FIFA 20 APK and OBB Installation Files GuideYou will have to follow a slightly different process to download FIFA 20 APK. It's a combination of the APK game and the OBB file, and so it can get a little tricky. Both files are important if you want to run the game properly So, follow every step carefully that we've described below: Unzip compressed data files APK and OBB. You'll need an app that will break up compressed files. Go to the Google Play Store on your device Find the Archiver app as winrar and use it. Open the folder after extracting the compressed files to find the APK. Now click on the APK game file and the installer will pop up on the screen. Now click on the Set option to install this game and then click on the Made option to close the installation app. Copy the OBB File folder and move it to the internal/SD'gt;Obb.Now, find the FIFA 20 app and start the game. The process is over if the game is running on your phone without any problems. FIFA 20 will require Internet access to obtain the necessary data. Turn on the Internet after the game is launched and it will be updated automatically. If the game doesn't work properly, you didn't follow the installation process perfectly. So, check again and reinstall this game to run it without any problems. Installing a database file in FIFA 20It will first feel like you are playing a normal version of the game when you run it for the first time. This may be because the new database is not automatically implemented or installed on your device. You need a new database to test all new features such as new players, kits, stadiums and other features. So, follow these simple steps to install a new database on your device: Find a new database file in the OBB file folder. You can get it in the form of lightning, so use the Archiver app to unpack the file and extract its data. After accessing the data stored in the database file, go to the Internal/SD phone store. Now copy and insert the database folder in this new location to gain access to it in the game. Be sure to delete the old database file before you insert a new file. Now run the game again and you'll see new resources unlocked there.
