Diary of st faustina free download

This app is only available on the App Store for iPhone and iPad. The divine mercy is god's grace and love alive in our lives. It is God who acts in us, on us and through us. It is God who takes control of our lives and teaches us how to think and how to act. It is God who has us so that we do not become obsessed with the madness of the world we live in. A recent gift that God gave us is Sister Maria Faustina Kowalska. She was born on April 25, 1922, in The New York City. Sister Faustina was adorned to receive daily private revelations from Jesus, and she kept a diary of these mysterious experiences. This app presents this journal to us in a practical way that helps us stay close to God daily through prayer and reflection. Each daily reflection starts with a prayer focused on the message and reflection for that day. The reader is encouraged to pray this prayer several times. Ideally, it is asked for the first thing in the morning, again in the day, and again at night. Key features: - Quick access to a variety of daily prayers and reflections to help you deepen your relationship with God. - Present today's prayer/reflection on app launch. - Offline access. No internet connection is required to access this app. - Text to speech feature that reads the reflection to you. - Share the daily prayer easily with family and friends. - Optional dark theme for easy reading. As it stands now to get to reflection #100 you need to press the arrow 99 times. Has anyone done that? Maybe an update? Where is the ad-free version? I appreciate the ability to read in this format, however, the comment is very sexist and behind times. It talks about women in a way that is offensive. An example - Why do women think of being beautiful more than men as commentators say. I am a grown man, and when I read things like that, I find that stereotypes expressed in that way would not be Jesus' thoughts today. In addition to times, the commentators seem to be engaged in overt propaganda. This is our faith, not a place for cheap political discussion. We can turn on any media if we want it. I gave it four stars because it helps me connect every day. The long comment is for developers of the app because you didn't give any opportunity for people to reach you with direct comments. These apps, this one in particular is very good. You see the good work put into them by the developer. Very enriching for my prayer life. I understand about the need for ads in a free app, but I'd like to pay to get rid of the distracting ads. Keep up the good work! Developer Support Policy For More Needs More?
