It is located in Chartres and consists of two people: Ms. Balsan Director and her assistant Veronica. This kindergarten accepts up to 10 children and 2 babies. This centre is adjacent to the kindergarten and primary school in Sharret. Thus, the children of the drop center get used to this environment and can more or less realize and get used to the place where they will go later, growing up. It also allows kindergarten teachers to meet their future students. Summary Of the Next 4 Business Operation Organization of this company is not complicated, as it is limited to two people: Caroline BALSAN Director Veronica Assistant Previous Summary 5 Observation and presentation trade The profession I betray you that early childhood facilitator. This is a profession that I believe should be done, above all when you genuinely love young children. Without this attachment to the child, this profession does not bring anything motivating to those who carry it out. I know that in addition to loving children, it takes a lot of patience, attention and presence for this profession. It's a big responsibility to deal with such young children. You have to be everywhere at once to make sure that no incidents happen. This internship was an opportunity for me to see if my idea of this job was what I thought. I had the opportunity to work with 2 people who had the wrong time to tell me about their work and all that it entails is taking care of such young children. I have seen for myself that patience and attention are truly imperative qualities in this profession. You need to know how to give tenderness, as well as to show authority, not scaring these kids. I know from this internship and the people who have welcomed me that this job interests me and that it will suit me completely. So I felt a little more comfortable. The morning unfolded, surrounded by children we helped them in their activities and during snacks. There were eight young children and two children that day. We took the children to kindergarten to find out about their future school and then we went back to the center for Christmas presents, which Ms. Balsan put under the Christmas tree and then we allowed them to open the presents before going to bed. As soon as the babies were lying down, Veronica was looking for trays for food at this time Mrs. Balsan and I were waiting in the dormitory for the children to fall asleep, and then went to eat. When they woke up, we set the structure differently for a Christmas snack. The latter was a time of sharing between children, their parents and a children's team. I don't work that day. Thursday 8:30 a.m./ 4.45pm that morning several children arrived. Bad weather is definitely a factor. Ms. Balsan was visited by a nanny. Then we had the color of the kids and then try them out. We also had a visit from Mr. Cauchy who came to see how my internship was going. After we ate the Christmas meal. Then the children woke up and their parents came to pick them up. Friday 8.30am/12:00pm - I participated in all kinds of children's activities and snacks every day. Then it was time to leave. The previous Summary Of the Next 8 Conclusion Previous Summary I really enjoyed this internship in business and I can say that I have not seen the time pass. This opportunity, which was offered to me to dive during the week, in a professional field that interests me, was very pleasant and motivating. I learned a lot from Mrs. Balsan, Veronica and the children! As I suspected, the patience, observation, attention and tenderness of quality that must be taught to evolve in order to work early childhood. Having such young children under my care doesn't scare me. I find them funny, touching and interesting. They taught me that I could adapt to their expectations and demands as best I could. I've learned to develop some of the necessary qualities. Now I know that this job is perfect for me. Ms. Balsan offered to come back if one day I had another internship.
