Page 2 6 comments trying to add a friend. None of us can be invited from the other screen name##### format input correctly so I don't know why it doesn't work. Are you crazy? Hey, much like the rest of you, I'm quite siked about the direct challenge option, that's what I feel the games are missing. I've already enjoyed using it, but what's so up with winning and playing card counting towards your daily quests and what's not? I kind of understood it on one side, but as a mostly free user to play I rely on those quests to get the cards I need and with the amount of limit I have since I now have to choose between getting more cards and a better deck by playing against my family and friends. And to be honest, I'd rather play with my buddies and so I'm glad the direct challenge is here, but he feels a bad man as well. Thanks for listening Edit* Well I see where you are all coming from and appreciate you responding to my post. Maybe progressing towards daily rewards is not a good thing. You still feel bad for me that there is no reward page 2 16 comments I and a friend this morning tried to play direct challenge, I put in his username #12345, and he put in my username #12345, but says we're waiting for another to do a direct challenge.. i tried with my brother two days ago. I copied his name and he copied mine, but it didn't work out, my friend and I tried to create a board state where none of us could do anything to make the game just a priority go back and forth. This is how we did it! -game [Dominance Leach]-draw the entire deck of the game [Trofier Captain]]-One of us [Extinction Star]-Banished Lands Without card to draw, play and tap without being able to die the game passed priority back and forth without us being able to interact until the game fell for both of us. We had an explosion, concluding: The challenge is direct drugs. Page 2 Does anyone know exactly when direct challenges start? The update is now available for mtg: Arena customer. You can now send direct challenges to players.

Attention: This way progress does not lend Each Quests.Edit: feature works by entering the user name, selecting the deck and sending the invitation. The top 2 31 comments just seemed like an idea to make a topic where people looking for arena straight challenge games can provide worthy opponents who are present online and that color and style of play will provide them with a suitable challenge... Also without real chat in the app is the place to talk about your game! Game!
