Used to make an offer and got this alpine to steal :) The delivery was super fast to my place in vic. One of the best stereo I've owned in a long time. I bought this with an amplifier, although it was a little hard to fit into the amplifier bolted on the back in my Subaru Forester. Worth the effort because the sound is magical! The only thing I want this stereo has is DAB Overall I appreciate this alpine stereo 8/10 Great - but not perfect I like the user interface - it's simple and uncluttered. However, I feel that the radio really should have had the RDS built-in - so instead of looking at the frequency of the broadcast number would show the name of the radio station. The sound quality of the music is amazing, but the sound quality of the phone calls is a bit tinable. Overall, it's good value for money. The next review is for the iLX-W650, which is part of the package you're browsing. The installation was simple and fast, except for the parking brake wire. You can't do any tuning without this connection, including blackout. I wish there was an endless blackout for the back light, but it's not overwhelming. My antenna seems to be connected properly, but I am not able to tune in to any station. Pros are great sound, fit and function, especially for $300. Cons - Parking brake wire is a safety feature, not an endless rear light dime following the review for the iLX-W650, which is part of the bundle you're browsing. Fast start, steering wheel control work normally, the camera works well. Auto dimmer has enough variability for my taste. Didn't do the parking bypass, but found only advanced sound settings in need of a parking brake. The screen is beautiful, great response, good sound. The thought is that I would be annoyed by the parking brake for tweaks, but in fact they are installed once and forget. I'd rather live than watch a video while I'm driving. The next review is for the iLX-W650, which is part of the package you're browsing. The display of the radio screen is illuminated nicely with large easy-to-read buttons and easy to go to various pre-programmed stations. I also have a steering wheel that works great as well. The only thing missing is that it doesn't have HD or RDS or what you call it to show the artist's name and song. When you play your own music, it shows that information. Apple Car Play is great! Now I can see my cards on the screen rather than look at my phone. It is necessary for the future without looking at your phone while driving! The backup camera works well, too. Next review for iLX-W650, which is part of the package you I just installed this in my 1999 Ford Crown Victoria LX. It fits very easily into a place with only minor changes to the dash cavity. All I had to do was remove the plastic ridges at the top and bottom with a rotary grinding tool. I also trimmed any excess length from set of installation dash. It's super easy to fit. After the disappointment of finding a defrosting channel running through my dash, blocking any chance of an easy double din head unit setup, I found the iLX-W650! It sounds fantastic and its super shallow body seems like it was done with my specific space limitations in mind! Also, the price is quite competitive. Some even gave me the installation parts for free for my machine. Not sure about yours, but I'd call them and ask! They are very useful. The next review is for XCMINI1, which is part of the package you're browsing. I bought 2 of them - one for Wrangler and the other Honda Fit. This is a 3 piece harness/cable that makes installation much easier. Both units were connected with the Pioneer NEX and the parking lines included were good enough to leave the pioneers turned. Parking lines are also curved with the direction of your steering wheel angle, which is a good feature. I'll buy a third. The next review is for the iLX-W650, which is part of the package you're browsing. Absolutely love this head block and don't miss out on not having a CD or DVD at all. In 2020, there really isn't a need for a CD or DVD player as you're most likely streaming everything. Apple CarPlay is fantastic. One of the best parts of this radio is the ability to adjust the speakers for a completely flat response in your car through the parametric equalizer. Once you've done that, it's time to move on to the time of leveling the speakers. It's not a gimmick and produces amazing results when done right. The bass is much sharper, the vocals become crystal clear, and the visualization and sound staging will really bring the sound to life. The only way better than this is to get a full DSP where you have complete control of the parametric equalizer and alignment time for each individual speaker, provided you deliver each with your own amplification channel. This is what is known as running fully active. This is a very expensive option. The next review is for XCMINI1, which is part of the package you're browsing. It's a great camera for the cost. It's not too bulky and works great. The next review is for the iLX-W650, which is part of the package you're browsing. The radio works and looks great! It's also half the size of a regular double noise in the back, which leaves tons of room for extra wires. The next review is for the iLX-W650, which is part of the package you're browsing. I use both apple and android phones with this device. Both work perfectly, and the interface is super easy to use. The next review is for the iLX-W650, which is part of the package you're browsing. iLX-w650 is a great overall unit, PROs super shallow chassis, excellent sound quality, sleek interface without additional nonsense. The touchscreen is almost identical to the iPad. Cons, one rear usb, should use the APPLE lighting cable for With carplay can not be no apple product, can not turn off crossovers, others, then these cons. I love the