Page 26 The complete suicide guide depends as if I've said an unsansoded conclusion, but there really is no safer, more reliable and easy way to commit suicide than to hang up. There is no need to consider any other method at all. You may not believe it, but after careful investigation, you still can't find a better way than hanging is better than other methods, and even this hanging is an art that humans have invented. For this reason, half of Japan's suicides each year choose this method, and it is widely used in both China and the sand. The biggest advantage of hanging is that the trial rate is very low. As long as the rope continues, the branches of the rope do not break, and within ten minutes after the hanging is not found, it can be said that the success rate is 100 percent. There is such a person, having taken poison well by caesarean section but not dead, in a track waiting the tram did not wait, could not go jumping the cliff nor died, and was finally hung from the cliff tree. Wait a minute if you want to kill yourself, people who intend to kill themselves should remember that. It's so easy to make something with one rope. Wires, belts, ropes, anything can be wrapped around your neck. Like a plastic belt packing department store, even for more than a hundred kg of people is also very much enough. If you use wire and other things with cutting power, you will have a cut head and neck. Someone tied one end of the steel rope used by the vehicle to pull on the railing of the bridge, tied the other end to his neck, then jumped into a tree with a steel rope, the other end was tied around the neck and the car began, cutting off its head to be killed by a very brave company employee. | Sorry, | Sorry, | Sorry, | Sorry, I'm I'm sorry, hospital bed, and that's possible from the theory, too. Before we explain this theory, let's just say that the cause of neck death is different from the majority of deaths from blood beautifies in the brain caused by blocked blood to the brain. There are two types of arteries that provide blood to the brain: cervical arteries and vertebrae veins protected by bones near the spine. The way the neck is made, even if the cervical artery is blocked, the protected vertebrae artery is blocked, the blood supply to the brain stopped in an instant (see Figure 1). The difference between the two is clear from the body. Although the blood supply from the vertebrae artery to the brain persists, the cervical artery, which instead transmits blood from the brain, is blocked, thus turning purple and bleeding; Now find out some basic problems, and then go back to the height of the dependent problem. When it depends, the blood pressure is 170 mmHg, so his cervical artery is 3.5kg and the vertebrae artery is blocked with 16.6kg of strength. If the feet are on the ground and the knees are bent to the extent that 70 to 90 percent of the body weight (and 20 percent of the knees) is pressed against the neck. For example, when a person who weighs 60kg hangs on his knees, the force on his neck is 12kg, and the cervical artery is naturally blocked. At this point, the vertebrae arteries have not yet reached the point of full clog, so there is a tiny amount of blood flow to the brain, but it is only a matter of time, than simply sultrying a few times better. Blackout may be a little later, but there will be no eventual attempt. In other words, even if the strength of the neck is only 20 percent of the weight, as long as the neck creates an angle, not entirely dependent on the body can easily die. of dependent suicide (from the School of Standard Forensic Medicine and Medical Law) L In fact, there are examples of hips and backs on the ground more. You're going to die in your room, there's no need to feel tall enough to give up. The door handle is also sufficient, and the use of stair slopes is also a way. Other things to note are that while it is not easy to find places that are not easily discoverable, suicides using gas or drugs do not take hours or days to be discovered. It's not going to be saved in ten minutes alone, if there's dozens of minutes. Class, the road to school is a little far away. By the time his identity was determined and the parents knew, you were already in the hospital or at the police station. What's your perception of momentary blackout, no pain, a rope around your neck, a stool and a hanger in the air? According to the research of forensic scientists, it is known in the medical profession that the feeling of hanging is ambiguous, the arms and legs cannot move, and in this way there is no pain at all. In Tokyo, an actor hangs himself from an audience member's performance, who immediately loses consciousness and dies in front of the audience when he says, bend over like this... A forensic scientist wanted to experience the pain of hanging, putting a stool in a position where he could stand at any time, and there will be many examples of this experience. Page 28 A suicide guide full of suicide attempt saved by hanging on an electrical wire says: the head buzzes with nothing, there is no sense, not even the feeling of being sad or in pain when you can't breathe. It's not just pain, it's quite comforting to say. For example, in judo, a boy who was beaten and thrown unconscious in the bathroom with a towel was killed. At the same time, if you suddenly hang too tight, the neck joint will sprain, immediately leading to a halt to the heartbeat and respiratory popping. When it comes to hanging, many people think their chests are choking and choking to death in pain. In fact, before he felt breathless, the brain caused oxygen deprivation and loss of consciousness, so there's no pain. If you doubt this statement, then you can also use the rope around the hanging neck to see if it really blacked out as a flash. Apparently once you put on a rope and put on a rope and put on some weight, you will stop the experiment immediately because you feel more nervous and scared than you think! Ten minutes of cardiac arrest were also divided into several stages and studied in detail. The first stage begins with the brain humming tinnitus. Then to feel the flash in front of the eyes, the brown of the hair, the tinnitus, the flash in front of the immediate sight of hanging, at the same time, the perception began to blur. Entering the second stage after loss of consciousness, the whole body causes detransions. It is said that the hands and feet start to contract and then straighten all the body contraction. But for this discovery, it is now considered a small tremor throughout the body. This step is one to one and a half minutes. Unsociate, men have erections and braces at this point. The third stage is already a false death situation, stool and surf, eye protrusion, respiratory stop. This period is about a minute, so it only takes three to three and a half minutes to get to this point. At this point the heart is still beating and can save lives if found. After that, the heart beats for about 10 minutes, and once the heart stops beating, there's no hope of being saved. There's an American acrobat idling hanging in front of the audience, and the midweek arrangement is when perception begins to shape He was hanged there for 13 minutes and by the time he was taken to hospital, he was back to life. So I'll say, in a short ten minutes, if he's not found, your suicide will succeed and not hurt. There's probably no better way to kill yourself! Is the body hanging from an impure body? It is often mentioned that the dependent disadvantage is that the image of the body does not look good. There is indeed inconsanity and braces. Some people say that because the throat is suffocated, the tongue will stick out, the face will be purple due to bruising, the eyes will stick out and so on. However, there are some terrible examples up to this point. Only a few days after death will the eyes protrude and the tongue will not protrude when it touches the teeth. All I'm saying is, the situation with the body is nothing more. From the images of the hanging bodies, most of them are nothing more than attractive there, and there is usually no bruising on the face. Although the picture doesn't look very good, but compared to jumping off the building, crashing the body, you could say to be a decent body, you can go to the bathroom in advance, don't want to output, then do masturbation first. To catch up with Emperor Zhao, the 87-year-old man who committed suicide on the day of the crash, mouth gauze, then wore a mask, hung in the orange orchard. Maybe he wouldn't want to die too ugly? The neck is very painful as previously stated, the advantage of hanging is that the position of pulling the neck from the slope causes the vertebrae artery to become sultry. The hand strangles the neck, of course, can't cover the artery, so the blood supply in the brain can't be a complete suicide manual on page 29 unconscious. Words depend like the first stage of hanel blackout, suffocating cases in the neck in a state of perception to experience the first, second and third stages, and then it is not easy to lose consciousness. As a result, the trachea is blocked and suffocated to death, and the experience of cramping is accompanied by considerable pain. Even so, strangling yourself in the neck and choking suicide is a lot. I can't help but sympathize with him, why not take the time to make 30 cents! The 42-year-old universityfriend professor, with a tie slowly tightened his mouth and died of blood. Participating in the Tokyo Olympic swimming competition, and later living the mediocre housewife, who was jailed for killing her son, was strangled to death by filling toilet paper in her stomach and a bout at the detention center. There was also a 46-year-old construction worker who swallowed about 100 grams (roll) of toilet paper in the police custody room and later killed himself because of the closure of the windpip. Of course, this choking method can also be dead, but with considerable pain, I don't want to recommend. Regarding hanging, it should also be noted that due to lack of oxygen in the brain, cells are destroyed, so suicide attempts will leave serious brain side effects. The characteristics of brain cells In October 1985, singer Frank Yongjing (then 53) returned home from a concert around 10 p.m.m. Had a beer with his wife and went to bed around 10:30 p.m.m, but for half a night, outside the bedroom after a long time he didn't come back, his wife went looking, was found on the first and second floors in the middle of the spiral staircase on the armrest, putting on four or five hanging ties, it was about three o't hours in the middle of the night. When the ambulance arrived, Yongjing was not breathing or banging and was unconscious. By the time he was taken to the hospital, he had increased his students and was in a state of imminent brain death. But after four or five days it magically regained consciousness. A month later he would say a few words, to show him the name of the song Love John, he also recognized the word Yongjing. He was later admitted to hospital several times and is now able to do some walks and sing familiar songs with karaoke, showing further recovery. Nevertheless, he was unable to identify his wife and friends who had gone to visit him, somewhat similar to the alzheimer's disease, and in 1989 became a banned person. When China to his friend Dempo Zhalg about the experience, he said: I had trouble breathing as soon as I hung up, and my vision immediately turned red and then dark tunnel. Suddenly he got up, floated through the walls and doors, and would be able to see the sea. Sudden attention to his position on the flat ground, from the front garden she heard the voices of the late friends and relatives, driven forward by the mood of nostalgia and seating. There was a river in three way, but a force I didn't know pulled me back. Yongjing's attempted suicide was caused by the plight of her former lover, who tried to have a child come from both, and required maintenance. I'm afraid this is the only case of a very sensational hanging for more than ten minutes. However, some experts believe that the detection time (from the point of recovery to the present) is only three to four minutes, feet and thighs should be on the ground. However, even if life is saved, the damage from the blood no longer circulates. It's very scary, trying to hang is terrible! He said that a split second (usually horizontally) he had lost consciousness, his field of vision had turned red and dark. The wonderful experience that came later could be called the experience of death and was said to be an experience by many people on the brink of death. Case study 5: Top hangs 91 centimetres tall, United Red Army's top cadar, Murray Hengfu I hung myself in my cell. He himself was an armed revolutionary group formed in January 1972. His weapons units supported that only a weapons revolution would succeed, and he was arrested in February 1972 for armed training at the Mountain Underground Command in Ganma Province. He confessed to killing 12 Red Army soldiers and non-revolutionary operations and was transferred to the Tokyo detention center in September pending a hearing. The lynching, which killed 12 people, shocked Japanese society even more than the occupation of the fugitive Red Soldier of Aochi Heights. On January 1 of next year, as in peacetime, Mr Murray ate all his breakfasts and lunches. At 1:38 p.m.m, the patrolman also saw him sitting on collapsed rice reading a book. But at 1:52 p.m.m 14 minutes later, when guards revisited the single compartment, he tied up the 91-cent iron railing with a 60-cent towel and hung his head. The doctor came to get a strong heart shot, did artificial nepiration all untited, about an hour later broke the gas. He was said to have tied his legs around him and hung them there in the form of a climb - said the shape of the dead was like sitting. The suicide analysis showed that when he killed himself, he kicked his legs connected from the air, and gravity added a towel to strangle his neck. Although they were unconscious at the time of discovery, the veins did not change as they were in life, and no blood or urine was found. He left behind two letters, which were supposed to be an admission of only gun errors. I heard he'd loved reading the Bible since the first few months of his suicide and had a keen interest in Christianity. His thighs get to the ground? He weighs 163 cents, weighs 54kg, uses a 60 cents daughter, and is very short. Tie the knot in the railing and tie the neck to the railing. Coincidentally, his waist is very long, and with a towel clamping around his neck, his thighs may not have been on the ground yet. Everyone says, a man who weighs 54kg on the ground, back to the hanging wall, in 14 minutes, is impossible to wake up, and that's strong proof of the ease of hanging and the gas short-term. However, the constant hardships and hardships and hardships of the revolution, and eventually renounced his long-standing faith, then returned to God, but after all, failed to save and killed themsize, what a poor thing. But, even though it was rescued at 4:45 p.m. on May 17, 1982. In a psychiatric hospital, a woman in the hospital was in a state of excitement and screaming, kill me! He was then sent to the protective room. Forty minutes later, at 5:25 a.m. .m, he climbed into a pane packed with a number of things and hung it on a towel. When found Spontaneous breathing and a weak pulse later appeared. Even so, there was no awareness for two whole days, and the third day was not teasy to respond to the stimulus. From day four to consciousness, a week after eating juice, the second week to perform selfrecovery training, and then two weeks later with other patients to live a group life. But memory is reduced, lost the enthusiasm of the past, always hiding behind people, the caregiver's dependence is also more. The woman lived in the hospital for 13 years after she was 26, and had previously killed herself on page 31 and had been to a psychiatric hospital three times. After being discharged from the hospital in 1979, he went to work at a nearby general hospital, gave up his job because of friction with the unit's male staff, and cohabited with another man, and soon began eating East West, shouting kill me! Two years later, he was hospitalized again. The hanging came six months later, the third suicide attempt. Her experience was that after six years of working in a towel factory after graduating from high school, she married at the age of 23, divorced a year later, gave birth to a son and died shortly thereafter. In addition, four of her sister's five sisters, including her, attempted suicide and attempted suicide and attempted suicide. As the nurses put it: This is a rare example of medical staff quickly getting rid of life due to discovery, and not an uncommon example of a heart that stopped at some point but did not die. From the empty 40 minutes, the time to reduce the stacking of Hebei's nude, about 15 minutes after hanging, the heart just stopped beating when he was found. Although it was forty minutes and coarse enough to die, it contrasts sharply with Murray's example. Suicide is difficult in hospitals or cells because of surveillance, especially in hospitals because of emergency facilities. Judging by these tried cases, it can't be easy to hang. But, after all, these are rare examples. From the annual death of more than 10,000 people hanged, and the rate of success is almost 100% of the impact, hanging is still a crown of suicide measures. But what's the second half of this man's life? It went way beyond bad luck or bad luck. From the sidelines, it's hell on earth. Judging by the side effects, it can't be good not to save her. ----- PGP 2.6.3: בטוח, בטוח, בור מפה מלאה של ים העצים (- רוה איסוס. אין אתר התאבדות שפחות סביר למצוא גופות וקל יותר להיכנס אליו מאשר ים העצים. אתה תלך לא ידוע, לאורך זמן מאנשים For one purpose, it is necessary to study the method of a complete suicide manual on page 32 of the Sea of Trees, which can be used as a reference. רו מפה מלאה של ים העצים (- רוה אידוע לאחרים, הייתי מייעץ לך להיכנס אליו מאשר ים העצים. אתה תלך לא ידוע, לאורך זמן מאנשים For one purpose, it is necessary to study the method of a complete suicide manual on page 32 of the Sea of Trees, which can be used as a reference.

