I called customer service and informed him of this customer service representative said I would get my order by the evening and again now it's different and I didn't get my order. It's very annoying that you see your product in front of you and you can't take that because of However, I'm waiting for my order, if I don't get it today, I'll stop ordering anything from Flipkart and I'll delete the app forever. Thank you - regardsAsif Mirza product- Very good, especially the product details page that gives you the quick information that you are looking for. The search can be much better. Service- Poor days now and can be scammed by people using credit cards and delivery companies. Recent experience- Ordered Voltas AC and made a full payment using ICICI CC and received a 750 discount. The delivery period was 2 weeks, but the air conditioning reached the nearest hub in 12 days. Received an OTP for delivery notice, but the product is not up to me or any call from the delivery agent or Flipkart. 2 days later on Monday received another OTP and the same delivery notice, but no delivery or call made. A complaint was filed with FC and the order was cancelled late at night indicating the Delivery agent was unable to contact me. Called the delivery service provider and they said on the record that FC had asked them to cancel the order and return the air conditioning while FC was still adamant that it was the delivery partner's fault. Since the delivery provider has admitted this to the record, I'm sure it's a scam run by FC and credit card company. Even if they do this with 1% of the high cost of orders they are chasing a good amount of money from bank interest and interest too charged by the credit card company too, if you have an obscure balance. Partners in Crime can share this income and stay happy forever while the customer gets thrown here. while I ordered the fridge through the official website in exchange with the old one, I dropped the old parts which are 'un damaged and if it doesn't work will be deleted' and later, I confirmed the order with some suggestions. I then checked with the delivery agent minutes before delivery just to know the status and he told about the old machine, should be in working order, which was obvious, so I called flipkart and asked about the conditions that should be in good condition and will be excluded if it does not work (so true). then immediately, she argued with me for a few minutes about the exchange screening method, which didn't appear on the website, and I double-checked and found nothing about the selection method, and she didn't hesitate to cancel the order, which was rude at first because I waited four long days for the car to arrive. On the verge of delivery, the delivery agent also wanted to cancel the process and told me to re-order the product again. In short, it was a flipkart error for not updating the TPC on the website. So, I have a few tricks up my sleeve and got my product delivered on time!!