units. The NHS is so good that all the con could be more looked at!!! The next review is for the iLX-W650, which is part of the package you're browsing. This radio exceeds my expectations. I was thrilled to find an alpine source unit with a fair pricetag. When you combine this unit with the Alpine KTA-450, you create a high-quality sound at a great price. Even with a power supply mounted on the back, the space combo takes up in a dash much less than the average aftermarket head block. I would have given this product 5 stars, but I felt that a couple of things were missing. It would be nice to have HD radio and aux login in the back to include my dash stock options, but needless to say, I'm still very happy with my choice. The next review is for the iLX-W650, which is part of the package you're browsing. This pretty much works great with my Samsung note 8. It takes almost no time to actually connect. I wish it would start up faster, but there is no other complaint. The next review is for the iLX-W650, which is part of the package you're browsing. This alpine interface is very easy to use, big icons, enjoy Apple Car Play, Siri, the microphone is very accurate I should not repeat. The sound is awesome, I also added an alpine KTA 450 and attached it to the back of the head block and 100 W to the channel. Also added alpine food Subwoofer PWE-S8. Added Sirius XM tuner with 3 months free to try it out, sounds great. Added alpine backup camera back. The only thing I would like to do is change the background screen, maybe Alpine will have a firmware update soon. Also, I would like to have more apps like Netflix, Weather, Google or Mirror iPhone would be a good feature. The price is fair. We recommend this product at the best prices Sonic Electronic and fast delivery. The next review is for the iLX-W650, which is part of the package you're browsing. Works flawlessly with my iPhone 11 Pro. The next review is for the iLX-W650, which is very surprised by this stereo. I bought it with a kata-450 that fastened to the back of it, but it sounded good without it. The only problem I have is Alpine ordinary stuff where you have to have it plugged into the parking brake switch to get to the settings and that's it. Other than that, it looks and sounds good. The next review is for the iLX-W650, which is part of the package you're browsing. It's a great unit, especially for the price, it really exceeded my expectations. The only thing is if the parking brake wire is not connected a lot of functions will not work. But after posting everything like this should be all running and big no problem from ... The next review is for the iLX-W650, which is part of the package you're browsing. View. Alpine block in my '11 Frontier. Everything works well, the device was easy to install due to the shallow form factor. AA works great, without any lag, which I was worried about with my Pixel3. Gesture controls work, except when you're in Android Auto, which is incompatible, but I've used the Axxess steering wheel module, and it does the trick. Overall very happy with the new stereo, no need to update the speaker and perhaps to the south? The next review is for the iLX-W650, which is part of the package you're browsing. First, I like this product. You'll definitely get what you pay for and then some of them. I almost exclusively bought this unit for apple Carplay features. And he does it semi-reliably. When I first got it it was almost never. So I did a software update and that improved it, but didn't completely fix it. So I have to plug in and disable the lightning cable rep on a regular basis, but not always. I plan to get a new cable and try that, but two or three that I did the same. When it works, it's awesome though. Love the capacious touch screen. He doesn't show fingerprints terribly badly. The radio check-in is great, although I don't use it much. But it doesn't show the station tags and songs that I understand. It's a little weird that it doesn't exist. I would recommend this unit to anyone. I'm knocking it down because of the connection with Carplay issues, but overall for three bills it's a big buy. The next review is for the iLX-W650, which is part of the package you're browsing. Whether you're looking for an entry-level budget Android Auto/Carplay stereo or want something that has a shallow installation depth, this is a decent block. It was easy to install and has good sound quality, but it has one huge con. Compared to my Sony XAV-AX100, the display is absolutely scary! All colors just look washed out and there doesn't seem to be any tweaks to customize the image quality. The next review is for the iLX-W650, which is part of the package you're browsing. The size makes it very easy to install. It takes about 10 seconds to start the car. Bypassing the parking brake sensor was a bit of a pain. If you connect to the ground, it will work until you turn off the car then back. I ended up wiring the switch to the ground, and putting the parking brake wire on the switch. Whenever I start my truck I flip off and then back and it works without any problems. I always like the volume of the handle, but the volume of the buttons work decently fast Pros: the big touch screen, Apple carplay

