Power Search Option Use Row View by Default Control/All {{key}} Hi Everyone, I kind of like following card prices and trying to make money out of it. However, this is very time consuming.... I can get a price tracker, you know? I want to be able to extract values for some websites to compile everything from an excelsheet to easier tracking. I tried google and looked at some software for stock market monitoring but it wasn't possible (because of my non-computer skills) to customize the software for the use of an MTG. I'm sorry if this came up before, but I couldn't find anything. Bonus question: I'm also wondering how, guys, prices are following evolutions. Thanks and have a nice day guys