The local police station and fire department were ordered by the family to recruit more than 150 people to carry out a three-day search, and in fact the man knew the search was underway. After he was safe, he said, I didn't want to kill myself anymore. The original forest of death, which can no longer be returned even if it marches further, would end such an end if the route that entered was untrue. shadows associated with other suicide methods. It was a young girl named Sato Jiday who completely changed the idea of jumping off cliffs to kill herself. Nine or 10 years ago, in 1903, he left behind the truth of everything, in a word, today he is inexplicable, and the young man who jumped from Yian Falls, Fujimora, gave him a different philosophical and noble image of suicide As the heirs constantly emerging, Sato Ji'adai also gave the suicide suicide fall It's a jumping myth. Sato Jiadai is the real name of red card singer Okada. Perhaps because of this, if men, women are more. The law is on the rise, with 50 percent of female suicides, including among teenage girls, now falling, well ahead of other methods. The first jumpers were supposed to be male employees of a company that jumped off the roof of the Seventh floor of the Ginkasaka Matsuya department store to Ginja Street in 1935. The move from Huiyan Or Jiao Falls to high-rise buildings represented by the Godo Ping community is closely related to urbanization and is one of the phenomena of urban modernization. Okada 38 days after Yoshiko Tanaka's suicide, on April 11, 1986, an 18-year-old girl took her sister's hand and left her to jump to her death from the roof of the neighborhood to understand her abilities in a previous life. When jumping from a high-rise height of 20 meters to the ground, check the required altitude. If you really want to die, you have to jump from an altitude of more than 20 feet above the ground, that is from 7-8 stories. If the ground is concrete, it won't be saved. Jumping from the fourth floor has a success rate of only about 50 percent. By the way, each additional layer is three meters high, which may serve as a base for conversion. It is also important to see where it fell, and there will be no small trees below. The 16-yearold girl, who jumped from the roof of a five-storey school building about 11 miles up into the trees below, was also seriously injured. In the United States, someone fell from 28 yards to a flower bed and suffered only minor injuries from a broken rib and broken left wrist. It's impossible to have trees below, was also seriously injured. In the United States, someone fell from 28 yards to a flower bed and suffered only minor injuries from a broken rib and broken left wrist. It's impossible to have trees below, was also seriously injured. In the United States, someone fell from 28 yards to a flower bed and suffered only minor injuries from a broken rib and br just six months with serious injuries that resulted in an attempted suicide. Downstairs there is green space and not to say, the windshield she was wearing outside the uniform when it fell in the parachute bump because of the air, thirting the maple tree in the air, thereby alleviating the disaster. A media reporter who jumped from the seventh floor of shinjuku's business hotel was not dead when he hit a street lamp in the air and hit the ground first, with fractures to his left shoulder and ear. He did not lose consciousness at the time, cursed himself and answered questions from the road fell onto the hood of a vehicle in a state of falsehood and suffered bruising to his face and a broken right shoulder for three months. In addition, a zinc-plate roof downstairs is not available in a bike car park. So as not to leave the kitten gathering at home, holding the kitten jumped from the United States, someone fell 370 meters into a piece of snow, except for the waist and some broken ribs, but life was saved. Therefore, attention must also be paid to the snow. Searching for prominent places so as not to be discovered quickly and sent to the hospital, to find a prominent place is also the first consideration. The university girls who jumped from the middle of the Maru-In building and the adjacent building were only discovered a year later, so-called inspicuously referring to places that won't be discovered until some time later Near the stone walls beneath Hall 7 of Shanghai Ji University, when the bodies of students jumping off the roof were collected, they encountered the bodies of students who had not been found six months ago; Cliff jumping is a winning option and jumping off a cliff under the same conditions can make such a big difference. Furthermore, no matter how steep the cliffs, falling into the sea does not necessarily die. So, in this case, choose a place of interest. Interesting places come into their own, so it becomes interesting places. If you choose from. Page 39 Full Suicide Guide (After) Painless Death! The most intriguing thing is how it feels to fall and whether there's pain when you land. The 54-year-old man, who was rescued after jumping from the ground, but I knew I was still falling to the ground. On the feeling that still falls into the air, he said: from the process of jumping to the ground, although it is a matter of course, but still thinking about the first ground head or first landing leg problem, probably does not want to let the face touch the ground, very naturally covered the face with both hands. The man who fell from a height to the banks of the glacier said: it's as if sitting on a giant wing and falling slowly, thinking calmly of himself, thinking about his family's future, many memories like lightning washed my brain. After falling to the ground, he was not breathing and lost consciousness without pain. Although the head and hands and feet collided with cliffs or ice, many bumps, but were not felt. It can be said that there is no more painful time than this moment! There are many examples of such accidents falling. The common point of these experiences is that the beginning falls and falls very slowly clear, completely without discomfort and destmay, as if dreaming. At this point, childhood memories often roll in my mind like a horse lamp, sometimes seeing a mysterious light, and sometimes looking down from above to see themselves fall. He lost consciousness with a steady heart when he was on the ground. Jumping off buildings and jumping cliffs to commit suicide, the vast majority not making a scream and a scream, the course, to a girl who can and dies. Now I'm going to kill myself, bye! The high school student, sitting on the fourth-floor window of the school now, suddenly jumped down. When they did her, she whispered, it hurts, it hurts! Crying. She broke her head and neck and died shortly after being taken to hospital. The reason, of course, is obvious: the height of the fourth floor is not high enough. So as not to feel pain, choose a height that can die on the spot or at least faint. Also, from the 35th floor of the Remozum Triangle building in Shinjuku, a 30-year-old woman who jumped 140 metres from the ground, her hands came horizontally and fell in high-altitude diving momentum, smashing half her face and head into pieces and dying at the scene. At that point, witnesses heard the screaming of wow and wow. There was also a shout-out at a 17-horror. Not only that, but it can be even a lot of pain. It's not an example, it's true. It sounds nonsense, but if you put together the words of those falling people, you can only say it. At this point, below is a more detailed description, however, in this way, jumping off a building and jumping off a building and

year-old high school student who jumped from the 11th floor. The two men must have jumped out of the building feeling terrible and unknown. From a physical point of view, when you jump from an altitude of 20 meters (about 7 floors), you can land 4.9 meters per second. The speed is 35.5 km / h and can be grounded in about 2 seconds. In just two seconds, rolling in all sorts of positions, at about 70 km per hour. Imagine hitting a wall at this speed on a motorcycle or riding, not as big as you think. However, falling from higher ground is great. Page 40 Full Suicide Guide there's an in disbelieving example of a high school student jumps from the cliffs below, due to the surrounding natural environment, there will be a variety of different situations, although somely unsafe, but still with more intense collision deaths. There are many examples of people dying from rock collisions halfway through falling into the sea or in a waterfall pool. In the hot sea Jainfo commits suicide crosstalk player Yoshihiko Tanaka, in the fall of the cliff rock, so the internal organs are torn to death. The 53-year-old man, who also jumped in Jainfo, died at the scene with bruises all over his body. Of course, if you fall into the sea or lake, you might drown. [] Ithink, but I can't do it, but I can't broken spikes, 20 percent had liver and lung damage and 25 percent broke head, when there are skull fractures, brain injuries and broken ribs, such as a hand, arm, spinal fractures and more common lung damage. Then there's the hip falling to the ground and lying on the cross. Therefore, no matter what part of the ground first, many places will be injured, from jumping and suicide to cliff, head, abdomen, arms and legs, such as more than three injuries to nearly 70 percent. Overall, injuries can be sustained anywhere, with head and chest injuries sustained because the human body falls when the ineric action vibration is very large, the carousel breaks the condition is also greater. As a result, due to a rupture in the skull, bruising, ruptured internal organs, excessive bleeding and other causes died. There may be bodies that don't want to look like this, but once they're found, the ambulance comes quickly and cleans them. From the state of the thighs on the ground, sometimes the body can barely see any signs of injury (case 9). Therefore, jumping to suicide is not such an ugly method of death. Watch out for pedestrians! If there's someone there, it's going to cause a lot of trouble. There were also some examples that people were saved from falling on pedestrians, and the injured being crushed down would claim huge compensation. When a high school student at a Saitama County school of communication jumped off the roof of a department store and fell into a car parked on the underside, he died, but the man sitting in the car also broke his cervical bone, causing paralysis under the full suicide manual on page 41, and the families of the deceased paid 200 million yen in compensation. In the last example, the man who jumped from the eighth floor of his apartment in November 1992 fell on a high school student who was talking to his girlfriend downstairs, and the jumper died a short time later, four days later. Jumping out of a building and dropping on someone else is not a good thing, and it's important to note that. A 51-year-old company executive tried to jump from the top floor of the apartment, but saw some kids playing downstairs, so he held his back to the railing in the hallway on the 14th floor and yelled: Back off! Avoid! Wait until the children disperse before jumping down and successfully achieving their goal. Since it's four stories high, the gaudy sound should be pretty big. If you don't want to cause trouble for your family, pay particular attention. Head down even at considerable height will be examples of death. Some fell into a road that fell under the head, dead an hour and a half later. If you don't want to fail, you have to go to the ground. If you fall well, five meters will die on the spot. Also, although the lapse is not a deadly part, it can also die for special reasons. A 50-year-old woman who fell from the fourth-floor balcony of her apartment and suffered multiple fractures to her lower back has died of bruising. Case study 8: The feeling of a university student trying to jump from the 15th floor in October 1986, a 21-year-old college student jumped from the top floor of a 15th-floor apartment in Poe and Riz, a Saitama prefectoire, and fell on the iron roof of the bike shed with a distorted voice. He was rushed to hospital but suffered no minor injuries to his left leg. His fall left a large hole in his parking roof. The man described his feelings in the air blandly: when he fell, he felt his shoes and glasses fall slowly. After I fell to the roof, it occurred to me, eh! I'm still alive. He left to some extent the language barrier of stuttering, fearing the second year of the job interview wouldn't work. This is a very rare example of a man jumping from that height to attempt suicide and talking about mental placement in the air. 15 floors are about 40 meters high, and jumping from that height to attempt suicide and talking about mental placement in the air. 15 floors are about 40 meters high, and jumping from that height to attempt suicide and talking about mental placement in the air. 15 floors are about 40 meters high, and jumping from that height can feel slow and falling, perhaps very calm, without feeling dread or pain on the ground. It was a miracle he fell from the 15th floor with little or no injury. Therefore, it was determined that a suicide bomber and a bicycle roof should also avoid it. When he falls to the ground, there's a loud noise, so what kind of sound will happen when the suicide victim falls? You might as well check it out. Of course, it's based on where to fall and different, if the ground is cement, the roof of the 15th-floor Hennell apartment fell from female high school students made a distorted sound. The man who fell from the fourth-floor apartment window was