It was founded in 1909 by Michio Suzuki. The company began its activities with the production of looms, motorcycles and motorcycles, was founded as Suzuki Loom Works. In 1930, japan's demand for cars soared, and in 1937 Michio Suzuki employees started a project to create small cars. After the creation of several prototypes of the program, it was minimized due to the outbreak of World War II. The idea of creating cars returned only in 1951, when the market collapsed. The Suzuki Power Free motorcycle was created, the feature of which was the presence of two drive-driven proquettes, thanks to which you can move only at the expense of the engine, using the pedal or simultaneously using both types of drive. In 1954, the company was renamed Suzuki Motor Co., Ltd., during which time it produced about 6,000 motorcycles and mopeds per month. A year has gone into production of the front-wheel-drive mini-car Suzulight with an independent front and rear suspension. In 1962, the team became the first winner of the Moto GP series to export motorcycles to the United States, at the same factory. In 1982, the band released the world's first quad bike - the model quadrunner LT125. In 1967, the company opened its first overseas factory in Thailand, in 1982 began its operations in India. In 2008, Suzuki's joint venture with Indian company Maruti Udyog took 50% of the local automotive market. In 1967, the group began production of the first generation of family boats Fronte, Alto, Cervo, in 1983 appears above the class model - Swift / Cultus. Car exports to the United States began in 1985. Production of the Vitara crossover began in 1988. In 1991, magyar Suzuki was built in Hungary. In December 2009, Suzuki formed an alliance with the German Volkswagen Group, exchanging the latest stakes and announcing the joint development of environmentally friendly cars. Less than two years later, in September 2011, the alliance was announced. Liana Alto Lapin APV Cappuccino Carry Cervo Suzuki Cultus (Aka Suzuki Forsa, Geo Metro, Pontiac Firefly, and so on. d.)
