Gameloop is formerly known as Tencent Gaming Buddy (TGB) or Tencent Game Assistant. But now it's rebranding with great features and support games. Gameloop OverviewGameloop is specifically optimized for games, not for the usual Android. It was developed by Tencent, the developers of PUBG. That's why the emulator engine is best optimized for PUBG and other online games. Gameloop- Interesting new social networking app that focuses on gamers. Gameloop is a brand new platform that lets you play mobile games on your PC. There are numerous popular games available on gameloop including Call of Duty: Mobile, PUBG Mobile, Free Fire, Arena of Valor, Mobile Legends and more that are yet to be updated soon. Despite the presence of Game Center, gameloop is an app where you can meet new friends to play games with. It brings together different resources. To get more information, you can import Xbox Live, Steam and PSN, as well as iOS details Besides a few problems that I had with gameloop, the basic principle is a good idea. When he's done with import data, he lists all the games that one has played. Which makes it easy to add more information about each title. As a library, Gameloop gives you the best experience. The main feature of its success is the social features that make it easy to interact with players. The main loop, as the app calls it, is great for just talking about games. What should I know about Gameloop? Aside from the best Features of Gameloop, it has some notable difficulties. Importing Xbox360 games is a challenge, without explanation. Finding and limiting filtering are also a problem. But it's not such a big deal when the community is small. Best Android Emulator PUBG and COD playback on PC. The game center for the most supported games. Smooth gameplay. Keymapping play games with the keyboard and mouse. Games may not fail on old computers and GPU. Forced to download the game on the first installation. It's really hard to download just a gameloop emulator only. New features in GameloopIf you use Tencent Gaming Buddy, you'll notice a few new things, but most features are borrowed from the old TGB. Let's take a look at the new features. Game CenterTencent continues to test the best Android games on Gameloop and adds the most effective games to the Game Center area. Thus, the games you see in the Game Center section are properly tested and work 100% on the emulator. CenterUser LoginOnline games often require you to create accounts and log in to play the game. That's why gameloop has a special login system that allows you to log in using Facebook or Google accounts. Social Signin Gameloop with Facebook or Google AccountLive StreamsYou can enjoy live streams on Nimotv and Nonolive only inside Gameloop. It's great to enjoy your favorite streams live without leaving the app game. Nimo Live TV on GameloopNonolive on Live Game LoopNetwork AccelerationY You can't tolerate network problems in online games. Frequent outages or network losses will definitely destroy the fun and lead to the game over. But Gameloop's latest versions have fixed this problem with network acceleration technology. This will provide a stable connection even on slow networks. So no more network failure due to the slow speed of the internet. Join the official FriendsJoin PUBG lobby to find team members and join the chat rooms. Just find a friends icon on the left bottom of the emulator and discover amazing friends. How do I use Gameloop? If you've experienced PUBG Mobile on your PC with the TGB (Tencent Gaming Buddy) emulator, you'll find Gameloop to be similar to TGB or Tencent Gaming Assistant. The user interface and game settings are almost the same as TGB. The fact behind this similarity is the development company behind both emulators. Gameloop is actually a stable version of TGB (which was a beta version). Tencent is the developer of the game PUBG Mobile and has created its own Android emulator for the game PUBG Mobile on Windows PC. Although the PUBG PC edition was released and became popular in a very short time, it was heavy on system resources, and only a high-end PC could play the game. For those who are not familiar with the Gameloop app player, here's a quick overview, let's take a look. How to install GameloopInstallation is quite simple and automated. You don't need to set anything up except the initial stages of installation. Let's learn how to install an emulator on Windows. First, download the Gameloop installer from the current page (the download link is available at the top and bottom of the page). Once the load is complete, start the installer and start setting up. Choose where to install Click the installation button. The installation will start loading Turbo AOW Engine as a base emulator. Bar progress will be at the bottom of the screen with a download percentage (from 1.0% to 100%). If you don't want to install PUBG MOBILE or CODM (Call of Duty MOBILE) with the Gameloop emulator, keep an eye on the installation progress bar. complete, go to the current game or My Games option and cancel the installation of the automatic game in the bottom right corner. Gameloop TroubleshootingHere is a list of common problems and possible solutions. The following pre-installation check error message doesn't allow you to start installing: You can't install because drive C: doesn't have more than 3GB of space. Please clean the place first. The message is pretty clear the emulator can't install because you don't have at least 3GB of free storage space. Make sure you have the space you need to drive, and then try to install the program again. Some game setup requires Android Nougat at least. When you try to install this game, you'll see the following error message: the game can't be launched without installing Android 7Please Standard Engine for stable operation. Click the installation button, and the Standard Engine will download and install Android 7 support for the Gameloop app player. The game will be set automatically. An error message appears when installing the Standard Engine for Android 7:Error: Write an error in the android_data_disk.vdi file. Probably the drive is full. Retry or Cancel.This message appears when the emulator tries to load a standard engine, but there is not enough free space on the drive. Please free up some disk space and then click the Retry button.