the sound of a frustrated balloon. The woman Hanel falling and causing sounds like a ball of skin hit the ground and jumps. When Okada fell from the top of the 20-metre building, it was said to have made a loud noise, possibly because the skull violently damaged the concrete floor. Case study 9... Life is boring anyway Cartoonist Yushiku Yamada On May 24, 1992, cartoonist Yoko Yamada (then 24) committed suicide by jumping from the 11th floor of his apartment near his home in Domo City, Tokyo. In the taxi on the way home, she seemed to cry when she said, everyone was bugging me, and actually she was soon admitted to a psychiatric hospital and released two months later, but lost faith in the future and died as a result of being knocked out of her home the day after she was released. I don't get along well with others, she wrote in her diary two days before her suicide. Their personal quirks, mate wasn't. ...... I can't see the future, and I can't get a job. (being bullied)... In his comics, he quotes the following sentences from the film Happy in Heaven - if there is no power or mercy, you will die! It's boring not to say bad things / live without interest / Instead of mixing it up / Living. In addition, it was written in other magazines People with disabilities, laugh! Scream! The fate of the curse! That's what your life is all about. Kill yourself if you hate it. The words come from the heart of the purpose of the book is also connected. On September 9, 1979, a middle school student who jumped to his death as a result of bullying found a middle school student (then 12 years old) in a large glyph in the yard of his apartment in the town of Fukuoka in Saitama's perspective. He jumped from the suicide is bullying. In elementary school he's also pretty cheerful this student, middle school doesn't have much because of little things to fight with others. He stands only 142 cm tall, is the smallest in the class, said by the students as a small, quite immune and excluded man. No one can speak, every quiet day, the result has been dubbed the wall. The last letter says daily bullying doesn't want to go to school. I don't want to live anymore. I'm going to kill myself. However, just after 8pm, the teenager came home sweating because he was running too fast. News of the suicide attempt has leaked out, and the naughty stens in the classroom who specialize in bullying need more and more bullying. He also has a new nickname, a suicide boy, and his father, a former driver of a cleaning car, is mocked as dirty, smelly and like a beggar, sometimes treating him like a thief and from covered in mayonnaise. He couldn't stand bullying, he went missing from school for the first time the day before he killed himself, and tomorrow, Sunday, he killed himself. The training he wore that day, which he began training on his first day, began after a suicide attempt. The troublemakers who knew he killed himself actually screamed long live and, on their alert for bullying, said it was boring and fun. 44 Full suicide guide the teenager was afraid to run home when he first attempted suicide. In general, people who decide to kill themselves are calm and not afraid to stand tall, but not necessarily all of them. A 24year-old woman attempted suicide by climbing the 1713-metre-high mountain, but when she reached the cliff at the top of the mountain, she was afraid to jump and didn't come down, for three days and three nights in the wind and rain without eating or drinking, and waited for help there. It happened in late August, when the temperature dropped to 6 to 7 degrees overnight, and she was wearing nothing but a hoodie. Looks like you'd be more comfortable deciding to die. People who are bullied are always bullied no matter what they do. Whether it's empty-handed or not, suicide attempts don't make any difference, but they do worse. There is no common goal and only the relationship between people in the classroom, can only do emulate the game of love and bully it. The father said he advised his firstgrade son to say, There are two and a half years to go. But no one can guarantee happiness after graduating from high school, and that doesn't necessarily change after high school as falling to your death the first time you climb into an apartment. It's also important to kill yourself early. ----- PGP איילנד פינג הקהילה מה היא כי היי איילנד פינג הקהילה כמו עכשיו? למעשה, בתגובה לקפיצה בסביבות 1980, 73 בניינים גבוהים על יותר מ-11 קומות היו נעולים. הגג העליון של הבניין יש דלתות ברזל נעולות. עכשיו אפשר לומר שזה בלתי אפשרי לקפוץ. בעבר היה ידוע כנורש הרג עצמי של מחלקת ניהול הכפר החדשה, משום שהוא 70 בניינים גבוהים על יותר מ-11 קומות היו מגודרים מהמסדרונות וגרם המדרגות החוץיים מעל הקפיצה בסביבות 1980, 73 בניינים גבוהים על יותר מ-11 קומות היו מגודרים מהמסדרונות וגרם המדרגות החוץיים מעל הקפיצה בסביבות 1980, הודעה---- (מפת התאבדות (20 But what made the community, known as suicide shelter, has more than 10 הותקן לחלוטין מכשירים למניעת התאבדות, אך הפך לתודעה שונה של כלא הברזל. עמוד 45 מדריך התאבדות, אך הפך לתודעה שונה של כלא הברזל. עמוד 45 מדריך התאבדות, אך הפך לתודעה שונה של פיצות באותה שנה suicides a year, exceeding 20 in 1980 and 100 in 1982. but I can't do it, but I can do it, but I can do it, but I can do it, but I can't do it, wrists is the easiest way to experience a suicidal atmosphere instead. At the same time, you can watch with your body and eyes, and you can understand the whole process of pain and death. The suicide method, which was very popular in the United States, has reached Europe and, more recently, sparks have splashed across Japan. Recently, after the singer's cut on his wrists, Ming's Kitchen Syndrome appeared of a young woman at a disco in the Six Trees area, becoming one of the most fashionable suicide methods these days. However, I don't really want to recommend this method is popular but the trial rate is higher. However, the insistence that cutting your wrists is completely dead is not true. If you believe the data above, one in twenty people dies from this method. A former prosecutor also said: Just cut off the wrist and thyself too many deaths. This chapter was written for those who want to be 5%. Of course, it doesn't make trouble for others, there's no reason to blame. More importantly, like cutting the wrist, the body is crippled with a blade thing to cause it to bleed to death, as well as cutting the neck artery, pricking the chest, or cutting the shown. you're cutting your wrist or neck artery, a sharp cutter is enough. kitchen knives, razor blades, paper cutters, etc., as long as the gap can be. When cutting your wrists it's best to drink some wine and drink a bath to speed up blood flow. In order not to stop the bleeding, after cutting should be submerged in hot water or placed in the pelt, otherwise the blood will clott to block the wound. The doctor said, as long as more than half of the arteries cut or cut completely will die, a large portion cut will not be blocked. It is also important to confirm the location of the wrist has a long, emotionally errand hand artery, and the wrist has been cut. There are two veins that are diagonal between the carotid arteries and the skin, which cross the arteries precisely on wrinkles in the wrist. In order to better see the connection between each other's positions, you may want to press and hold the armpit hard to make the veins protrude. By cutting the veins alone amount of blood, often because of this scene and not wanting to die. Aim for the artery under the skin not covered by the veins, aim at it and cut the knife horizontally, only the veins, to seven millimeters under the skin for the arteries are six to seven millimeters under the skin (see Figure 1), which is deeper than it looks. Puncture the arteries are six to seven millimeters under the skin not covered by the veins, aim at it and cut the knife horizontally, only the veins. You may want to check the position against figures 2 and 3. The cervical artery is located at neck height, divided into the inner and outer arteries of the cervix, and the blood vessels adjacent to the shoulder are thick and deep. The ear under depth of more than three inches and thick muscles around a lot, cutting also has a degree of difficulty. In that case, don't cut a knife horizontally, but stab her hard before you do it. Sometimes cut hard, cut some knives (case 11), but there is also very difficult, but the above examples are not without. (Mantomia Malfunction - Nanjiangtang) LJ (3) The way the heart is stabbed, you need to touch your chest with your hands ahead of time to confirm the position. The heart is skewed more than you think, and depth varies from person but is nine centimeters deep. The east side machine asked the doctor for the location of the heart, often stroked the chest to confirm the location, and even let people draw a target shot through their hands, but the application was still partial, and ended with suicide attempts (some say he is a rare left-wing dictator, he shot his right hand). There are also many examples of repeated stabbings without pricking the heart. In the way the abdomen is cut, the blade must be at least 15 cents long. If you can't puncture your back, there's no way to cut off your stomach to kill yourself. Page 50 of the Guide to Full Suicide (past) (1) wrists - let it shed a liter of blood, even if it is not cut with enough force, said a 27-year-old woman with a thin knife cut on her wrist five inches in length and four to five millimeters deep. yes, it's harder to cut flesh and blood vessels than you think, and it's harder to cut tendons on the side of the artery. Determined to cut the wrist, the wound opens a lot to see the blood vessels and white meat, followed by a surge of blood out. Even if only the veins are cut, the towel will instantly turn red in the blood. If the arteries are cut together, they will be sprayed two or three meters high with the same force of six times the towel will instantly turn red in the blood flow slowly decreases. As for the pain, the words of a 22-year-old student who had just slashed her veins were worth addressing. She put a towel over her hand and said, when you look at the bleeding, are you going to die like that? Or do you want to live again? They both have to pick one. Maybe you don't necessarily believe it's true, it doesn't hurt at all. Once rather, in second grade high school he cut his wrist, and then felt no pain, the original way to do it could die. It's natural to feel quite pain when you cut your nerves, and if it's Vereen, it's just a general degree of pain. However, the problem after the incision is that if the arteries are cut locally, a third of the blood in the body will flow out and people will die. In the human body, men have about 80 milliliters of blood in her body, and a third of that (i.e. one pint) flows out and you die. That's only 2.5 times the 400 .c to donate blood. Children and the elderly will die with a small amount of bleeding. It's really hard to die by cutting your wrists, but it's easy to cut it and bleed it out. (2) The cervical artery, what will happen? Blood spews and splashes on the ceiling or wall, in about five seconds it becomes innuendo, brain function stops, and after ten seconds it dies from losing most of the blood (one study thought it was 12 seconds). Some people think that when one side of the cervical artery also provides blood to the brain, about three minutes of time still conscious. Marathon runner Yuji Utani committed suicide by cutting his carotid artery, a well-known thing. He was lying in bed with a double-sided safety blade that cut through the carotid artery. There is also the same way as the hand, the way to cut the neck artery is located in a shallower place than the arteries, there will be a large amount of blood, as the arteries flow home to inhale air, because the air enters the blood vessels to block the lungs and die. Similarly, the air enters the blood vessels to block the lungs and die. Similarly, the air enters the blood vessels to block the lungs and die. outnumbered if the bleeding stops without breaking the air. (3) Other self-harm - a shy abdominal incision dies when cutting the abdomen, first cutting many small blood vessels not enough to be fatal, and then damaging the small intestine blade, floating feces and causing permits to die. Of course he didn't die right away, he said it would take three or four days to swallow. The death of professional wrestler Lee Duchamp was also due to inflammation from a violator after the stabbing. When the knife is inserted into the abdomen, it causes a dough shock, which generally cannot last. However, if deep reaches backwards, it cuts off as the bone soreness in front of the back bone causing massive bleeding and immediate death. Men, women and children a year, there are a lot of deaths this way. At this time, do not insert the knife directly into it, but it must be pulled out immediately. Otherwise, the knife will cede the vessels. Page 51 full suicide guide Anyway, suicide by bleeding is usually difficult. The sea of blood on the floor, sometimes slathered on the ceiling or walls, at least a snail of blood, but the floor full of blood is not the case, the room of valley athletes has not become a sea of blood. A mild coma may drown, and then regain consciousness, it's not euthanasia, but tastes the pain of suffocation. So, be careful not to drown. Also, it's best to take a side-by-side pose when cutting your neck to keep your heart on top. When the blood flows slowly, other internal organs that are not directly related to life during this period will replenish some blood, which will not kill nearly 70 percent of the blood. Says In the event of the blood. Says In the event