Talking Tom Gold Run is the new Android runner from Outfit7, which gave us hits such as My Talking Angela and Swamp Attack. In his new creation, the player will have to control a continuously running cat that pursues the thief who stole his bag of gold. The gameplay is to build and arrange housing for Tom and his friends. To upgrade, you need to earn game currency by participating in the pursuit of stolen bullion. As with other similar runners, the victory depends directly on the skill of the player and the distance traveled. In addition to gold, the line often needs crystals that can be earned by breaking into special safes scattered around locations. In Talking Tom Gold Run, as in Subway Surfers, there are many different improvements that make it easier to collect game currency. They can be found during the races, as well as purchased in the game store. The most common bonus is the magnet, which perfectly attracts gold bars when the character is nearby. Improve the first houses are quite simple, but the higher the level, the more bullion and crystals you will need to switch to new locations. The graphics in the game do not stand out. These are all the same drawn textures and cartoon characters that can be found in games of this genre. Control is carried out by gestures, which the user learns about literally from the first minutes of the game. Talking Tom Gold Run is not original, as there are quite a lot of similar applications in Google Play. However, a well-developed system of improvements and site upgrades distinguishes this runner from the competition. Recommended exclusively to fans of the genre. MOD Talking Tom: Gold Run is a 3D endless runner who is very similar to incredible subway surfers. In this game you play Talking Tom and all his friends (Angela, Hank, Ginger and Ben). Your goal of course is to get as far as you can as well as collecting gold lingots along the way. Sliding your finger left or right on the screen moves the character from side to side. But swiping up or down makes you jump or slide on the ground accordingly. Using these simple controls, you have to dodge all the obstacles in your way: trucks, fences, cars, walls... With the golden lingots you collect, you can upgrade the House of Talking Tom. The more you upgrade his house, the higher the score you will get. In addition, upgrading the house allows you to unlock new characters like Angela or Hank, two of Tom's friends. Talking Tom: Gold Run is a fun and well made endless runner, although its one drawback is that it is too similar to Metro Surfers and other endless runners. It really doesn't offer anything new, and even the graphics feel all too familiar. Downloaded magicky Using HappyMod download Mod APK with 3x speed.
