You can just restrng your hue using this instructional video that covers how to rest Hunter Douglas, Alta, M.B., or the applause of cellular hundred shadows. Children can be strangled in blind cords. To make your blinds safer for kids, keep the cords out of reach and provide cord and bead chain loops. To learn more, please visit our children's safety guide. Use the formula to determine the total number of rows in need of repair: 2x length and width is multiplied by the number of elevator lines. The shadow will pull out to you when removed. Your capacitors and brushes may be different from those shown in the video. Remove the ferry from the line and set it aside for reuse. Repeat these steps for all other lifting lines. Thread the string through the bottom of the guide cord. Place the cord guide in the hole punched into the fabric. If the guides are damaged on one side, replace them or rotate them 180 degrees. Bring all the strings in the same direction on which the cord lock will be mounted. Make sure the string is inserted between two metal bales on the cord lock. Make sure the strings don't catch on or pinched inside the head road when installing the lock. First, slide the top anterior side of the shadow into brackets. Make sure the bracket sits in the slot in front of the head seat. Tighten the screws to secure the bracket. Lift the shadow and hold it. Make sure it locks in place properly. Jeff's review (published May 12, 2020) Is the second time buying a repair kit for our Hunter Douglas shades. Thanks for the training video and make this repair as easy as can be! We have 4 shades and have now replaced the engines and gearboxes on two of them. Hoping that they will last longer than the originals. We got five years of originals, don't seem all that impressive for what they're worth. Pato review (published on January 09, 2019) Great site with very detailed detail for an amateur blind fixer. Beats, taking him to the store. If the top down/bottom up blind and needed to be replaced down the gear and engines. The video was detailed enough to figure it out (loosen the top coils before pulling the last plug engine). Now again works well as new! Thank you! Nancy G's review (published October 29, 2018) Is very glad that I found this site and it has a video to repair. It saved me from having to send to this very big blind. It broke down every three years, but this time is not covered by Hunter Douglas' warranty. If I ever have to replace this huge blind, I won't replace Hunter Douglas and get one with a lightweight growth system. Husband watched the video, put on pieces, and is working fine now. We'll see how long it will take this time before it needs repair again. Review by Frank Castle (published October 13, 2018) Feel like I won the damn lottery to find this site! Spent the evening looking for pieces for my Hunter Douglas shades and right as I called it a night, I came across this site. Clear instructions on which parts to order, as well as a video detailing the replacement procedure. Ordered the parts that night and they sent the next morning!! Couldn't be happier with the service and the product. A review of wells (published on October 06, 2018) My blind man has been broken for a year as I don't want to face the expense of calling someone in based on the photos here I realized that I could get spare parts. I needed one email to clarify exactly what to order as my color transfer scheme was another and I received an email during the day. All the pieces arrived very quickly and well packed. A YouTube video is worth watching, it takes you step by step through the process and it's really easy. Just go slow and keep watching the video. The actual repair was quick and simple, and now works as well as the new one. Charles Review (published on August 31, 2018) I also missed the offer to repair the LiteRise Top Down/Bottom Up shade with two mechanisms, and ordered two sets of gearboxes and engines. Turns out it wasn't that hard, I just had to do it twice. Instead of suspending the shadow I stretched it out on the ground both systems are completely expanded with chairs to keep it that way. No problem. Geri's review (published on August 19, 2018) I had nothing but problems with my HD Duette shades from day one. Given the initial total cost, I replaced the arrangements myself every time a string of breaks (and all of them sooner or later) rather than buying new shades. Today's purchase will be my fourth line of shadow/engine replacement in three years. I've done this so many times, I could probably get the job done by fixing these suckers! Thank goodness for this site and otherwise I would be at the mercy of the company from which I bought these shades where they would send it out of the state and charge me arm and leg to fix. I don't recommend anyone to buy these shades! They're definitely not worth the money. Fix this kit is a great thing. Tim's review (published on July 12, 2018) I'm so glad I ran through this part of the website and instructions to fix these shades. I'm so disgusted with these shades of Hunter Douglas as this is the fourth time they failed, but they were so expensive I can't just throw them away yet. The first two times we sent them for repairs and waited many weeks for their return. It's a shade of bedroom privacy, so it's quite uncomfortable. On the third failure, I was going to junk them, but then ran through this site. Repairs weren't that hard, and it worked! Unfortunately, one recently failed again, but as before, your handling and delivery response is stellar to get those troublesome shades back to use. The shadow was out of service for only three days. Thank you so much for providing a cost-effective solution for this troublesome product. Dave's review (published June 22, 2018) My Bad. I missed the offer to repair the LiteRise Top Down Down/Bottom Up shade with two mechanisms (one on each side of the headgear) and that trying to repair them is much harder. I understood that when it was all piece by piece on the floor. (Oh, there are two mechanisms here...) Looked at the block and my box of new parts for hours... With nothing to lose, I decided to try to disable the top-down feature. I removed the assembly engine from top to bottom and tied the top rack constantly at the top of the head stock, providing cords around them to occupy the reels. In other words, the top-down section won't move. Then followed the instructions for repairing the bottom-up function. Worked great! We will never miss the top down because after 10 years I don't think I used it once. Of course Beats spends hundreds on a new shade! Phil Dunn's review (published April 24, 2018) Great to see someone that can help you in the world of self-service review Allen (published April 18, 2018) I searched for spare parts for shade and found them here. My emails were given timely answers and I didn't have to wait on hold when I called-Bill answered and patiently explained all my questions. I would like to book with them again in the future and I highly recommend ordering spare parts from them- they did what it took to make sure I was satisfied. Thank you! Review by Reginald Cortez (published on March 25, 2018) Good Material Review by Ed Burnett (published on April 04, 2017) Well, I've been waiting for this moment. Some background... I had an HD Duette problem, so searched the web. Found a website in the Chicago area and saw the parts needed visually. But, being unfamiliar with the HD engine mechanism and conflict in color transmission, I sent an email with my question as no phone number did not Granted. days later I rec'd rec'd answer that he should have seen it. Well done... he's in Schaumburg, and I'm in St. Louis. Ok.. so I called HD support, which were very polite and concerning, but didn't have any answers. Somewhat discouraged, I continued my search on the internet and luckily found the Automated ShadeStore. Their website was easy to use and navigate, there were all the answers right there, including photos and even installation instructions. To be safe, I called them and talked to Tim. What a lovely gentleman and man. You could immediately tell that he not only cared, but was very knowledgeable. What I thought was insightful was the fact that they kit available to make repairs that much more efficient and easy. Now for biggy ... their prices were much less than the Schaumburg website, which in today and age is amazing. I ordered a kit with very reasonable delivery and had it for two days... all the way from pa. UPS can't do this if you pay for a 2-day. On arrival I had another question and called again. The phone was always answered directly... No transfers and very nice. This time I was talking to Tim's father, who wouldn't let me hang up until he completely got me to do repairs. Talk about customer service. It can't be better. If I ever get to the Pittsburgh area I will definitely stop to personally express my gratitude.