of the blood vessels of the blood deep, but it was just a white mark that looked almost like a wrinkle in the artery is cut, it will also cut through the next layer of tendons and the middle of the wrist in the same layer. Although the same layer. Although the ampule and dividity were cut off, the surgery was performed (case 12). However, this condition leaves vertical cut marks, and the scars after surgery protrude. Plastic surgery can help, but it costs tens to hundreds of thousands of yen. Sewing a wrist vein requires about 30,000 days of medical insurance to cover 30% of the cost. As the price of the game, it's still cheap. Case study 11 The feeling of a high school student cutting her wrist and her bones in 1985, a 16-year-old high school student slashed her wrist with a knife. The wound damaged an artery and formed a liter of blood, but it ended in failure. She said of the situation: hands cut off at the end of it hurt, blood flow a lot, but was sober, so cut several times. It hurts! The blood ejaculation when I cut the thick blood vessels, and there was the sound of a swim, and I thought I was going to die like this, but I couldn't, so I cut it again. In that time as if to cut through the nerve, feeling crisp. When I was taken to the hospital for treatment, I thought it best to give me an anesthetic injection because I was already disgusted by the pain. Since her sophomore year of high school, she's still laughed in front of everyone, but I couldn't say. When the decision to kill myself is like this: after dinner, because there's homework I thought 'don't do, don't do in the process suddenly I thought dead words had no such thing? In this case, one by one being not dead can't, can't die can't mood. Page 52 completely a suicide manual at the time, she said, thinking about to live, but when I die, I don't have to do things I don't want to do, I don't have to think about the painful things. When I knew I was, I wondered if anyone had found me sooner! As a result, she remained in the psychiatric ward for four months and was eventually released after physical and mental conditioning. Looks like she cut the artery and the central nerve in her hand, and it was very painful to cut up to this point. Her idea of nothing wrong with death is insightful. Figure 4 Left Elbow Profile (From Malfunctioning Anatomy - NanjiangTang) L J (Case Study 12) At about 4.30pm on July 11.m, 1989, when popular singer Yoshiko Ito returned to his apartment, he found his lover, also popular singer Mr Hirohito (then 24), cutting off his left elbow with a razor blade and lying in a bloody snout. There were about five glasses of blood in the bathroom where she fell, and her person was confused, as if she had cut her wrists shortly before she was found. She was immediately taken to Chihoy Medical University Hospital with a wound of eight cents and two cents deep, where she underwent six-hour sewing surgery to cut her veins and nerves. The surgery was performed under general anesthesia, and in some expression the blood pressure dropped to 60, .c 600 degrees. After surgery, the arm was stretched in plaster for a period of time in order not to break the veins and nerves again. She later recovered in the hot springs of Jongizo and has now made a full recovery. Originally concerned that the fingers could not be seen. The motive for the suicide attempt is most likely emotional friction with him. This is an

One thing to ignore is that when he cut his body, with a knife and was about to go into a coma, he well one to the bathroom first. Although it's self-harming, you don't have to stab and cut blindly, so it's not dead. However, don'th want others to see the signs of urine urine, and in the process of suicide went to the bathroom, it's really weight will be will be supposed to people, but hit the time to be suicide on the trun

The wound must have been so large that it would have endangered lives if it had been cut into an artery. The moving, sensitive nerves responsible for the hand are within one centimetre below the skin (see Figure 4), and a thicker artery nearby is also an inch under the skin, which is a great place for suicide. It was a miracle she didn't cut the artery, and in fact it has not been cut two cents deep year-old company employee got off the platform and bent over to wait for the tram to arrive, which eventually passed him, causing his head and right leg to roll over and die at the scene because the inertia was still more than 100 meters ahead. Keep in mind that the sirens of the trams will ring in particular, deafening. Choose to operate at night when lying on a track a certain distance from the station, try being in the corner that is not easy for the driver to see. Travelling by tram in advance is also a way to observe where the driver is not paying attention. Find the right place and we were assured you'd be on the tracks waiting for the tram to arrive. However, when the tram approaches, you will hear a rolling roar, he said that in general a state of mind is unable to stay there, so it is better to take some alcohol, sleeping pills, tranquilizers and so on. But there's also the face of 200 hours an hour. Third-year high school students, it really is a case of courage. Trams are harder to stop in normal orbit. A tram travelling at 90 km per hour was stopped 200 metres after it was found 200 metres in front of it.

pyw pyw pyw into the situation is also numerous, into the line area is actually a lot of methods. (See case 16) If you die immediately from the beginning of the cross course, the entire head, abdomen, chest, arms and legs along the track will be cut off, as long as the chest and head are detoted instead. If the clothes are hooked by the vehicle, they will be dragged more than ten meters, and then the body rolls many times and the parts are repeatedly deformed, and the manic bodies are scattered by hundreds of meters. This is usually the case when jumping off the platform or breaking out of the splash path. The tram has so much momentum that sometimes shoes or bags run into people on the platform, suggesting a person has died. A man flew overhead and hit the tram at 85 km per month, resulting in his hands, legs and body being crushed to pieces, scattered within 100 metres, and his head was lost. Things were even worse when a Shinkansen train was crushed, as if it had triggered a blender. Approaching the Pingye model, a man suddenly faces the train 200 km/h light, back to the train and squatting on the tracks, only to see a dusty splash of blood, liver, part of the scalp and hair, about 30 inches of pelvic spine, neck and jaw of small skin, right wrist, three teeth scattered within 4 or 500 feet. The rest became pieces of meat flakes and bones that flew into the distance. The train stopped three or four kilometers after hitting the dock wall three to 10 meters away, and then her clothes and sunglasses flew overhead, and there was a cloud of blood all around her. Down the dock the Trade Department said, just heard a loud, loud noise loud, suddenly facing red. So what forces cause the body's fractures or objects to be ejected? Crashing to the front of a regular tram and ejecting five or six metres while driving, there are many examples of deaths due to a full suicide manual on page 56. In this case, if it ejects and still falls on the track, the body will be crushed, if it falls off course, unfortunately it is still possible to save lives. The blood and blood of the bodies is one of the worst of all suicides, and you have to be prepared for it. However, no Remaining bodies, sometimes with little damage on the surface. On this occasion, the damage to the internal organs is very severe. Station staff treated the body within about 10 minutes and washed it away, but after three to 10 minutes they were unable to find the broken hand or neck. A suicide bomber's face was attached to a van and traveled 600 miles from Ecture Fukushima to Hucaido before it was found. Although the bodies were moved and trams resumed, the debris scattered everywhere, and the cushions and paved roads were still covered in blood, leaving a sad trail. If you're crushed to death on a railing outside the station area, you're not left with bodies crushed in two or three pieces. In short, it is a completely unsuitable method for those who want to die completely. The trajectory and body should have a proper angle sometimes bad luck, arms and legs are crushed but not fatal, and the second half of life by prostheses is also there (case 15), so be sure to think about the neck or chest lying on the track. Sometimes the body tightens the middle of the track and miraculously just scrapes a little fur (case 14). Therefore, making the body and rails cross at right angles is the basic principle of sleeping suicide. Paying huge compensation for the track and miraculously just scrapes a little fur (case 14). Therefore, making the body and rails cross at right angles is the basic principle of sleeping suicide.
Old China Railways in 1985, an emergency brake on the tram would result in power losses of 6,000 to 8,000 yen and wheel wear charges of about 10,000 yen. Trams stop once, and in the case of Yamates Tokyo, which has more passengers, hundreds of thousands of yen are lost every 15 to 30 minutes, which can cost between 1 million and 2 million yen if it's peak time. The cost of the Shinkensen is even greater, with an hour-long delay of tens of millions of yen. In addition, the cost of sheltering the deceased is added. There were also examples of 30 million yen in compensation for a car crash on an express train, and 140 million yen in damages for a crash into the East China Sea Highway line. People who know the inside story say they're not suing for damages for a crash into the East China Sea Highway line. is not a good call. Although no lawsuit has been filed, the proceedings have been carried out. Only the contact address of the deceased's family is unclear under further circumstances, the present is that method. Let it go in the future, now want to die instantly, for the people Hannell, of course, couldn't have better means. A 24-year-old woman jumped off a 500-metre bridge in front of the Western Ship Bridge station and jumped into a tram travelling on the Musashi wild line in an attempt to kill herself just after 5pm on December 29, 1991. She was the only OL working for a computer company in Chiba when she was on her way to work. The bridge is seven metres high, and as long as it falls so well, no tram will pass and it will die. She took the 10-cent tram near herself. The tram stopped after an emergency bragging and she was unfairly injured. Doctors diagnosed head and toe bruising that required treatment for a week. Saved because of her small size, her back was not hooked by the vehicle and the downturn before the tram entered the station. Otherwise, the body will be involved and crushed to death. She's not talking about a motive for suicide, but according to her friends, she recently had an unusual relationship with a man. It's a rare occurrence of jumping off a building and crashing a car, using two very lethal means at the same time, but not dying. It was a miracle that leaping from a height of seven metres would have been quite badly injured, and that a tram went through it again, only to end with only minor bruising. It's a miracle the body wasn't caught in the middle of the tracks beforehand, but accidentally fell in the middle of the tracks beforehand, but accidentally fell in the middle of the tracks. Isn't there a suicide bomber named Meat bomb? She also jumped off the bridge towards the tram, only to crash the front car and get into a taxi, killing her. One question worth thinking about is the day and time she decided to kill herself. Sunday, December 29, 1991. The job had to be completed the day before yesterday or two, so why did she stay in the company until more than 5:00 p.m.? What's she doing? Anyway, she was determined to kill herself. However, due to this unpredictable situation, it is very difficult to say that doing so would certainly succeed in suicide. Case study 15: The attempted suicide of the train by breaking one hand and two legs failed in February 1955 when T, then a 16th sophomore in high school, attempted suicide in a vehicle. More than 10pm, she rushed to the high-speed tram that had just started at Shinjuku station on the Oda Express line, and jumped as if pulled by the train from the front of the platform. The tram quickly stopped and stopped and stopped. Tee's right ankle, the lower part of his left knee, 15 cents below his left shoulder, the finger and thumb of his right hand were broken. All that's left is your left thumb, index finger and middle finger. At the time, the tee screamed desperately: hot Oh, hot Ah! Soon he was knocked unconscious. He was taken to hospital by ambulance and placed in an induced coma for a week, the tenth day after the accident, when he regained consciousness and knew his condition. T gave up thinking, only dying again, and later believed in the words of a Christian priest and the Bible and decided to go on living. He was released from the hospital in August with prosthetic limbs in both legs. A year later she married a priest, had two children, and is now engaged in a speech promoting the value of life. The collision from the front of the platform to the new tram was her fault, but the part of her neck, body, etc. that causes fatal injuries didn't roll, I'm afraid it was just an accident. But from this example of why that's the case if the train doesn't kill itself. Case study 16 - Women crushed to death in Qing letter tunnel The body of an old woman. The forehead of both arms and legs was completely cut off.
