Ever since he rolled across our screen in the first teaser, and especially after he rolled out on stage at Star Wars Celebration last April, fans have been wondering when we could own our own BB-8. It looks like the answer will be Force Friday, aka September 4th, when all the Force Awakens items will be available. The team over at Rebelscum.com one of their readers said they had spotted the hotly anticipated remote control BB-8 toy target. Check out the package below, in addition, you can check out this video toy in action, courtesy of Paul Murphy in the Everything BB-8 Facebook group, here. It looks like it will be one of the must-have toys for this force Friday and the festive season. If normal operation is disturbed or interrupted, this problem can be caused by severe electromagnetic interference. To reset the product, turn off your head and body, and then turn it back on. If normal operation doesn't resume, move the product to a different location and try again. To ensure normal operation, charge the batteries, as a low battery may prevent it from working properly. HEAD CONDITION Low Battery (Body) System Error 3 1 2 WHITE RED BLUE BODY RED CONDITION Head & Body Not Linked Low Battery (Body) TIP: If BB-8 is running up, try reset. Turn on the body and head completely, then turn the two power switches back on. If this does not work, make sure the head and body are fully charged, then try again. Remove the entire package before use. Save this information, addresses, and phone numbers for future reference. Please read the package leaflet for more information. Content may differ from images. Adult check this toy to ensure that there are no damage or remove it from use. During the play, children should be monitored. Protect from obstacles and electrical dangers. Always remove batteries from the controller if they are not in use for a long time (controller/charger only). Gently wipe it with a clean, damp cloth. Protect it from direct heat. Do not immerse it in water. This may damage electronic assemblies. Turn off the power supply of the controller when it is not in use. Charge the main body (NiMH battery) every 6 months to maintain the battery. TM & © Spin Master Ltd. All rights reserved. Su