works flawlessly, small design, tons of equalizer and crossover features, good price cons: 10 second start-up, parking brake wire a bit of pain, can not adjust the home screen, not Handle Next Review for ILX-W650, which is part of the bundle you're browsing. This alpine was one of the best I put in my truck Next review review for the ILX-W650, which is part of the package you're browsing. A good quality item is priced, especially with Apple Play and adriod auto following a review for the ILX-W650, which is part of the bundle you're browsing. This radio is great. It is small, fits in any car and has some great features. Easy to use and install was easy. Love it! The next review is for the ILX-W650, which is part of the package you're browsing. The device is very nice and easy to program. I would definitely recommend this unit. This is a very good unit at a reasonable price. The next review is for the ILX-W650, which is part of the package you're browsing. A good price for a quality alpine stereo, touch screens work well. The next review is for the ILX-W650, which is part of the package you're browsing. This device has many features such as X-Overs, Eq, and alignment time between others. I put this unit in my NSX so space is on the premium and with it being a media-only player it is perfect. There is no compact somewhere out there to take place. I have all my music on the flash drive. The screen is very responsive and fast. There's not much tweaking as far as the colors or backgrounds on the screen, so if you want to look elsewhere. The next review is for the ILX-W650, which is part of the package you're browsing. Easy to install and the backup camera function works great! The next review is for the ILX-W650, which is part of the package you're browsing. Bought this radio based on a recommendation from a sales adviser, glad I did! I wanted Android Auto, hands free Bluetooth and the ability for Sirius in the future. This radio had it all! Great price, looks great in the car. The only question I had on installing a connection to the parking brake, the technical support helped with that and ask works great now. Saved factory speakers and still sounds amazing. It's a great block! The next review is for the ILX-W650, which is part of the package you're browsing. Bought this for 2010 Suburban. I'm installing this with a video camera, two amps and a subwoofer power. Subwoofer and 2 component speakers along with 2-2way speakers. For the first time, ever install a new car stereo equipment. Haven't actually used the alpine block just yet. A couple more days and I finished the installation. It seems to be of good quality. The delivery was quick and everything arrived untouched and in a timely manner. The next review is for the ILX-W650, which is part of the package you're browsing. I replaced the JVC touch unit that I put in my truck about 2 years ago with this alpine device. JVC was very slow to react and I could barely see it during direct sunlight contact. This alpine block is 10 times better. Instant reaction to the entrance and adjustable brightness, you could see during direct contact of sunlight. My only complaint was I had to install a bypass so I could access Bluetooth and Android auto settings in my Toyota Tundra. I'm just I'd know that before I'm going to do it again. Overall though, it's a big head block for money. The next review is for the ILX-W650, which is part of the package you're browsing. Recently installed this unit in my 01 Silverado main to have a screen when adding a backup camera. I'm amazed at how well this unit performs at its price. The touchscreen is very fast and responsive. The sound quality is a bit funky right out of the box, but there are a ton of sound adjustments in advanced eq settings that I had a hard time creating as I am not an audio expert by any means. However, after about 30 minutes of playing with eq I got it to sound good. Android auto works well and there have been no bugs that I have encountered yet. I haven't tried any other units in this price range, but ID myself would be hard pressed to find better! I got this alpine deck for the custom center console I put in my 76 Alfa Romeo Alfetta GT. It was perfect depth, so the A/C ducts could still fit into space. I wanted something that had CarPlay as well. I like the function of a napkin with two fingers - it works better than expected for volume and tracking in advance. Most of the time I have USB connected to my phone, but I also have a Thumb Drive stick that works as planned. My only wish would be to have two USB inputs, or USB and SD entry cards. Otherwise, perfect! Very recommended. Typical alpine quality in perfect size for me! I'm creating a custom central console for my Alfa Romeo Alfetta GT, and I only had a small amount of room to work. Concerned that it will be either a custom air conditioner or a CarPlay receiver. This unit solved my problem! Now I can have both. Love two finger napkins feature as well. Great for cramped spaces, but let's face it, it's a stand-up block anyway. Very recommended. It's a great value and a product. Works great if streaming music. Everything works well, the device was easy to install due to the shallow form factor. AA works great, without any lag, which I was worried about with my Pixel3. Gesture controls work, except when you're in Android Auto, which is incompatible, but I've used the Axxess steering wheel module, and it does the trick. Overall very happy with the new stereo, no need to update the speaker and perhaps to the south? The next review is for the ILX-W650, which is part of the package you're browsing. First, I like this product. You'll definitely get what you pay for and then some of them. I almost exclusively bought this unit for apple Carplay features. And he does it semi-reliably. When I first got it it was almost never. So I did a software update and that improved it, but didn't completely fix it. So I have to plug in and disable the lightning cable rep on a regular basis, but not always. I plan to get a new cable and try that, but two or three that I did the same. When it works, it's awesome though. Love the capacious touch screen. He doesn't show fingerprints terribly badly. The radio check-in is great, although I don't use it much. But it doesn't show the station tags and songs that I understood. It's a little weird that it doesn't exist. I would recommend this unit to anyone. I'm knocking