However, the Jigang submarine station is a disaster prevention at two unmanned stations in the Qing letter tunnel, the tram is not moored, not a place? Results showed that the woman had been on her way to an unknown location since the day before she died, and decided to return to her home in Tokyo on the 18th, page 58 of the full suicide manual, which took place on her way home from Sapporo. She was a little nervous not long ago, not knowing where to make the determination to die, that day at 22 o't on the palm of the car, opened the window to jump out, and then lie on the other side of the tracks, crushed to death by the passing truck around 4 o't. On the 18th, she called home and told her father, I'm going home. It's very hard to lie on the tracks and wait for death, especially in a metropolis. But the tunnel suicide on the train, the subway also seems to have many unknown good places. To get into the driving track, the main condition is that it must be dark around. Even in the metropolis and into the intersection of the evening is greater, it is also important to cut completely above the forehead. You can imagine the sheer cutting power of the train's wheels. It's assumed she was lying on the tracks as a result of the condition of the words would be cut into two parts. This is a great inspiration to those who attempt suicide by sleeping on the tracks outside the station. In Siddaro's thinking novel, there is also the assumption that a woman's body was found at Yoshioka's underwater station, and perhaps she read the novel. However, the fact that the seabed, 150 metres on earth, in the harsh cold darkness, can lie on the tracks for more than a dozen minutes is unimaginable, beyond the extreme horrors of general fear, unimaginable to ordinary people. The psychology before suicide is really elusive. ----- PGP Signature---- Version: 2.6.3ia Charset: noconv Comment: The complete

Sanyuan to commit suicide may not be many people, but the volcano has the advantage of swallowing the body. Therefore, from this point of view there is still its use of value, so it is introduced. Page 59 The Complete Suicide Guide (History) is located on Mount Saniwan, a large island in the Izzo Islands, how can it become a suicide resort? There aren't many people who know that now yet, and the reason goes back 60 years to the mysterious case. On February 24, 1933, two students from 21 practical white colleges and universities climbed Mount Saniwan. One of them said hello to everyone and jumped into the fire, and the other was rescued while he was hesitating. Two people were willing to commit suicide, that alone is enough to shock the environment, after an investigation to know that the schoolgirl a month ago on January 9th and another friend also climbed Mount Sanyuan, the same so that a friend committed suicide and she herself returned. The Death Guide incident caused a sensation in society and, for nothing, suicide volunteers, mostly young men and women, gathered at Mount Saniwan, where there were 32 suicides and 67 suicide attempts in three months. The real situation is that this girl who became a witness was invited to accompany people to suicide a month ago, a month later, someone accidentally revealed to her the idea of suicide, so she introduced the Mount Sanyuan appeared male to 804 in, female to 140 people, a total of nearly a thousand suicides, and even appeared at the top of the mountain after a meeting and felt angry and jumped together, some critics said to see you again and jumped men. As a result, Mount Saniwan suddenly became a suicide resort. From the top of the inner wheel mountain is forbidden to enter, cannot peer inside the crater, wants to jump words, but Although it's not a matter of Mount Saniwan, in 1948, after following Taizazihi left a legacy of Take Me With Me and threw himself into asoshan's youth, hanging on 500 feet of rock, and finally stopped. In fact, according to the survey, the rock's temperature is 65.6 degrees and the adulterer is 65.6 degrees, 2.4 million meters from Pass Aso. When passing down, be careful not to let people on the mountaintop watchtower find out. From Tokyo, Yokohama, hot sea, Ito there are boats to the Big Island, mehda, tuning and direct planes, such as to the summit of Mount Saniwan, by bus or taxi. Hot spring hotels, the port of Yuan and Okada also have hotels large and small, as well as inns on the farm, stay a few days and then suicide is good. A young man (29 years old) jumped about 60 meters from Mount Mitsenhara at 1.m on December 3, 1956. Mount Saniwan was a massive Spitfire scene in January of that year, and when the men jumped, they could also see the new fire caused by magma spouting out. Rescuers who received the news faced the unbearable heat and sulfur to get out of the camp. The woman's leg was trapped in one of three places that risked a karst fire, moving, there was no possibility of rescue, the man was slightly far from the fire, full of blood snouts. While he was still unconscious, rescuers picked up the man, who sustained a leg injury, and managed to move to a safer spot over 30 feet above the rock. At that point, it was late at night, so it was 3:15 a.m. .m the Port of Fire Mountain. Page 61 is a complete suicide manual but by the time he went to the rescue again early the next morning, the man had climbed the volcano's harbour himself and collapsed there. his left eye was bruised, but he suffered only minor injuries, and the scarf he had placed next to him turned yellow and broken. The left leg and below the left knee were burned, the legs swelled with gas, and the face and hands didn't swell. The motive for suicide is said to be to clean up years of triangular relationships. The vitality of this example is astonishing.
When he was left on the rocks by rescuers, I wanted to jump again, but then the boy's face came up and the belief in animals rose. He said afterwards that such a man should never have attempted suicide in the first place. Jumping off a cliff with a tilt of 70 and 200 feet deep was an accident, but it was rare to jump directly into the trend into the crater, most of which hit rocks halfway and then fell to the bottom of the crater, dead of heat and gas. There's been enough talk of the horrors of volcanic rock. He described climbing the volcano wall: the face was warm and breathless because of the intense heat and sulfur-yellow smoke it emitted. The woman successfully touched magma and fulfilled her goal, but the body was unstoppable. This story shows that when the crater committed suicide, the location of the fall and the intension to die are very important. ----- PGP Signature---- Version: 2.6.3ia Charset: noconv Comment: The complete guide of suicide online release 0.9 iQCVAwUBN6OV5Ka8CQrKN-tpAQHckwP J.P.1XZyIdzyakog3nAcFlC2H7VzmMM3 s9zfbMYLpqiVH1CwM0xsXyyemhfCsibhamnmGCm/8/ci/eKXZYuONisBQqQQxYB Page 62 DIdWsbG Full Suicide Guide RZ0E S 5TF0 -----END PGP SIGNATURE-------BEGIN PGP Signed---- (6) Gas poisoning Gas poisoning in the car The pain of gas poisoning in the car to gas solisoning in the car is a lot of time and effort, but it can be easy to die, It's not hard to see the mortality rate. Gas poison to avoid mistakes I want to make it clear that relying on urban gas is unlikely to die so happy. Turn off the gas switch in the room, then fall and gradually fall into a coma... It's out of date. Now gas remarked that the gas company had previously changed the gas to natural gas without causing carbon monoxide poisoning, but in some areas no death poisoning would occur. Liquefied gas also does not contain hydrogen peroxide. Even death si just suffocation due to lack of oxygen. Poisoning would occur. Liquefied gas also does not contain hydrogen peroxide. Even death poisoning would occur. Liquefied gas also does not contain hydrogen peroxide.
disappeared. But cars containing carbon monoxide are still deadly. In fact, most of today's gas suicides have been replaced by such emissions. If you want to use propane gas or gas, it's only willing to carry more pain than death, take your mouth to suck on the gas line, fill the small room with gas, and eventually die for lack of oxygen methods. With any luck, like a 17-year-old girl, she was strangled when the pipe opened.
However, some households are equipped with safety devices that automatically stop emissions after a few hours of heavy emissions, along with the risk of explosion, so it's best not to consider gas suicide at home. If you want to die from lack of oxygen, there's no need to gas the room, just cover your head with a plastic bag. It may seem primitive, but more than 100 people commit suicide every year. In addition to plastic bags, and then at the same time with drug suicide and other methods, the effect is better (case 19). Similarly, though not poisoned to death, there are also people who gass the room and set on lighters and kill them. The method is simple and suitable for people who commit impulsive suicide. However, the killing is undoubtedly the effect of death on the spot, the fact that the whole body burns, pain for several days and then die many examples, the damage caused around the larger, if it is successfully completed unsafe, sometimes just cause a fire, then it is not recommended. Fill the tank with fuel page 63 full suicide guide the way to commit suicide in the car begins with three to four meters of rubber tubes and tape. Rubber hose should be based on the weight of the exhaust output, the grocery store can be purchased, the weight is not correct when you can use plastic fabric to wrap several layers, Secure, and then insert the rubber tube from the window, the seam of the window is also sealed tightly with a column of glue. In this way, the car audio music, and slowly towards a steady sleep. Don't forget to fill up. If neighbors don't notice, the car parked in their garage may also be, but in the woods people can't see any better, after the resort this season due to a shortage of people asking is also a great place. Or cover the car cover so that the sound tyrannies don't notice even when listening to music.
carbon monoxide poisoning death or hypoxia death, to seal the seams window firmly to death, in window stitches and door stitches and door stitches and the contrary, the gas is lighter than the air, so it's better to be as high as possible. Of course, it would be nice to have the courage to put a rubber hose in your mouth. Using this method of unexpectedly severed hands many people, writer Kawatin Kangcheng is also such a suicide, there are examples of a head stuffed into the gas stove to die for. The way the plastic bag is covered on the head, it sure as not leak, and it's good to tie a rope around the neck. Pain is rare with increased concentrations of carbon monoxide in the air, increased inhalation time, increased dizziness and heartbeat, and loss of consciousness to the death. This is because hemochrome, which provides oxygen in the blood, binds carbon monoxide by 200 to 300 times the power of oxygen, forming the familiar carbon monoxide in emissions is about 0.5 to 0.4 percent, the concentration of carbon monoxide hemochrome in the blood has reached 30 percent, the first feeling dizzy, headache, nihility, fatigue, and reduced judgment. At 40 percent, the skin is red due to the charcoal carbon monoxide and the body temperature decreases. At 60 percent, shortness of breath occurs, with loss of God, urine, and funerals. At 70 percent, breathing stops and dies quickly (see Figure 2). Suicide poisoning in the car, about half an hour to an hour will be unconscious.
Area C. L The most beautiful way to die should be avoided, and people said gas suicide bodies were the most beautiful. Because carbon carbine poink, your body will be found painted pink. Clothes may be disturbed when condescipment occurs, but it doesn't matter. However, incontrans urinability occurs frequently. At the home of a man who died of carbon monoxide poisoning in the bathroom, there was feces in the kitchen and on the bed. Since the deceased's rectum had no feces, he knew it was his. At the time, carbon monoxide was produced by empty bath water, and after failing to drain the kitchen and bed dingels, he died after going to the bathroom. Watch out for how you explode and commit suicide in the car, because carbon monoxide is lighter than the air, so the gas sometimes leaks out the window. During this time, you are in, or when you run out of fuel, so it is recommended to close the window tightly. Although death pain poisoning is less, but in a longer period of time without losing consciousness, headache, nausea will continue, so, at the same time take better sleeping pills. The gas into the car, blocked the seams of the window, with blankets to block the glass of the front window so people could not see inside, and then took 60 pieces of the man's sleeping pills, actually was awake, was found after notifying police. Even though he yelled, I have the right to die! But we're going to have to get out of the car. Not all roads are slowly unaware. When the room is filled with gas, special attention is paid to the explosion. Even if the death from a cabin flashes, it can cause an explosion. If there is a large explosion, there will be huge compensation on the back, and there are often more cases where the gas, because there is a risk of an explosion not to use electrical switches and matches to remind others to pay attention, and then gas suicide, the explosion should be enough attention. In an apartment with carbon monoxide poisoning suicide through, but also pay attention, and then gas suicide, the explosion should be enough attention to the people who live upstairs died of carbon monoxide poisoning. This is due to the light weight of carbon monoxide. However, the families of the deceased, the parents of the apartment, filed a claim with the court for compensation of 20.37 million yen. In self-killing indoor gas, one must understand that it is the easiest way to cause trouble. The complete suicide manual on page 65, in the case of salvation, is as damaging to the nerve tissues in the brain as hanging, and may remain for life Gas suicide only. Hanging, jumping, crashing, drugs and all other suicide techniques are the same, wanting to commit suicide, this result is also a matter of course to think about. In April 1978, a 47-year-old unemployed man living in a camper house in Fukuoka County attempted gas suicide and fell into a hallucination of stimulant poisoning at 10 a.m. He thought about suicide because his mistress was out of trouble, pulling a rubber hose in a propane bucket outside the house to the bathroom and filling the room with gas. But after a long time not dead, two hours later wanting to smoke and light the lighter moment, the gas exploded. The explosion damaged 12.4 million yen to 28 families living in the camp, nine residents were injured and he was hospitalized for a month for burns. He was charged with gas leaking and sentenced to eight months in prison in February in Fukuoka District Court for causing serious consequences for multiple injuries. This is an example of suicide with a gas explosion chosen, but if it is attempted and damage is caused to the surrounding area, it will also be tried. Because, in the indoor gas leak itself, the crime is equivalent to a gas leak. Article 118, Section 1 of the Japanese Penal Code states: A person who causes danger to human life, body or property by causing gas, electricity or fumes to leak or flow out, or block, will be liable for imprisonment of up to three years and a fine of 100,000 yuan. A similar example was in 1976, when a 28-year-old operator of an apartment in Osaka also attempted suicide with gas inside the house, resulting in the Big Bang, which destroyed one house and injured about 70 families, and was prosecuted for gas leakage and gross negligence (causing damage to another person's home, etc.). Even if he's a suicide attempt, he can't escape legal liability. From the Hannell examples, we can also tell that two hours of propane at home may not have died, but caused a disaster in 28 households, but I was only treated for a month of injuries. In a room full of gas, about to cut off gas, even because he wants to smoke and light a lighter, he seems to be a confused worm, but actually things like that are still a lot. In July 1983, the body of a stranger - then 46- who killed himself in a suicide manual - was found in cold water in a bathtub in his swimsuits, with a black plastic bag on his head, a rope around his neck and tied to the window light. Forty empty bags of the painkiller were found in the apartment where he died, and he appears to have taken the drug before killing himself this way. Also found in a room that year published in the Japan Suicide Guide - the best way to euthanasia (a German bookstore), and on a browse page with tape. Page 184, as a combination of euthanasia suicide methods, presents four combinations: first, asphyxiation with painkillers and plastic bags; Three combinations and a suicide. He was a salesman at Beckland Course, the predecessor of tokyo's indoor stadium, who disappeared a year ago and then left his wife and children to live as an alcoholic in a small room. The reason for the disappearance, is said to be debt, by the creditors to chase and escape. Page 66 The Guide to Full Suicide (Cause of Death Examination) Choking suicide with a plastic bag is painful, but it's very simple that way. The painkiller Shedds is not fatal, but the effects of the drug and hypothermia caused by cold water can be useful in reducing respiratory function. The role of suicide manuals cannot be ignored. The original book was published in France in 1982 and soon six people were affected and killed themselves, prompting much reaction and becoming the best-selling guide. The part of this person's reference, from the British Euthanasia Society's guide limiting membership, is true. The book also cites some material from the book. Interestingly, he took a tape specifically to make it clear to others that he was watching this dead paragraph. In France, there are also people who have opened the pages of their reference books and killed themselves, and the intention to try to attract the world's attention in this way is clear. In November 1974, an 18-year-old man found in Kawasaki City choked to death by wrapping a plastic bag around his nose and mouth and rubber band wrapping in his bed. On the table were two 400-word pieces of paper with the results of experiments using different suicide experiments using different suicide experiment. His notes read: (1) Fifteen minutes after the experiment began, breathing accelerated and arms and legs were numb. Twenty-five minutes later, the whole body was paralyzed, breathing tripled, and the heart beating 120 times. You can live 30 minutes if you don't move in bed. (2) Brain disorders occur for about two hours. Remove the plastic bag and heart massage beforehand. The suicide by plastic bag appears to have been carried out in the order of asphyxiation> numbness of arms and legs - > total paralysis - > brain loss and so on. Then why didn't he take the plastic bag? Reasons to consider are: (1) Suffocate when in a hurry do not expect to soon be unconscious: (2) Slowly losing consciousness, the body is also paralyzed without listening to a call about the coma. If an item (2) is true, then we've been writing that choking suicide is painful, but in fact it can also be said to be a fairly convenient method. However, this feeling about a near-death trials are also very valuable medical information.

