Mathematics. Content. HSG.CO.C.11 Evidence theorems about parallelograms. Theorems include: opposite sides are congruent, opposite angles are congruent, diagonals of a parallelogram bisect each other, and conversely, rectangles are parallelograms with congruent diagonals. CCSS. Mathematics. Content. HSG.CO. D.12 Make formal geometric constructions with a variety of tools and methods (compass and straightedge, string, reflective units, paper folding, dynamic geometric software, etc.). Copying a segment. copying an angle, cut through a segment. cut through an angle; construct perpendicular lines, including the angular bisector of a line segment, and construct a line parallel to a given line through a point not on the line. Algebra needs lesson on parallel lines and cross-cutting (Click on the links below for more free resources) Fun Class Activities Incorporate parallel lines and transverse parallel lines Cut by a transverse guided notes Parallel lines are coplanar lines that do not intersect. The symbol \parallel is parallel to.. When a line cuts two or more lines, the angles formed at the intersections create special angular pairs. A transverse line is a line that cuts two or more coplanar lines at different points. The special angular pairs formed by parallel lines and a transverse are congruent, complementary or both. If a transverse cuts two parallel lines, then alternative interior angles are congruent. If a transverse cuts two parallel lines, angles are congruent. If a transverse cuts two parallel lines, then the same side interior angles are additional. If a transverse cutter cuts parallel lines so that alternate outer angles are congruent. Identify all angles that are congruent to the given angle. Identify all the angles that complement the given angle. Find the value of x.