it down because of the connection with Carplay issues, but overall for three bills it's a big buy. The next review is for the ILX-W650, which is part of the package you're browsing. Whether you're looking for an entry-level budget Android Auto/Carplay stereo or want something that has a shallow installation depth, this is a decent block. It was eas to install and has good sound quality, but it has Huge Con. Compared to my Sony XAV-AX100, the display is absolutely scary! All colors are just simple washed out and there doesn't seem to be any tweaks to customize the image quality. The next review is for the ILX-W650, which is part of the package you're browsing. The size makes it very easy to install. It takes about 10 seconds to start the car. Bypassing the parking brake sensor was a bit of a pain. If you connect to the ground, it will work until you turn off the car then back. I ended up wiring the switch to the ground, and putting the parking brake wire on the switch. Whenever I start my truck I flip off and then back and it works without any problems. I always like the volume of the handle, but the volume of the buttons work decently fast Pros: the large touch screen, Apple carplay works flawlessly, small design, tons of equalizer and crossover features, good price cons: 10 second start-up, parking brake wire a bit of pain, can not adjust the home screen, no volume handle Next review for ILX-W650, which is part of the bundle you're browsing. This Alpine was one of the best I've put in my truck following a review for the ILX-W650, which is part of the bundle you're browsing. A good quality item is priced, especially with Apple Play and adriod auto following a review for the ILX-W650, which is part of the bundle you're browsing. This radio is great. It is small, fits in any car and has some great features. Easy to use and install was easy. Love it! The next review is for the ILX-W650, which is part of the package you're browsing. The device is very nice and easy to program. I would definitely recommend this unit. This is a very good unit at a reasonable price. The next review is for the ILX-W650, which is part of the package you're browsing. A good price for a quality alpine stereo, touch screens work well. The next review is for the ILX-W650, which is part of the package you're browsing. This device has many features such as X-Overs, Eq, and alignment time between others. I put this unit in my NSX so space is on the premium and with it being a media-only player it is perfect. There is no compact somewhere out there to take place. I have all my music on the flash drive. The screen is very responsive and fast. There's not much tweaking as far as the colors or backgrounds on the screen, so if you want to look elsewhere. The next review is for the ILX-W650, which is part of the package you're browsing. Easy to install and the backup camera function works great! The next review is for the ILX-W650, which is part of the package you're browsing. Bought this for 2010 Suburban. I'm installing this with a video camera, two amps and a subwoofer power. Subwoofer and 2 component speakers along with 2-2way speakers. For the first time, ever install a new car stereo equipment. Haven't actually used the alpine block just yet. A couple more days and I finished the installation. It seems to be of good quality. The delivery was quick and everything arrived untouched and in a timely manner. The next review is for the ILX-W650, which is part of the package you're browsing. I replaced the JVC touch unit that I put in my truck about 2 years ago with this alpine device. JVC was very slow to react and I could barely see it during direct sunlight contact. This alpine block is 10 times better. Instant reaction to the entrance and adjustable brightness so you can see during direct contact of sunlight. My only complaint was I had to install a bypass so I could access Bluetooth and Android auto settings in my Toyota Tundra. I just wanted to know that before I put it all back together. Overall though, it's a big head block for money. The next review is for the ILX-W650, which is part of the package you're browsing. Recently installed this unit in my 01 Silverado main to have a screen when adding a backup camera. I'm amazed at how well this unit performs at its price. The touchscreen is very fast and responsive. The sound quality is a bit funky right out of the box, but there are a ton of sound adjustments in advanced eq settings that I had a hard time creating as I am not an audio expert by any means. However, after about 30 minutes of playing with eq I got it to sound good. Android auto works well and there have been no bugs that I have encountered yet. I haven't tried any other units in this price range, but ID myself would be hard pressed to find better! I got this alpine deck for the custom center console I put in my 76 Alfa Romeo Alfetta GT. It was perfect depth, so the A/C ducts could still fit into space. I wanted something that had CarPlay as well. I like the function of a napkin with two fingers - it works better than expected for volume and tracking in advance. Most of the time I have USB connected to my phone, but I also have a Thumb Drive stick that works as planned. My only wish would be to have two USB inputs, or USB and SD entry cards. Otherwise, perfect! Very recommended. Typical alpine quality in perfect size for me! I'm creating a custom central console for my Alfa Romeo Alfetta GT, and I only had a small amount of room to work. so that it will be either a custom air conditioner or a CarPlay receiver. This unit solved my problem! Now I can have both. Love two finger napkins feature as well. Great for cramped spaces, but let's face it, it's stand-up stand-up Any way. Very recommended. It's a great value and a product. Works great if streaming music. Music.
