In just a few words, everything about a fake or real relationship is perfectly described by the author! Really loved the book! It was short, essentially reader-friendly, generally non-lecture type, not beating around a book or confusing and straight on the subject in a few words. If someone needs to know that spoils the wonderful relationship between two individuals whose culprit, who started it, who suffered, who is still waiting, and who has forgotten the way before, then this is BOOK! He will tell you at once about all the pros and cons of broken relationships and tell you what to do or not to do! For example: He can be a good person and still not be the right person for you. What hurts you most is not the fact that it's over, but the fact that you decided to spend your time with it in the first place. Good people don't run. So if you find yourself having to chase a person, stop... That's not the right person! Just because he made a good best friend doesn't necessarily mean he'll make a good boyfriend. I think I'll quote the whole book. These one or two line sentences say it all. This is all a woman should know before trusting STRANGER and labeling him as a good man, trusting him completely and losing his mind, body and herself after him. Then one day he just leaves for no reason! He suddenly becomes a liar, a crook and a cunning man who now can not be trusted or loved! We all made mistakes and we all went through this situation at least once. But, it's time, you need to realize your self-esteem and run away from these losers who present themselves as the best lovers, but turn out to be just the opposite! Do not be fooled by the words of a person and his inconsistent actions. Instead, look for consistency for a long period of time, because if you think about it, every wrong person that you've ever dated seemed like the right person in the beginning. Now, this is alarming! You need to be vigilant enough to read the double meaning in the wrong person's words and actions should be able to recognize a good person even if he is standing in a crowd. You have to good understanding between both types of men, in order to recognize them quickly. Once you find a loving guy, you'll know he's alone! He will tell you the truth of the truth every word and action him and how loyal he is to you. The right man will not untie your heart: he will protect him. His physical strength can bring you the comfort of knowing that you are protected, but it is his ability to attend to your emotional needs that gives you the peace of mind that comes with knowing that you are loved and respected. When it's the right person, you don't have to change; He's going to love you for who you are. When the right person enters your life and loves all your dreams come true! ;) Take her somewhere she never was; Show her something she has never seen and make her feel like she never felt.
