The purpose of the Introductory Level is to introduce the rider and/or horse into the sport of clothing. To show an understanding of riding forward at a steady pace in elastic contact with independent stable hands and a properly balanced seat. Show the correct geometry of the figures in the arena. It also confirms that the horse is elastic and moves freely forward in a clear and steady rhythm, taking contact with the bit. This level is done primarily on the walk and growth of the lynx with some basic canter work being introduced into the introductory level of the C. The introductory level of Requirement Entry Level consists of 3 tests. Tests A and B include walking and lynx work. Test C introduces a small amount of canter work. They contain mostly straight lines and 20m laps in medium walking, free walking and climbing trot. The introductory C test has approximately 1/2 to 3/4 of the 20-meter canter circle in each direction. These movements are designed to show horses the ability to perform the required movements in a willing, elastic manner. Horse and rider are judged by the following: Gaits (freedom and regularity) - X1Impulsion ratio (desire to move forward with back elasticity and steady pace) Ratio x1Smissionub (acceptance of constant contact, Attention and Confidence) - Odds - X2Rider Position (keeping balance with the horse) - Ratio - Efficiency X1Rider means (bending and preparing conversions) - X1Geometry and Precision (correct size and shape of laps and turns) - Ratio No. X1 These elements are required as horse and rider progress.