Furthermore, it is strange that the number of men is fifty-three, or 95 percent of all men. It's safe to say that almost only men use suicide methods. Not because the overall figure is low - even in statistics of more than 100 people - more than 90 per cent are still men, and some estimate that this may be because women are particularly concerned about electrocution was one of the most convenient ways to die. The house to attach a wire, two terminals attached to the body, install a ceiling and then sleep. One copper wire is attached to the chest and the other in the back, and if you don't want to stick it in your chest, it in your chest, it in your chest, it in your chest, it on the full suicide manual's wrist with both hands. A 16-year-old high school student committed suicide by wrapping string around her right thumb and another on her vest. But to do this, the thread needs to be wrapped around the left thumb closer to the heart. There are also nuclear scientists who put one end of the electrode in their mouths and put the other end in the anus to commit suicide using Tamar, but how he didn't let the copper wire fall out of his mouth and fall asleep is still a mystery, in this way or not mimicking either. Copper wire with glue on it, when the part of contact with the body is wet, less resistance, better results. In general, current inaccuracies are also a factor in reducing accuracy and you may need to use wet or gauze cotton from the top to hold. Salt water is available when wetting cotton flutter, and resistance is smaller if you can get some ointments for electrostats. There are also examples of using round currencies as a factor. Of course, put the two copper wires Anyway, it's important to activate the heart. By using a transformer to increase tension, lethality is even higher. There are other examples set at 3:00 a.m., which should be the rationale. In short, minimizing resistance and increasing tension are the most important. Throwing an electric heater or razor blade into the bath will also perform electricity, but reliability is very low, so it's best to add some salt to the hot water to improve conductivity. The biggest question here is how is human consciousness when the current passes through the body a few hours after you fall asleep, causing the heart to contract immediately, losing consciousness a few seconds later, and the blood of the heart stops and dies. According to a observed doctor: The general state will produce immediate bone pain, soothing ribs because it is not easy to get hands, so it is inevitable to experience muscle spasms, such as heavy drinking or taking sleeping pills and can make the brain blurred, sleeping and dying. At this point, despite the blackout, but the whole body will twer. There's another way to say that losing consciousness is only a matter of seconds or a fraction of a second, but it takes about three minutes to stop the heartbeat. A man who regained consciousness after being electrocuted put it this way immediately: suddenly I felt unconscious under the control of power. So, when the current short ones, will it stumble? The power companies don't think that's the case. A coroner said: So far there doesn't seem to have been a trip. So, there seems to be no need to worry about that. Since some death row inmates still don't immediately die in a 2,000-volt electric chair, is the 100-volt voltage in the family enough? Some people will feel uncomfortable. However, the tension is not higher than better. The resistance of human skin, in a dry state is one, one, two, one or two (women have a lower obstacle than men), continue to maintain a condition that can pass through the body's maximum current strength and is only 100 millimetres. This force is the minimal current that causes the heart tremor that stops the heart. However, if wet skin can be a tenth less of a hindrance, in fact, in low-voltage situations, a weak-to-heart current is easy to cause cranial fibur, but dangerous. In addition, the most dangerous electric wave to the human body is 50 to 60 Hz, consistent with the current wave in the house, acoustable electricity from the socket is more likely to cause porf and throes than direct current. This means that if the heart is activated within three seconds of the room tremor, the 100-volt household voltage can completely electricity to the brain is respiratory center mostly suffocation. Because experiencing a few seconds of difficulty breathing, suffocating, cannot be considered a happy suicide. However, this interesting ancient method of suicide was used as both ancient method of suicide was used as bo method statistics show that are still in the top five. It is no wonder that the success rate is as high as 80 percent. Basically, irrigation or drowning is not limited to sea, lakes, rivers, ponds, as long as there is water anywhere available, there is no need to immerse the whole body in water. Many people who were drunk and drowned in a ditch, and even lay drunk on the mountain forest trail, and heavy rain caused his lungs to enter the water and die from drowning in the mountains. There were also examples of suicide by sticking your head into a pelvic or washing machine. Yuchuan, famous for the suicide of writer Tai Zaia in the water, drowned a self-defense team member just 40 cm deep. The practice of body blocker and body occupation is a bit primitive, but it is a very effective measure. Tie your legs, then tie your hands behind your back, and jump in the water, whether your swimming skills are good or not, you'll drown. (Of course, even in this case, you can float on your back.) However, it is difficult to tie arms and legs alone. Here's a way for anyone to do it, first by tying their legs and then by tying their left hand (normal or vice versa) to their left thigh and jumping in false. Putting things like stones can speed up drowning. Tired of drinking alcohol prone to loss of balance, reliability, and large numbers of sleeping pills can be relied enough on. Die easily and easily, even if the car stops into the water together, as long as you don't try to get out of the said to be why half of the bodies found in redo's inland sea were found. As a place to jump in or out of the water, it's also ideal for sea and lake. When choose the sparsely populated beach of the lake and, of course, choose the night that is not easy to find. Death in the bathroom is also very simple. The bath is full of water, legs tied, then put their hands back tied down and put their heads into the water on the line, a housewife uses this method to successfully commit suicide. A more special approach is to fill a fixed barrel of gasoline with water, which can be drowned if it is sucked out of the head. In addition, as a particularly suitable place for drowning, this is the Vortex of the Odo Yming Gate. When swimming towards turbulence, it can be pushed out, but once it's involved in turbulence, it never come out again, with a mortality rate of 100 parts per century. The season is best in winter. When the water temperature is low, shock death or cardiac paralysis, fatigue appears quickly so that you must drink some wine or sleeping pills as well. Master Swimming is such a drowning now to show swimmers can throw water suicide

The more you want to inhale, the more water the trachea twitches and causes cramps in the throat, This is usually the case with the drowning of swimmers. Most of the more water the trachea in the middle of the water. So, even if you're a swimmer, you'll have confidence to throw yourself in the water. And some say that when you're about to lose consciousness, memories of the past come out like lightning, like the wonderful experiences depicted in hanging and jumping projects. After losing consciousness, first blowing in the water, then mouth into the lungs, breathing stopped and died. It takes about 1-3 minutes from coughing for blackout, four to five minutes for fresh water, eight to 12 minutes for seawater, and 20 minutes to half an hour for cardiac arrest. However, it's hard to save after more than two minutes in the water.

Bodies extracted to land spat large amounts of small bubbles from the mouth and nose. If the body does not rise soon, summer is two or three days, winter is two or three months later, and this increases because of the depraved gas produced in the body (see Figure 2). The upper buoyancy force of the depraved gas is very large, and even the bodies of nearly ten kg of sea tap were also observed. However, the sinking depth of more than 30, 40 meters, because of low water temperature and corruption gas accumulation may not be up, water pressure and compressed gas, most of the body does not float. Besides, folding the southernmost leg of the four states is a suicide resort where bodies certainly don't float. The body refuses to be found and can also choose a place where the water is deep, like folding a leg. People who can't swim are more likely to be seen when they're at sea and lake. Especially when jumping into the sea, it can lead to the launch of very expensive coastal rescue forces. Swimmers can also commit suicide, but there's no denying that this approach is suitable for those who can't swim and the elderly. In fact, men in their 20s and 30s rarely commit suicide, but there's no denying that this approach is suitable for those who can't swim and the elderly. day before the gas was cut off. The side effects of not dying are more tragic than any other means of self-killing. I would never advise a man who wants to die in general. However, if you want to sue this company and die, there is no way as tragic as suicide and self-ignition! Monks who died fighting the government during the Vietnam War, students who recently committed suicide in South Korea for the same anti-government movement, and Communist Party quaders in Japan who fought to improve the attitude of the working class at the grass-roots level all used self-assembly to commit suicide. Yes, the image of shouting about one's ideas in the midst of being surrounded by flames is indeed profoundly influential. It would be nice to show a strong determination and determination to die with self-ignition. The seven women who committed suicide enthmly in 1986 following the late Lord of the Friends of Truth were also self-desalination. Some people think there won't be too many suicides by self-ignition, but the number has increased year to year, with about 700 people now committing suicide by self-ignition, but the number has increased year to year, with about 700 people now committing suicide by electrocution a year. According to the current medical diagnosis, a third of all suicides are considered narrowly mentally ill, while most of those attempting suicide by selfignition are considered mentally ill. Five liters is a safe zone, not to mention gasoline or oil, but how many gallons are good? Twenty percent of the skin burns all over the body caused a severe blow to the whole body, but to die, the whole body, but to make at least five litres. Gasoline, oil can be poured slowly, clothes are flammable, so can be soaked. Very painful eye oil won't open, but too much consideration of these may not be self-inflicted suicide. If you're afraid of a fire, put flame retardant carpets underneath so even if you're lying in a burning room, you won't cause a fire. There were also 48-year-old housewives who poured gasoline and went into the cremation to kill themselves, but without such need, they became good stuff for Women's Weekly. After pouring gasoline, you can light a deadly fire with a lighter or match. Those who intend to make a statement should keep it firmly in mind beforehand, lest they fall into a state of panic and forget to be clean. Gasoline must be poured in the room, even the house burns together and dies along the way, using many people, so it is better to choose less painful methods, letting people see that burning is the biggest point of suicide and self-ignition. A 10-foot-high pillar of fire came out Two or three meters high flames. The body engulfed in flames will have severe pain and burning sensation, because it cannot stand rolling on the ground, surrounded by the smell of burning flesh. But the perception is usually clear. The scale is swallowed up by inhaling hot air, but the sound can still be heard. The fire was extinguished when the clothes were dry and clean, but some people could stand there themselves and keep shouting (bag 24). When the fire is extinguished, if more than a third of the skin of the body burns like charcoal when a charred black dies on the spot, the fire is extinguished and sent to the hospital by ambulance, the movement of the body cannot move, and then in painful circumstances to meet the arrival of death. Some take half a day or a day, or even five or 10 days before it's easy to break your breath. An 82-year-old American woman who killed herself by burning the Vietnam War has lived in a sober mood for 10 days before it's easy to break your breath. An 82-year-old American woman who killed herself by burning the Vietnam War has lived in a sober mood for 10 days. Her fault, I'm afraid, was shedding a poorly burned alcoholic detergent. The causes of death due to burning suicide were shock, hypoxia and thermal cixing of important organs caused by high fever. 4. 78 A suicide guide full of open skin and fuzzy flesh, the body is tragically second only to a Renonistic suicide that has shed more than five litres of gasoline and ignited, when no one has extinguished the fire, smooth or the entire surface of the carbon skin, hair burned. The skin peels off and reveals the red meat. The human body is actually formed by water, so even if the skin is carbon, the flesh is hard to burn. At this point, the position, due to muscle spasms, becomes its characteristic boxing rout. The skin that hasn't died yet appears blisters, the color changes from tea heat to tea, and finally to black. The cornea of the eye is white and cloudy, and the case for tongue prominence is more. Don't get caught in a hell of a scar tumor! The scariest thing is that one life remains, but burning stays on the face or body and continues to live. A woman poured oil ignited a match but attempted suicide, after three years living in a hospital bed filled with bruises, although the application of five cosmetic surgeries also did not eliminate the bruising, without lips, a mouth cannot be great. Furthermore, compared to other suicide attempts to commit suicide again, the self-inverter may be due to the near-death state, and to get an emotional balance of the reasons for wanting to commit suicide again, the self-inverter may be due to the near-death state, and to get an emotional balance of the reasons for wanting to commit suicide again, the self-inverter may be due to the near-death state, and to get an emotional balance of the reasons for wanting to commit suicide again, the self-inverter may be due to the near-death state, and to get an emotional balance of the reasons for wanting to commit suicide again, the self-inverter may be due to the near-death state, and to get an emotional balance of the reasons for wanting to commit suicide again, the self-inverter may be due to the near-death state, and to get an emotion again.
