UPDATED ON May 10, 2019, the day Fortnite finally made it to the Android operating system, PlayerUnknown's battlegrounds competitor won a new app on Google's platform aimed at smartphones with more modest settings. PUBG Mobile Lite is in its version 0.5.0 and has as basic highlights some changes in the characteristics of the game in order to consume less RAM and give more fluidity to the experience. These include reducing from 100 to 40 simultaneous players and reducing the overall size of the card. In addition to the lower consumption of device settings, Tencent Games' intention is also based on providing more dynamism in matches. The tendency is that they are faster and more action-eaded. PUBG MOBILE LITE is here! Built with Unreal Engine 4, this version of PUBG MOBILE is compatible with even more devices and optimized for devices with less RAM, without compromising the gaming experience that has attracted millions of fans around the world. PUBG MOBILE LITE has a smaller card made for 40 players, which means a faster game that still retains the traditional style of PUBG! Tencent Games has not yet announced whether the game will reach other markets and, if it does, what the date of expansion to other countries.
