The fourth season ended after 22 episodes on February 14, 2001 on British Sky One, which overtook Showtime mid-season. The series was developed by Brad Wright and Jonathan Glassner. Season 4 regular cast members include Richard Dean Anderson, Michael Shanks, Amanda Tapping, Christopher Judge, and Don S. Davis. Production and release In a scene in Divide and Conquer that flashes back to events in the update where Carter and O'Neill are trapped on opposite sides of the force field, the lines were written, but the actors chose not to speak them. In Watergate, molten toxic wax was used to give Mayborn a frozen look. Tom McBeath couldn't breathe it or risked his health. The actual ending of the episode, in which O'Neill suggests that the two races had just exchanged hostages, was not the intended ending, so the episode seems to end so suddenly. In Beneath the Surface, Tra and Jonah had to kiss to confirm that they were in a relationship, but this was filmed because O'Neill had already kissed Carter at the start of the season in Window of Opportunity. Chain Reaction made many references to the film Silence of the Lambs. As Lecter does with Clarice in the film, Harry Mayborn refers to the quid pro quo if O'Neill really wants help from him. Another reference is the last phone conversation between O'Neill and Mayborn, the latter ringing from an exotic location, just as Lecter called Clarice Starling at the end of Silence of the Lambs. Double Jeopardy is the only episode of stargate SG-1, Actor actor Shank. This episode is a continuation of the first season of Tin Man, where the SG-1 robotic team first appeared. Artificial Daniel Jackson wears a bandana covering his hair, as it was created when Daniel (and Shanks) had long hair. Exodus is the last season finale that ends on a cliffhanger before the nine-season camelot. Little Victory was nominated for an Emmy Award in 2001 in the Outstanding Special Visual Effects category for the series and the 2001 Gemini Award in the Best Visual Effects category. Tangent was nominated for the Gemini Award in the Best Visual Effects category. CooperJune 30, 2000 (2000-06-30) Replicator on Earth reproduced and took over the submarine: O'Neill and Teal's neutralizes the threat. Carter goes with Thor to protect Asgard's home world from replicators. They use Asgard's newest ship (named O'Neill) to lure replicators into hyperspace where the ship is blown up. 682Pruging sidePieter DeLuiseBrad WrightJuly 7, 2000 (2000-07-07) People on the planet Euronada contact Stargate Command for help; they are waging a losing war against an enemy they call selectors and have run out of food and fuel. SG-1 goes to Euronde and makes an alliance for the trade of heavy water for advanced technologies to fight Goa'uld. But SG-1 discovers that their new allies are guilty of mass genocide against selectors. SG-1 then sabotages the base and destroys it. 693UpgradesMartin WoodDavid RichJuly 14, 2000 (2000-07-14) Tok'ra Anise gives Atanik hands devices to O'Neill, Carter, and Daniel that greatly increase their strength and speed. But the devices rely on a virus that is eventually neutralized by the human immune system, causing SG-1 members to lose the power they received. However, they don't realize this until they are on a mission on PX9-757, the planet where Apophis is building a new prototype mothership. 704PercultPuter DeLuiseKatharyn Powers21 2000 (2000-07-21) SGC visited Shan'auc, a Woman Jaffa, who discovered how to communicate with her maggots symbiot and claims that she has information information can destroy Goa'uld. 715 Separate and reignMartin Woodtor Alexander Walesa28 July 2000 (2000-07-28) Goa'udd can impose subconscious programming on people. Tok'ra has a test to detect programming (by detecting lies), and when it is applied to the staff of the StarGate Team, Carter and O'Neill are affected. They were supposed to be affected in an episode of Update, however he found that Carter and O'Neill were subconsciously failing the test because of their feelings for each other. Feelings they try to avoid and lie about before realizing their mistake. 726Octern Of OpportunityPieter DeLuiseJoseph Mallozzi and Paul MullieAugust 4, 2000 (2000-08-04) After meeting with an ancient time device on P4X-639, O'Neill and Teal'c get trapped during a cycle that only they know about. 737WatergateMartin C. CooperAugust 11, 2000 (2000-08-11) The Russians used the second Stargate in secret, but after recruiting a world that is completely underwater, they lose contact with their Stargate facility and the Star commandgate approach for help. The cause is detected by microscopic creatures that live in water and control. They break free and try to return home through the Stargate, controlling human bodies and radiating enough energy to keep the Stargate open indefinitely. 748FirstPeter DeLuiseAugust 18, 2000 (2000-08-18) Helping with excavations of petrified Goa'ulds on P3X-888, home world of Goa'ulda and Unas, Daniel Jackson captured Unas named Chuck.
