Download Mobile Games has improved by leaps and forth over the last half-decade. Where once we had only a few options, and they were essentially Angry Birds or Solitaire, now we have a giant, full of games with amazing graphics. Since mobile devices don't have 3D screens (like Nintendo 3DS), there are no really 3D games for Android. Instead, we decided to look at some of the best mobile games with 3D graphics. We hope you enjoy it! Call of Duty: Mobile Critical Ops GRID Autosport Lumino City Minecraft Price: Free to play Call Of Debt: Mobile launched in 2019 with huge success. It's an FPS game with all kinds of game modes, including 100-player Battle Royale, zombie mode, classic PvP deathmatches, and more. Shopping games in the app is almost completely cosmetic, so the game itself is free. Some other features include above average graphics for shooter, clans for social games, and various other game modes. It's easy among the best FPS games ever released for mobile devices. Unkilled and Shadowgun: Legends of Madfinger Games are also great FPS games with great graphics. Critical Ops Price: Free to play Critical Ops is one of the best shooters on Google Play. It has been called Counter Strike Mobile Devices. You have teamed up with people and play against others in online PvP action. The game has different competitive types of games, tons of unlockable weapons, customization elements, and rock solid controls. You can cool off in a fast game, be truly competitive in ranking matches, and you can even create custom games for you and your friends. Game However, in-app purchases are nothing more than customization elements, such as skins of weapons. You can't pay to win this one. GRID Autosport Price: $9.99 GRID Autosport is one of the new racing games and easily one of the best of the last couple of years. It has excellent 3D graphics, fairly realistic physics, and plenty of content for racing enthusiasts. The game boasts more than 100 unlockable cars, more than 100 circuits to race through, scalable difficulty to keep the challenge alive, and support external game controllers. Asphalt 9: Legends and Riptide GP: Renegade are still two great mobile racers and Mario Kart Tour is a fun game as well, but GRID Autosport feels like a console game while others feel like mobile games. Lumino City Price: $4.99 Lumino City is a puzzle game from Noodlecake Studios. The graphics of the game are actually real world objects. So the graphics are no better than this because it's actually real life. The story takes eight to ten hours. Otherwise, you just interact with the world and solve puzzles for progress. This is really one of the greatest 3D games out there. It works for $4.99 without in-app purchases or advertising. Minecraft Price: $6.99 with in-app purchases Minecraft is one of the most popular 3D games. Most people know how this game works. You have a randomly created world to explore and build. There are a ton of items for craft, online multiplayer, and more. Updates in September 2017 allow mobile players to play with PC and console players as well. The amount of things you can do is almost limitless. The game runs for $6.99. In-app purchases are designed for the skins of players and do not affect the game. Monster Hunter Stories Price: Free Demo / $19.99 Monster Hunter Stories is the port of popular game from Nintendo 3DS. It plays remarkably well for the mobile port. You embark on adventures, capture monsters, train them, level them up and they fight you against the bad guys. There are also local PvP fights, a decent storyline, and a decent soundtrack. The demo version of this is one of the best we have ever seen. It's actually a prequel to the main game. You complete the prequel and that data transfer is in the main game if you buy it. The game costs $19.99 and it's a bit steep. However, this is one of the best RPG experiences from 2018. We also recommend Final Fantasy XV: Pocket Edition, Portal Knights and Evoland 2. Monument Valley 2 Price: $4.99 Monument Valley 2 is one of the best puzzles available. It's also a great 3D game. It uses Escher-style style design and puzzles. Players must rotate, move, or otherwise tinker with the levels in order to continue. The game is quite short, but entertaining. It's also beautifully done. The first game of Monument Valley is also pretty good and at a fair price. Those looking for huge games may be disappointed, however. It's definitely a fast game. PUBG Mobile Price: Free play PUBG Mobile is new 2018. This is already one of the most popular 3D games out there. This is a Battle Royale game with up to 100 players competing competing Each other. The game also includes a smaller arcade mode and some other modes for players. He also plays shockingly well for being a mobile shooter who is also new. At first, the game was free. However, the updates brought the freemium element to the game. Fortunately, it's basically tweaking things rather than playing stuff. When Fortnite hits Android, it will be shoo-in for this list as well. Riptide GP: Renegade Price: $2.99 Riptide GP: Renegade is the last game in the Riptide GP series. This is a series of racing games with jet skis instead of cars. The game has a deep campaign mode with an actual storyline. In addition, there are various waves of runners to unlock, online multiplayer mode, and Google Play Games supporting achievements and leaders. There is even some vehicle settings available. The game runs for $2.99 without in-app purchases. Fans of more classic racing games may want to try the Asphalt series from Gameloft. Beware, however, these games are freemium. Room: Old Sins Price: $4.99 Room: Old Sins is the fourth game in the franchise. It plays similarly to the first three Room games. You solve a number of complex puzzles. The game has outstanding graphics, a bit of research element, storyline and more. It's easy among the best puzzles available on a mobile phone, period. The first three games in the series are not slouchy, either. This one goes for $4.99 with no in-app purchases or advertisements. It also has the achievements and savings of clouds, two features that we've always wanted to see. If we missed any great calendar apps for Android, tell us about them in the comments!
