's a bit of colour with a pattern.
It looks a lot better than the picture shows it.

The ToolPost

1997-2020

Save 25% Site-Wide While Stocks Last.

When it's Gone, it Really is Gone.

If you're reading this, it is proof that I was eventually able to press send on the single hardest email I have ever written.

Here's why...

The changing economics of retail, the increased cost of importing, along with fierce competition from larger organisations, have hit us hard. Trading has been incredibly challenging, especially over the past 5 years, and we have relied heavily on personal investment and community support to try and stay here for you.

However, as you will no doubt understand, the additional and very sudden impact of Covid-19 on top of these other factors has further weakened our position, where stock availability was (and in some instances still is) at its worst ever, especially from our overseas colleagues. The economic outlook is now too uncertain, especially with the changes expected in January next year, so it's with a very heavy heart that I must tell you we will be winding down The ToolPost. Please know we explored every possible avenue to continue trading but the combined financial impact of the past 5 years means the business is no longer sustainable for the family in a way which we would like to see it run.

I understand how disappointed you may be to receive this news, and I don't think it's an overstatement to say that, after 23 years of trading, it really is the end of an era.

I'd like to say a heartfelt thank you for your custom over the years and can wholeheartedly say that without you, we wouldn't have had the energy to keep pressing on.

I'm sure you'll want to know when we're closing; At the moment, our aim is to continue as usual until the end of September but if anything changes, you'll be first to know. We also hope that we will be able to open our doors during this period, but we will also announce details and dates of that in due course.

On a personal note, it's been my privilege to serve The ToolPost (in all its forms) on and off for the past 23 years when my father, Peter, founded the company from our home and garden shed in 1997 - look how far we've come. I couldn't be more proud of the brand, the team (including Jen and Faith), the community and the incredible reputation we've built in the industry alongside so many great people, suppliers and brands.

Of course, none of this would have been possible without my father's vision and tenacity, to bring the best of the woodworking world to a small part of South Oxfordshire, making products/brands accessible which had never been offered before and working with manufacturers to further develop those which were. I hope you will join me in your own way, to raise a glass to Peter for all he has contributed to the industry (more than many will ever know) - perhaps now he can actually enjoy his retirement...

On behalf of the entire team here at The ToolPost, thank you for joining us on our journey - and enjoy the sale!

Best wishes,

Felix Hemsley

For Sale - Axminster Perform CCL with Extras

I'm selling my wood lathe and wanted to share it with you before putting on eBay. I've had it for a few years and it's only had light use. It is all in very good condition and well looked after.

As you can see, I have collected many tools, extras and wood that I'm also looking to move on. The photos aren't extensive but show a good amount of the important things, all that are included in the sale.

I'm looking for a fair price and open to offers. It looks like the lathe itself might be worth around £300+. With the newly purchased Axminster chuck, pen mandrel, all of the chisels and wood stock, I imagine £500+ would be reasonable for all of it. But, like I say, I'm looking for a fair price and open to offers and suggestions on selling price. I might even be able to deliver it to someone local. I'd be very happy with a £500 cash sale.

Lathe For Sale

I'm looking to sell my father-in-laws Elu DB180 lathe and wondered if one of your members might be interested, as it's in Kenilworth? He bought the lathe new, probably in the late 1980s but unfortunately became allergic to wood dust very quickly so its had very little use. It comes with a face-plate, two Vari-form chucks, a set of Diamic chisels and a bench (this needs some tlc). I can supply pictures and I think you will be amazed at the wonderful condition it's in. We are looking for £300 for the lot.
