There are dozens of Android phones on the market right now, and while a plethora of sites will calculate the best based on a list of box verification features like processor speed, screen size, and battery life, we want to know which ones you think are best in class. It doesn't have to be the phone that you're carrying, or even the phone that you owned, maybe it's the phone that you plan to upgrade when you can. Whatever it is, we want to know which phones you think are the best, and why. Our only condition: It should be on the market now. After all, we recently asked you which android phones you use, and then we reviewed which phones are most popular among Lifehacker readers. Also, it's been a while since we last talked about the best Android phones, so we're definitely due to upgrade. Leave your candidacies in the debate below! One of the best things about Android is the choice you have between tons of different devices, and... MoreSing contenders is closed! To see which of your nominees are in the top five, head over to the top five Android phones: the 2013 Edition to see which made the cut, and vote for your tota favorite to win! There are so many Android phones on the market that choosing the best can mean a ton... Read more about the five nominations in the discussion where you placed your favorite tool to work with. We get hundreds of nominations, so to make your nomination clear, please include it at the top of your post as well: VOTE: BEST ANDROID PHONE. Please do not turn your voice in response to another person. Nominations by email will not be counted. Instead, make your vote and respond to individual discussions. Once you've made your nomination, let us know what makes it stand out from the contest. About Hive Five: The Hive Five feature series asks readers to answer the most frequently asked question we get: Which tool is the best? Once a week we will put out a call for applicants looking for the best solution to a particular problem, then you tell us your favorite tools to get the job done. Every weekend we will report to the top five recommendations and give you the opportunity to vote for what is best. For example, check out last week's top five coffee makers. Whether you're dribble, French press, AeroPress, pour, percolator, or use a pod brewer, there are MoreThe Hive Five based on reader nominations. As with most Hive Five posts, if your favorite stayed away, it's not because we hate it, it's because he didn't get the nominations needed in calling for job applicants to make the top five. We understand that this is a bit of a popularity contest, but if you have we want to hear about it. Is there an offer for Hive Five? There are a ton of applications that can do this task. In addition, a simple Google image search can also show you some unique options. The trick is to find apps that work best for you and find the kind of material you want to see. Let's take a quick look at the best backgrounds and wallpapers for Android apps! We also recommend NASA's official app for some excellent space wallpaper. AbstractRedditResplashSphaeraTapetPrice: Free/$1.99Abstract is one of the new wallpaper apps on the list. This is Hampus Olsson, designer for all the wallpapers on OnePlus phones. It has different abstract wallpapers in different colors. There are about 300 backgrounds in total, and they are all in 4K resolution as well. We expect more to hit the app as time passes. It's also a great way to get all the wallpaper from OnePlus devices without buying one. The premium version goes for $1.99.RedditPrice: Free/$2.99 per month/$29.99 per yearReddit is one of the surprisingly good wallpaper apps. There are subreddits with tons of decent wallpaper selection in multiple resolutions. The site also has a search for faster and simpler results. Most Reddit users post images on Imgur. This makes Imgur a decent app for wallpaper as well. It may take a bit to find good things. However, there are a lot of great things here. In addition, the main Reddit accounts are free. You can get more features with Reddit Gold. We recommend r/ultrahdwallpapers, r/wallpapers-wallpapers, r/wallpaper, and r/WQHD. Wallpaper for some really good things. It's also a great option for devices with certain screen styles like The Samsung Kick Hole. ResplashPrice: Free/Up to $10.99Resplash is one of the new wallpaper apps. It's a great source of wallpaper photography. The app boasts over 100,000 wallpapers with new wallpapers every day (or so they say). The user interface is decent and easy to use. Photos are more than high enough resolution for any phone screen. It even comes with some light settings features like dark mode and different layout options. Have parts that might be better, but it's a very positive experience in general. It's also great for photography photos $0.99Sphaera is one of the most unique wallpaper apps. This