you shout: Don't come close! Even if you're worried about experience, it's going to work with other methods. The man killed him (24 years old), ran to the top of the 10th floor of his university, poured gasoline and jumped to his death. However, there is no need to do so, and self-ignition is a highly lethal suicide measure. So, death. Because the method of death is all love, a man dies quietly, I would advise you to take a different method. However, if you think you've been through the unknown life, but when you die, you can make a big bang, it's yours. In November 1970, young Koreans who had lifted up to demand improved working conditions committed suicide at the Seoul peace market when you die, you can make a big bang, it's yours. as the force fell once. When it changes from person to person to person, when it becomes a fireball, if it's not because it's hot, its brain is very clear. This is by far the most effective example of using suicide had a big impact, and for the dead he did. A 12-year-old girl from high school whose uncle's yard fire committed suicide by self-ignition. that it is possible that after a large-scale search, suicide attempts, but already frozen bad hands and legs have amputated. Frozen to death, frozen to death, frozen to death and hanging, they're probably very comfortable. To say such a thing is to be suspicious of its authenticity, but that's what life said, should have been believed. Neverthmore, the number of people using frozen death as a suicide measure is certainly outnumbered, and is statistically divided into other categories, perhaps because it's too hard to go to the snowy mountains. But freezing death isn't just a phenomenon that occurs in snowy mountains and cold buzzers, as long as conditions are in place, there are also frozen to death in the room, of course, the temperature doesn't have to be below freezing. Reports indicate that in fact more than a dozen people freeze to death each year in Tokyo, and that hotter places freeze to death. There is often news in the papers that the nomads are frozen to death, and on the nomads are frozen to death, and on the nomads in Tokyo and Osaka, how to get through the cold winter is a very practical wish. Said half a day or a great truth, after all, no one would want to freeze to death, and on the nomads in Tokyo and Osaka, how to get through the cold winter is a very practical wish. except for the exception. If you want to freeze to death, though the trouble is still good for the snowy mountains. This method has many advantages and can compensate for these troubles!? Below will be described in detail, for example, the body is not injured, the pain is less and so on. A person's tolerance for cold is an important factor, so it is not suitable for people who do not fear cold. (Preparation) Select a mountainous recreational area as a goal! To go to the snow-capped mountains, first buy a guide to a cold mountain recreation area to discover. I.e When it's time, go to places people rarely visit. Even near the ski training ground, you may be able to find the right place. Of course, mountaineers can decide the route and location very carefully. Things to prepare to carry: Sedatives, painkillers, etc. are available in pharmacies to stabilize mood and sleep, and alcohol. Drinking alcohol can cause your body temperature to rise, but drinking to overcome the pain is also allowed. Anyway, it's hard to resist the cold outside in the snow. Take off your clothes and you'll die in one night, but it's a little hard, so you'll find at least two or three days to duck where no one else can find it, which is even better if you can fall asleep. Freeze to death in a room to choose the cold winter and really want to die in the room that is not to choose the winter days cannot, but also to see the weather forecast, choose the coldest night. In addition, you need to do something to cool your body: water it naked, then open it to the electric fan and air conditioning, and the windows and fridge are open. Even on an empty stomach, lack of sleep and fatigue, otherwise it is difficult to achieve. Such as drinking wine in advance, so that the surface body and blood vessels dilation, can rapidly lower body temperature and have the effect of urging rapid death. Of course, some patience is needed, which is also to wait for sleep before patience arrives. Ways to freeze to death in the street: Wear wet clothes at night to secluded parks, open spaces and trees. To avoid suspicion, it's ok to bring a kettle and get caught when deciding on a good location. Try selecting page 81 full suicide guide and select cement that disperses heat faster, but the most important thing is not to let people see it. At a temperature of five degrees at night, returning night drunk to freeze to death on the road. In water, the risk of freezing to death at 15 degrees is high, if it's five degrees of water temperature, soaking for several hours will die, and such water temperature can sometimes result in death in an instant. drilling into a snobord or undressing in a room, death is the same. Initially, the whole body freezes straight, and when the rectal temperature drops to 33 or 34 degrees, the power of thinking gradually weakens, consciousness is blurred, there will be a kind of beautiful trance shrouded. At the age of 30-23 degrees, he lost consciousness until his death. It's impossible to save when it's below 25 degrees, so it's a lot faster than you think. To this beautiful sense of trance, a frozen suicide victim said: With shortness of breath there's a kind of... I don't...... In addition, an investigator's report on the interview included the following examples: It's ringing. The foot felt a sharp pain, as if running on needle hill, and soon there was sleep. Soothing fatigue continues to emerge, as if freed from the fears and disasters of the world. The air was fresh, as if it were a spring breeze, and beautiful music rang again in her ears. Resting on a soft fur cushion, all sorts of coloured light shine again, and soon he was unconscious, and he never regained consciousness until he was rescued. Some of the victims said, I had a dream to dance at a big party. According to hanel experience, it can be said that, like suicide by jumping from a building, freezing to death is a suicide method that is completely painless except for the initial cold. [] -- In The History of the Body - L - Is it really the most beautiful? Frozen bodies in the snowy mountains, like gas suicides, are sometimes described as the most beautiful way to die, but this varies depending on the time of discovery. If the body rots. The carcasses are red because oxygen and chromium in the blood combine to become pink lumberal pigment. In places like snow-capped mountains, sometimes the tip of the hand and the hon will freeze and edema occurs. Sometimes it happens that the full suicide manual on page 82 is madness and unfolds when you strip yourself. The number of bodies torn up by wildlife is not small (case 26). So to put it this way, you can't say he's very pretty. (Note) will be found! No matter where you die, it's important not to find it halfway. In the snowy mountains, in case your arms and legs are partially frozen, it must be removed and turned into a man without arms and legs. However, there will be no necrosis below freezing. In addition, at the Snowy Mountain suicide event, family and friends found after requesting a search will need huge search costs. So do some hands and legs in advance, leave no hint of the whereabouts of the last letter, go out and record the phone call as usual and get out as usual and get out as usual can be. If you really want to commit suicide, or the snowy mountains, in a room or on the side of the road frozen to death, must be in all conditions and not easy to find, it's very difficult.

hand-interrupted suicide methods, in addition to the introduction above, There's a lot more. For example, it's not easy to get a gun that wasn't displayed anyway. Movies and TV often show the use of guns designed to back up or temples to pull the trigger, as if the typical method of gun suicide. However, this type of trigger is not recommended. Because the skull is much harder than we thought, in case the angle is wrong, you can make the ball fly, even if it hits, but the bullet breaks, the skull fractures hit the brain, and then rotate a circle through the eyes or the other side That's right, I'm sorry. In this chapter, let's learn about these other methods of suicide based on case studies. In August 1985, two decomposing female bodies were found in a room in the new village of Tuchimura, Tokyo's Tingpu prefector, starving. It's a 25- and 23-year-old nurse, cause of death is starvation. The death period was set from late 1984 to February 1985. Next to the body, there was an old envelope with the words death nurse to pay the medical expenses of the mother and sister and the debt left by her father, she actively acknowledged that the real work approach in the work unit was also praised, but the monthly wage of 110,000 yen does not pay, and eventually had to borrow. Soon the amount borrowed reached three million yen, and the debt collection phone calls reached three million yen, and the debt collection phone calls reached the work unit. Nevertheless, my sister moved to the New Village in 1965 with her parents and sister, her mother was ill and her father was away from home for many years, so she had a monthly living allowance of 110,000 yen. Already a little schizophrenic nurse, after high school is often bullied, often doesn't go to school, a nurse cares about her mother's illness, on the other side to cheer up her sister, I also went into commercial high school. However, when he was a senior, his father returned with a large debt and died of cancer a year later. At that point, my sister also suffered from the thyroid gland, my sister was also removed from the lifetime allowance because of her work. Mom finally died of the disease in 1983. However, relatives did not agree to the return of the ashes. Around this time, my sister got tired of life. She placed garbage bags on the balcony, and the phone calls collecting debts continued, and she was absent from her job from June 1984 until she was fired in September. And in September electricity and gas were cut off because they didn't pay on time, and in January a year later, the running water was cut off. Collecting debts day after a while my neighbors came to them without compromise, but they replied: I don't care about us again! ] 。 In fact, at this point the idea of suicide may be well established. There are welfare offices in the area near the new village, but they never talk about anything. It must have been after my sister died that she died. In the spring, because of the breeding of flies, a smell was found, with the nurse wearing a shirt and trousers on the nurse, while the nurse did not know why nudity cover a pair of sweaters, but the lower body is naked. The room was filled with trash, bed linen and clothing, including magazines like 17 years and Akihikawa novels. On the wall are large stickers of the Big Island Arch and the cotton star fantasy comedian. (to examine cause of death) Choice. Because, they were tired to extreme, even suicide efforts aren't enough. Although the difference between people is very large, but as long as you don't drink water, you can die in a week to two weeks, just drink water in 30 to 40 days and starve. Energy storage is also a big factor, which is a bit fat for nurse's misfortune is even more tragic. Mom's illness, all the disasters are on her shoulders. No matter how hard you try, you don't get paid, don't say the harder you try, the worse it gets. Her life seemed to be at the juncation of suicide or not. Naturally, if she wanted to live, it was possible, but she refused help and chose to die. In the face of this kind of life, will animals be good things, die to do something, suicide is the weak thing and so on to say such study 28, p. 85

man determined to erase himself from society has done. The bird's sand dunes are a Japanese secret with the same name as the sea of trees, but it is very painful to bury yourself alive and choke to death. Four years undetected, it can be said that his goal has been achieved, but this is not a best practice. Because there are still many ways to kill yourself without the body being found. Bear pain, trouble, deaths, effects, deaths, case studies 29, women killed by Cubs more than 7 p.m. In February 1989, a 67-year-old housewife ran to Aso Bear Farm in Ahuayu, Kumamoto County, about an hour and a half from home, and jumped into a 12-year-old red. The guard, who heard the dragonfly's loud noise, rushed over and saw only the bear pour 80 feet under the fence, and 68 bears huddled in huddles, like a small Montenegro. After using the firefly to disperse the bear, There was a big hole in place, there were some signs of bites all over the body, such as arms and legs. The clothes were torn apart, like they were a lag. She's a devout Buddhist who used to talk about he'd fall into the demon world, dead people but living souls forever and so on. When she left home this afternoon, he said, call me in this world, and leave a note for her husband, and her neighbors thought she was a strange person. Some people said the woman had said before, I wanted to be eaten by the tiger cage next to the bear shed, but because she couldn't get into the iron fence, she jumped into the bear shed, but because she couldn't get into the iron fence, she jumped into the bear shed, but because she couldn't get into the iron fence, she jumped into the bear shed, but because she couldn't get into the iron fence, she jumped into the bear shed. It's an unlikely way to kill yourself by eating an animal. However, from the motive to say some religious atmosphere, too far from the reality of the method of death, cannot be used as a reference to suicide methods. Furthermore, this method is painful, the body is unbearable, the credibility of death, impact, death, case study 30, American pathologist Dr. Jack Gebokan is known for developing unique suicide devices. The device is designed to contain

Der Gvocan made a white Volkswagen German van and searched for a park for trainees suitable for suicide. In June 1990, she and the doctor took a bus to the park, she hid behind the car, the doctor first put the needle in the static pulse injection of salt, the doctor adjusted her flow status, Janet pressed the button, the injectable fluid into the spray, 20 seconds later she fell asleep, then sprayed to switch to potassium asloride, 40 seconds, and her heart stopped beating before then. Janet is an English teacher and a serious woman who loves classical music, and her character is thought to have made it difficult for her to endure early dementia. Assisted suicide was the result of a major debate about the dignity of death in the United States. In the immediate eyes, really be completely credible and safe to die, just rely on Dr. Gaborcan's help to commit suicide, otherwise there is no other way. He also used the device in October 1991 to transform two women from a self-employed person Roth State did not punish the crime of assisted suicide. In Japan, the crime of assisted suicide is clearly defined in penal code. That's why Janet moved from Oregon to Michigan. There's no pain other than needles, and you can die in your sleep, whether others see it or not, don't want to die in their room and ready to go to the United States, you might want to get in touch.
