Updated at 1.10.1am If you are a car racing and drifting fan, then this game is for you. In CarX Drift Racing your main goal is to put on a drifting score and cross the finish line first. You have to keep the car sliding as soon as possible and as wide as possible. Upgrade racing cars for the best results or win featured cars by winning races. In CarX Drift Racing you get a race of 35 different cars divided into five classes. You start with the Panther M5, then you can go to the Caravan G6 (boxed Volvo 240) and Peterbilt 359. Drifting with the best cars will give you the best results. The same thing happens with race tracks. The more expensive the track, the better bonus you achieve. CarX Drift Racing Controls and Upgrades

Tweaking your car upgrades are very important as it will help you improve race time and results just like you do in any other car game such as in the asphalt series. Players have a wide range of upgrades to take care of from upgrading turbofan cars to pressure in tires to your wheels' camber and foot angles. Timely updates are your friends. Each car has five progressive powertrains and transmissions. Stocks, Turbo, Racing, Drift, and Ultimate. The latter is one that requires special coins to purchase. After purchasing a specific setup, you have 24 hours to set it up for free. After that, you have to spend some special coins for this. Race management comes in standard formats. You can drive the car either by tilting the screen or through directed buttons. If you want to ask the most of you, switch gears to mechanical and control everything. There is a total of 22 track layouts to burn rubber with drifting skills, each requiring cash to unlock. And special coins to unlock special tracks. The more expensive the track you race on, the more useful in terms of the money earned when you win Race. This is a fun game with a mixture of drifting.
