Now you enter the land of the rich and beautiful. If you think you are rich and beautiful, you will definitely find others who are richer and prettier than you. It's summer in Capri. So wear the best bikinis and day dresses and come ready to drink, eat, and be fabulous. Aside from the typical Capri walking tour down Pucci Gucci Way, there are actually tons of exciting hikes to do in Capri. Once you arrive from the cable car, steps behind the balcony view, you will find the famous Capri Piazzetta (meaning a small town square) where all the beautiful sit outside around the patio of the cafe to view and see Capri Moment. You can continue down the footpath from Piazzetta, which takes you on a stunning 20-minute walk around the beautiful city of Capri. But then, instead of finishing back to piazzetta, keep going to where everyone else loops back. You can walk along the edge of the cliffs and hills and steps with a magnificent view of the island. There is a nice natural restaurant with a great balcony about 20 minutes into the walk. When you think you are tired and have gone too far, keep going. It's at the top of a lot of steps. You can't get lost, there's only one way. If you get super tired, just think there is wine at the top of the steps and then you can just get drunk and roll yourself down the hill. View from Via Tragara you can also take the bus from Capri to the Anacpri bus stop and hike along the northern edge of the island to the lighthouse. (must find someone with a map or guide). It's certainly for more sporty types of tourists, but again at the end you're rewarded with wine, in Punta Carena, a lighthouse (see more details below.) Il Faro of course, at some point you have to sit in the piazzetta during the appetitivo time, which is between 7-9 pm and have a drink just to feel what most people come to Capri for. It's definitely a stage and show to say the least. I always say once we get off the boat from Naples, I feel richer and prettier once my feet touch the island of Capri lovers Of the best beach clubs: FONTELINEA La Fontelina Super chic every blogger/almost famous Americana here. It's awesome if you can compete with someone who's hotter and cooler than anyone else, get the right 25 euros to enter plus 10-15 for a chair/bed. PRO-TIP, if you don't want to spend the day, you can just come to the restaurant for lunch and watch the scene with the step above, and slurping speghetti vongole and house sangria. This definitely needs to be done during the trip. The coolest place, the best food. LUIGI's Da Luigi's Just Next Door to Fontellina, is more local, cold, but just as beautiful, and better to swim without the American Duchy attitude of beachclub, Luigi. Similar entry price. PRO-TIP'Spend a beach day in Luigi and then go to Fontellina on early appetitivo, drinks and snacks before sunset. TORRE SARACENA Torre Saracena Good beach club to watch mega yachts pass and cool down in shallow water. Can lie on beds halfway in the water, unlike others that are on concrete and giant rocks. PROTIP' Call ahead with a nice American pleasant voice and ask them to reserve you beach chairs by the water. About 15-20 euros to enter, less than the other two hot spots. PUNTA CARENA AKA, BEACH LIGHTHOUSE Il Faro Sunset on Il Faro Beach Is a free place for swimming and the most local but cool place on the island. There is a beach club over the sea with a pool which is 25 euros to get in if you want more glam. Or you can put a towel on a solid concrete slab like everyone else and pretend to be Italian! For sure this is the best place to watch the sunset! A great place for kids (if I had kids, I would pay for pool chairs and leave the kids to play with Italian scunizzi (rough kids) and learn how to rock jump. PRO-TIP find an amazing island hiking trail and hike all day to the end at the lighthouse at sunset around 7-8pm where there is an amazing bar with live music on weekends and spritz with hot Italian hipster jetset.