However, it is not known if he would be willing to use the device for a person who did not suffer from the disease. Japan Honor Death Association, but the association recognizes that adverse euthanasia of terminal cancer patients who cannot be treated with current medical technology and does not want to take life-extending measures in vain opposes suicide in general. According to the inquest, between May and July of two years before his suicide, the man joined the insurance of three companies, Antian Life, First Life and 100Th Life, and his family members were responsible for 70.2 million yen after his death. He told people, I'll leave insurance for my kids to die. The man, who suffered from tuberculosis for four years and later loved competing, left his family in a state of misery and shame, and broke up with his family when he killed himself. While working for a real estate company, he worked as a night watchman and from sales of a life insurance company, and even borrowed money from relatives and friends to pay insurance premiums totaling 5.5 million yen. According to his colleagues at the real estate company, he's usually honest, unlike a member of the community who does this kind of thing. If the cause of death is to use regular gas to commit suicide, people who want to commit suicide should also know something about life insurance, then this example is shown. Life insurance, even if your cause of death is suicide, won't be paid until a year after it's added. Furthermore, the sooner the insurance premium is received, the better to sign a contract and die immediately after one year. However, given these and suicide, I'm afraid there won't be anyone but this man. ---- PGP Signature--- Version:

In 1985, teenage girls jumped more than double from 74 in 1990 and 31 in 1986, up from 162 to 78 in 1986. In 1985, teenage girls jumped to suicide in just 52 people. Needless to say, this is why Okada Yoshiko Okada Yoshiko Okada Yoshiko Okada Yoshiko Okada Yoshiko However, with the exception of this, no matter when the dependent age group is always in first place. He said that gun suicide is number one in the United States, although it is easy to get a gun. However, hanging is common in other countries, including the United States, which means that hanging as a suicide measure is the most popular. peak suicide season first of all, sexual orientation in the world is more in spring and fall and less in summer, white most is April, followed by May, at least it is December and January. However, no matter what month, the difference is not very large. According to Japan's data in recent years, Mei was the most. According to 1991 figures, the number of monthly suicides is shown in figure 3, with the highest number in May and with very little in February of that year. Suicide Sunday also rested in Tokyo, sorting out the situation of more than 2,000 suicides handled by the six-year ambulance service, And the order of suicide Sunday also rested in Tokyo, sorting out the situation of more than 2,000 suicides handled by the six-year ambulance service, And the order of suicide Sunday also rested in Tokyo, sorting out the situation of more than 2,000 suicides handled by the six-year ambulance service, And the order of suicide Sunday also rested in Tokyo, sorting out the situation of more than 2,000 suicides handled by the six-year ambulance service, And the order of suicide Sunday also rested in Tokyo, sorting out the situation of more than 2,000 suicides handled by the six-year ambulance service, and the order of suicide Sunday also rested in Tokyo, sorting out the situation of more than 2,000 suicides handled by the six-year ambulance service, and the order of suicides handled by the six-year ambulance service, and the order of suicides handled by the six-year ambulance service, and the order of suicides handled by the six-year ambulance service, and the order of suicides handled by the six-year ambulance service. (13.8%). Wednesday was the least. More than a century ago, statistics from French sociologist Gail Kaburg showed that Tuesdays are less. Sundays were more common and Fridays to Sundays were less. Sundays are less the same, and other days don't really matter. There are more suicides at night than during the day, so what time do you see in time when you kill the most people? According to Tokyo Observation Medical Hospital in the three years since 1955, 8 Twenty-four hours is the least. During this period, suicide of the popular sleeping pill, 21-24 was 36%, while 56% occurred between 21 and 15:00. The largest number of attempted interrogations were carried out in Kamakura at night, in the early hours of the morning and during the day. According to the survey conducted in Jindo, which divided the six hours of the day into four paragraphs, most of them between 12 and 18 hours m (32.1%) of the 2016-2015, m 12.000 in 2014, and 0 in 6 pp. (27.4%), or page 91 (19.0%) And 6 to 12 pp.m. However, among those who failed, it was 18-24, accounting for 31.0%, followed by 29.4% at 12-18. The results of these surveys are inconsistent and therefore cannot be general in general, but suicide is desirable at least at night and morning. However, the order of polls conducted in Niigata County was 0-6 pm (29.4%), 12-18 pm (23.5%), and 6-12 pm (17.6%). Six to twelve hours less, but also a little on the same, analysis of the results in addition to that is difficult. By Figure 4 After the war, there were two peaks in 1955-58 and 1983-1986, with more than 20,000 deaths in one year. However, the increase in 1983 was considered due to little credit, and in 1986 it was influenced by Mr Okada. In the pay, it floats up and up at the level of 20,000 people. That's 1.5 to 2.0 times the number of traffic accidents, and 2.5 times the number he killed. Suicide at age 20 to 30 was ranked in the first parking from the cause of death category, the last 10 years from murder followed by cancer, heart disease, cerebral hemorrhage, rye infection, bronchitis, accidents, aging, accounted for seventh place. During the postwar period, many people died of gastrointestinal inflammation, so the sequence is still behind it. However, age-wise, records in recent years show that suicide rates, the number of suicides decreases with age. This is why the Ministry of Health and Health's Office of Statistics and Intelligence said that the number alone is that most suicides are among the elderly, and the full suicide manual on page 92 is not necessarily true. The number of cancers in the first place reached more than 10,000 in their 40s, but by the time they reached 50, 60 and 70, the number of deaths had risen by 20,000, 40,000 and 60,000. At the same time, the suicide rating order is Thursday, Friday, seventh. Specifically, from 1991 to no. In 1962, the mortality rate of 30.5%, ranking 9. Indeed, suicide rates are high relative to the population. However, if someone asks who is the deadest in self-killing, this sequence is an important answer. It can be said that the younger generation from the age of 10 to 30 who committed suicide is the largest number of deaths. - - ¬ - National/Photos -- Our Province L L - Inter— Figure 4 Statistics on Suicide Mortality L - Inter— Figure 4 Statistics on Suicide Mortality L - Inter— Figure 4 Statistics on Suicide Mortality L - Inter— Figure 4 Statistics on Suicide Mortality L - Inter— Figure 4 Statistics on Suicide Mortality L - Inter— Figure 4 Statistics on Suicide Mortality L - Inter— Figure 4 Statistics on Suicide Mortality L - Inter— Figure 4 Statistics on Suicide Mortality L - Inter— Figure 4 Statistics on Suicide Mortality L - Inter— Figure 4 Statistics on Suicide Mortality L - Inter— Figure 4 Statistics on Suicide Mortality L - Inter— Figure 4 Statistics on Suicide Mortality International Suicide Mortality L - Inter— Figure 4 Statistics on Suicide Mortality International Suicide Mortality Int are more than 1,000 individuals separately among 20,000 people, so you don't have to compare by country, but that's an interesting problem, so add comparisons. According to the latest information from the World Health Organization (WHO), Hungary, known as a major suicide country, bas the highest suicide rate (deaths from suicide per 10 million inhabitants), at 39.9% (the 1990 survey). According to the latest figures, the number of suicides committed by guns and explosives in the United States is 47.1 percent. Here's the poison. Gas is two. He's got quite a few means. In Italy, Switzerland, Canada and Australia, weapons are supposed to kill most people. According to West Germany's 1969 figures, the upper hanging was an absolute majority, 39% of all cases. Here's the poison. Sleeping pills are two or three percent, gas is one or three percent, and water supply is nine percent. Of course, there are regional differences, Berlin with gas, Hamburg for most sleeping pills, similar to Japan is only 5% of the jump. Even in Sweden and Denmark, hanging is the most. Figures for England and Wales in 1965 showed that men made up the majority of gas, followed by sedatives. Anesthesia 25%, one or three hangings. Women's drugs are 49% and gas 33%, and somehow these two are amazing, except the methods are in single digits. France is a drug. 1966 and 1970, the first was drugs, and though the number of samples is only 912 people, but the order is 46% of drugs, 22% of water, depending on one or four percent. In Nigeria, Africa, according to data released in 1962, depends on up to 50%, the next order is guns, toxins, sharp edges. The Hanel situation seems to reflect a variety of different national conditions. The amazing scene of life and death - the Golden Gate Bridge in San Francisco, USA. As more suicide bombers say, it's not for suicide purposes, but it's an atmosphere to witness the death of suicidal thoughts. A 70-year-old man left behind the question: Why create such an easy view to kill himself? The last letter jumped down. Similarly, Nicaragua Falls in the United States is also known as a suicide reviewer. Britain's River Thames, India's Ganges River and so on have been called suicide resorts, in Japan to say it's probably Huiyan Falls. ---- PGP Signature---- Version: 2.6.3ia Charset: noconv Comment: The complete guide of suicide online release 0.9 iQCVAWUBN6OWHqa8C QrKN-tpAQG5GgQAh2dLxJkDqc51j5Ljg9XnLifw5SEUzada J2y9cclXQWx6xc 7 vBmJ6GkH3qqt9b WycinPv plus 19bqujl4eHBawBl894hk6zruQbwm c/sNKu6stJqNpI7lleU 4az Mud0UbD0IXPV7Dz2lhndmyOweRbbuxOIPVCCMc OVg y8OBrdmDYDs s/VuH ----END PGP SIGNATURE------BEGIN PGP Signed Notice---- Post-record introduction, exaggeration of modern society and suicide, But it's actually a little over the top.