allows you to take a segment of the map and paint it to fit your home screen. You can use maps mainly from anywhere in the world, including your hometown. In addition, the app has over 30 seats to choose from if you want something like this. Each wallpaper generates up to 4k resolution and you can change colors to match your style. Yes, it also includes AMOLED black as an option. Recent updates have also added a feature of live wallpaper if you want it. The app runs for $0.99 up front, but has no other purchases in the app. TapetPrice: Free /Up to $19.99Tapet is one of the most unique wallpaper apps. He doesn't come with a choice to choose from. Instead, you choose design and colors. The app makes wallpaper of your choice. It's a great way to get the good, minimal wallpaper in the colors you want. It also comes with Muzei support, download function and more. The app uses the screen resolution of your device to customize the quality. It helps to get guesses. Either way, it's really good. Vectorify da homePrice: FreeVectorify yes home is another unique wallpaper app. It uses vector graphics for clean, colorful wallpaper. Basically, you choose a style, choose a color scheme, and the app generates wallpaper. The wallpaper is high-resolution and there are some fun little designs. The process is also simple and there is a bit of customization as well. In addition, the app itself comes with a light and dark mode for your viewing pleasure. It's totally free and easily one of the best wallpaper apps. Wallpaper from GooglePrice: FreeWallpapers from Google is a worthy wallpaper app. It has a small but decent selection of wallpapers. The app has other features, including a separate lock screen and home screen wallpaper, an automatic set feature for new wallpapers every day, and more. The app has a few bugs. Also, his collection is not so great. However, it has some really high quality stuff. It's also completely free without advertising or in-app purchases. WalliPrice: Free with in-app purchasesWalli is another great wallpaper app. It has a bunch of unique works from various independent artists. You can find all kinds of things here. Some of the popular things include word backgrounds, abstract things, fantasy themes, and people. The app includes a simple layout, categories for easy viewing, and more. It is also a good place for artists to promote their benefits. You can find a lot of really unique things here that you just can't find elsewhere. You can also pay for things to support artists. WalpPrice: (with ads) Walp is a fun wallpaper app. It includes various stock wallpapers from a bunch of OEMs. It boasts collections from Samsung, Sony, Android shares, Oppo, and about two dozen other brands. You're just opening an app, an app, to the end, and find the wallpaper you want. The app itself has a light and dark theme for your viewing preferences along with a blur filter, saturation filter, push notifications for new wallpaper and an automatic shifter if you want something different every day. It seems to have hit all the right notes and worked well in our testing. WalpyPrice: Free/$1.99Walpy is another new wallpaper app on this list. It has a bunch of great wallpapers in pretty high resolution. However, this app also changes your wallpaper at different points in the day. It doesn't rely on timers like most. Instead, it waits for the phone to charge or on WiFi to change the background. There is a lot of variety. However, Walpy is mostly photography, so you won't find abstract stuff or anything like that here. It's a neat solution with some decent choices. Bonus: Google SearchPrice: FreePerhaps is the easiest wallpaper app Google Search. You're just looking for what you want. The plus is that you can get creative with searching and find basically everything you want. The downside is that you have to get creative to find good things at all. There is a lot of fluff when it comes to wallpaper and backgrounds and Google Search doesn't filter anything. Either way, we recommend you start with Google Search or finish with it if none of these other wallpaper apps do the trick. Bonus: Hidey HolePrice: FreeHidey Hole is a wallpaper app specifically for Samsung Galaxy S10, S10 Plus and S10e devices. He sourced his wallpaper from a subreddit with a bunch of wallpapers specially designed to cut out the camera on display. It works with both a single and double cutout camera and you can sort for anyone specifically. You can also slightly change the images, apply them directly from the app, or download them for later. It only supports three devices, so it didn't make the full list. However, owners of the Galaxy S10 series should definitely try this one. If we missed any of the best backgrounds and wallpaper apps, tell us about them in the comments! You can also click here to check out our latest Android app and game lists! Lists!
