PicsArt is a photo editing app. With PicsArt make simple edits, add text, drawings and effects for the photos you take with the camera. Make many arrangements such as mixing, filtering and cropping photos with picsart. Also, use picsart as a social network. It's a super powerful image editing app just like Photoshop. With this app, you can edit and improve the quality of photos before posting them online. The app is free to try, but to unlock the extra features that you need to buy a subscription. It rolled out a premium program last March that gives users more sophisticated features and exclusive content. This segment is already leapfrogged by advertising to be PicsArt's largest source of revenue. Yet paid subscriptions have been slow to come. Picsart includes an image editor, effects, drawing and adding text sections. So you can organize your photo as you would like it first, then you can decorate it in a variety of draws. You can share these photos on social networking sites such as Facebook, Instagram and Twitter. Send them via text message or email. Also create your own wallpaper with photos that you create. You'll find great visuals for great photos. You can also combine photos into collages. PicsArt- Photo Studio is a great photo editing program. The impeccable finish of most filters and publications that you can integrate into your photos is its best identification sign. Creativity is more than just a filter - PicsArt is the best choice for creating amazing photo editing and photo collages, capturing images with the camera, creating digital drawings, and communicating with the global community of creative people. The Functionality PicsArt app offers time lapse, explosion, front and rear camera effects, stickers, backgrounds and collage. It also allows you to draw (pictured, empty or background), thematic contests and search for photos. The drawing mode is amazing with enough features and controls to make it pretty accurate and fun. Features such as collage still offer enough options to add a bit of twist. Best for some may be the integration of Facebook, in which you can post all your creations easily and adequately. This app is only available in the App Store for iPhone and iPad. PicsArt is the best all-in-one photo and video editor on a mobile phone! Terms: announcements: October 13, 2020 Version 15.8.1 We have a whole new family of filters for you! Apply one of our brand new cyber filters and give yourself that 2077 neon glow. This app is really cool and has taught me many things about editing and I think I'm getting really good haha. I haven't used this app long, but I downloaded because two people I'm close to recommended I get it, when I first got it everything worked perfectly and I was having so much fun! But suddenly the button to make the sticker disappeared. It didn't happen to my two friends and they had the app longer than me, so I don't know if it's crashing or not. At first I thought maybe you took away this feature and made it a premium feature only when my friends said it didn't happen to them and that they weren't buying a subscription, I got confused. I still do. I don't understand where the button went, but if it's a premium feature I don't understand why I'm the only person who doesn't have a button. I would like to know if this is just a glitch on my device or if the feature I now have to pay for if I want to use it. Although I probably won't since I won't pay for only one feature. I just wanted to know what happened. Well, I'm just going to say right away: I love this app. It has such a variety of everything for editing and you can seriously make some amazing creations on this app. But the worst part is once you've done something with multiple layers of stickers, filtering, drawings, photos, etc., it completely freezes and falls. I lost so many projects because of this application fail. I love editing photos and doing wild aesthetic edits with them, but I also love layering and constantly adding things that the app can't handle. After about 25, if you click to undo the arrow, it will load within 15 minutes and is obviously likely to crash. My phone has a lot of memory, so I know that this app is crashing. I have to just start taking screenshots of my progress every time in awhile in case it falls I still have a saving point (I can't save it because I'm still layering and moving things around). Overall, I use the sticker feature more from nothing. I like how people can download their own stickers and such and you can share yours. It's a great way creativity and very useful to make cool photo edits. But the app just can't handle the excessive layering that I'm trying to do. I haven't heard of any other app that can do this a lot and not give me a pesky watermark on my photo. I'm not sure how fixable this issue is but if it were, I would be over the moon and would definitely change my rating to 5 stars. Thank you. Hello! Thanks for not having the time to share your concerns with us! We agree the crashes are the worst. Fast fix: Go to device settings - Apps - PicsArt - Storage - Clear Cache - Clear Data. If these steps do not help, please contact us support@picsart.com. We will do our best to solve the problem you have! So 3 stars 5 for the actual functionality of the application. It's good, it works. For all the intense purposes it's a photo editing app that works pretty well. I was around before the premium membership and I enjoyed it a lot more. Ads are all I'm used to it with free apps. What bothers me though is this new membership award. Look, I understand that you've all been working on this app and that money is the thing that people want. However this photo editing app does not need to pay monthly membership to edit photos. You know what else charges a monthly membership fee? Netflix, Disney, WHOLE adobe creative suite package, and many other services that offer a lot more than this app. Pay $5.99 per month for just a few filters and no advertising? That's ridiculous. I won't pay for it and shelled out every 5 seconds and the ad telling me to go premium starts to annoy me. I used to recommend this app but now I can't because I would feel like I'm telling people to get a membership and I don't think it's worth it. Other apps have exactly the same package of filters and ad-free editing tools to pay for ONE TIME. They do this for a reason because it's much easier to convince 20 people to pay a $4.99 one-time fee than a repeat payment each month. This is my suggestion to throw out this premium monthly plan and just make it a one-time payment. I would actually buy this.
