Ordered boots online for my husband, in his regular size. When arrived, were too small. We paid to return them in the mail, stating there would be RETURN. On the same day bought/paid online the 2nd couple in a larger amount, received a few days later. A few days later, they send confirmation of an email that they got the first couple we sent back. And they treated it (wrongly) as an exchange, not a return, and sent us a letter saying they were sending us a 3rd pair of boots in the mail. We called to tell them not to ship- we've already got our right size. Can they return our second charge of $69.99 plus shipping since they got the first pair? Are you joking. They said they wouldn't refund our second $69.99 charge until they received (mistakenly sent the 3rd pair) boots in the mail. We claimed they had already received the first couple - they said- a third couple until they were received they would not return our money. Totally unfair! Terrible. Ordered and paid for delivery on pontoon seats. they sent wrong ones and they were damaged now refuse to send the right ones and want me to pay, to return my mistake IS NOT THIS COMPANY almost the same thing happened to me what happened to the danesm posted order in January received two back notices the order never heard more from them and called them last week to see what was happening with my order they told me my order was cancelled in July because I never answered the letter or letter they sent out I never received anything in the mail in June. them on this subject twice checked everything they didn't send me any of the two customer service representative notifications was sarcastic snotty and constantly talked about me when I tried to talk to him very, very unhappy with waiting for an order 9 months and getting nothing I was getting I ordering in January 2013, the item was placed on the back order and I had to tell them yes, I would keep the order. it happened again, and I replied, yes, I want to keep order. I was on the line and looked to see the status and found that it had been cancelled. I spoke to them via email and said I didn't reply, so I emailed them showing that they responded and put it on the back order. They then said told me to put it back to order as soon as it was available for order, after waiting 5 months for the item, they admitted it was their fault but wouldn't place my order back on the back order. They sent me a $10 coupon code, I canceled my membership. If that's how they treat disabled veterans, I don't need them. I recommend you never shop with these people. im not care if you get what you ordered, even when they make a mistake. Error.
