Have you written OCA and OCP Java 7 certificates? If so, you don't need to write this exam to update your certification to Java version 8. To do this, you can write 'Upgrade Java SE 7 to Java SE 8 OCP Programmer'. This path will require you to write only one exam. If you haven't written the OCA and OCP Java SE 7 certification exams, I wish you that you would win a copy of that title this week. Good luck. Thank you for the clarification! That's right. Post your questions on the forum. As mentioned by Tim (the bartender) in the first post on this topic, posts in this welcome topic are not eligible for drawing. Have you posted your question already/or answered anyone in this forum? I believe only posts starting today (September 13) to September 16 will be eligible for drawing. Once again, good luck to you. Either way, all the best on your book promoting Mala Gupta Hi Nizamuddin - You can download and read the first chapter of this title for free from Manning manning.com/gupta3. I included a screenshot to highlight the link. My favorite in this title is Twist in a Tale exercise. They call you code with changes and analyze how small changes can have a big impact on the output of the code. Thank you for your wishes. I hope you find it a good read. Thank you, Riddhi Hi Riddhi - Thank you for your appreciation! I'm glad to know that my book OCA Java SE 7 has helped you understand the basics of Java. Did you write the exam 1'0-803? The OCA 8 Java SE 8 Programmer I exam includes an introduction to a functional Java programming style. It includes writing simple Lambda expressions. Good luck with that. This has helped me go a long way to getting my OCP certification. I'm really looking forward to getting my hands on the OCA Java SE 8 Programmer I Certification Guide and making another shot at the OCA exam to get the best score. What's funny is that I got a better score on my OCP than on the OCA exam, probably because the second time I had the help of great educational material, The Book of Mala . Thank you for your great work. Hi Paulo - Thank you for your very kind comments. I'm glad to know that my book OCP Java SE 7 Programmer II Cert helped you get a good score. Congratulations to you. If you've already written and certified OCP 7 Java SE 7 II, you can only write one exam, that is, Update Java SE 7 to Java SE 8 OCP Programmer to update Java 7 certification to Java ver 8. If you plan to write a OCA Java SE 8 certificate, you also need to write an OCP Java SE 8 certificate. I hope you know about it. Thank you, David. This is one of the best compliments I got for my book. But before I give credit, a team of people are working on a book. I was very fortunate to work with Manning Publications. They have a great team. Starting with the development stage, for consideration, production, and marketing, Manning includes the best professionals. I'll pass that compliment on to my team. :-)
