He also over oversees the training of Theramore healers. [1] In addition to teaching first aid skills at the artist level, he teaches how to create Heavy Mageweave Bandages at 240+, Runecloth Bandages in 260+ skills and Heavy Runecloth Bandages in over 290 free skills. When Horde attacked Theramore, he stayed in the city. After Horde escaped Theramore, he stayed in the city. VanHowzen began with wounded soldiers healed. [2] It is thought that, like the rest of Theramore's citizens, he died in the mana bomb blast. Mission Quotes Gossip Congratulations, <name>. I'm Dr. Gustaf VanHowzen, Alliance Trauma's head trauma surgeon. Low-level first aid It's good to see you again, doctor <name>. I've watched your progress and I dare say it's time you learned some more advanced bandaging techniques. 2 returns to When your skills improve, and I'll teach you everything I know. His name may be related to the German doctor 'Harald zur Hausen', who was awarded the Nobel Prize in Medicine in 2008. 'Hausen' and 'Howzen' are linguistic<name> <name> <name> the premedox Zur Hausens 'zur' is not an aristocratic nut in this case but rather a preegide referring to his tral origins, identical to the Dutch 'van', nor an aristocratic nut, unlike the German 'von'. Finally, both 'Harald' and 'Gustav' (in a more typical variant) are scandinavian names that are very common, while 'Harald' is the typical name of Norwegian kings while Gustav is the typical name of swedish and Danish kings. A possible reference, with a more obvious name similarity, is to the famous tv doctor 'Dr. House'. While both World of Warcraft and House, M.D. were originally released in the U.S. in November 2004 (23. for World of Warcraft, 16. for the television series), VanHowzen may have been present in the beta version of World of Warcraft, apparently before the tv series character. Patch changes Patch 8.0.1 (2018-07-17): Updated model, title changes from <First aid= trainer= >. Hungry Shark World is played during sessions, with each Of your shark reach its destination and proceed to eat everything in its path. While the ring doesn't have a clear time limit, your shark's eternal hunger slowly chips away at its HP. And once your HP is exhausted, you'll be kicked out and will get different awards according to your performance. In this game, each round is a chaotic mess of fish and other sea creatures cowering in fear as you rampage wildly over the water. In many ways, playing Hungry Shark World is a cathartic experience with many stressful releases. The dopamine craze that we get from eating the whole school of fish is basically second to none, at least when it comes to mobile games. However, despite the simple concept and intuitive gameplay (especially if you play it on BlueStacks), there is more to Hungry Shark World than the original eye contact. If you're new to this game, you'll want to read these great tips and tricks for beginners, so you can get started in the right direction. Different types of sharks Initially you will notice that you start with a Blacktip Reef shark, which is the weakest species in the game due to its small XS size and meager stats. However, after playing a few rounds, you will have enough gold to buy a better type of shark. In this sense, the goal of the game is to play a lot so that you can save enough gold and buy newer and better sharks as they become available. The different sharks in this game are divided into seven types of sizes, with many different sharks in each. While the basic statistics vary from sharks to sharks, their overall performance is determined by their category because larger sharks can devour larger prey without injury. In this sense, it's always better to, when the opportunity comes, upgrade to the next size category to progress in this game. Various shark size categories in Hungry Shark World include XS, S, M, L, XL, XXL and !!. The Prey As we mentioned above, the main goal of this game is to simply eat everything and anything in your path. Eating other creatures is the main way to recharge your HP, which slowly depletes over time, and to rack up points. Once you finally kick the bucket, your points will be tallied up and will go towards increasing your shark levels. Moreover, the points also help unlock the next type of shark. Many different types of prey reward you with points when consuming, with larger animals giving you more points. However, the types of prey you can eat largely depend on the size of your shark. More often than not, trying to eat a fish larger than what you are currently able to handle will result in you receiving damage. Some kind of enemy can even kill you in one shot! In this sense, it is imperative that you Away from the enemies are above your abilities in the first place. Keep in mind that you don't to limit your eating of fish as you may also encounter other types of prey, both above and underwater. People and gulls swimming on the surface are good targets that give a lot of points. Meanwhile, human diving is also a good source of points, although some of them can fight back with harpoons and knives. Be careful not to get hit as some of these can do a lot of damage with a single shot. Some of the animals that you will definitely want to avoid when you are starting are different types of jellyfish since they can zap and poison you touch. These creatures are basically everywhere so you need to make a conscious effort to avoid them. However, do not worry too much about death; it will probably take you a few runs to learn what to eat and what to avoid. However, this makes upgrading your sharks even more important as you won't have to worry too much about being eaten by other predators as you unlock larger sharks. Combos and bonuses Every time you eat something in Hungry Shark World, you'll start a growing ci person as you continue to eat. This meast is the key to scoring big points in this game as it grows it can net you hundreds of thousands of points with a single combo. In this sense, it is important to properly map your routes in every map because different prey often appear in the same appended location. Unlike your usual payer, you can also activate various bonuses by skillfully playing, including Gold Rush, Mega Gold Rush and HUNGRY letters. Their effects include: Gold Rush: Whenever you eat anything, you'll slowly fill the Gold bar at the bottom of the screen. Once you're done, you'll activate Gold Rush, add a static cym clock to your score (which varies depending on the shark you're using) and maximize your Boost meter in seconds. This gives you the opportunity to score tons of points as you swim around eating everything your way. Mega Gold Rush: After activating 10 Gold Rush, you'll enter Mega Gold Rush, basically the same as its partner, except that it lasts longer, allowing you to eat almost anything (including blasting and larger sharks), and apply an additional cymast. increase the points that you can win. Hungry Letters: Scattered throughout each map are six letters that spell H-U-N-G-R-Y. If you manage to collect all six, you will trigger a special bonus for a limited time, which grows your shark to a very large size and allows you to eat absolutely anything, including large whales, regardless of the type of shark you are using. While this bonus doesn't really increase your number, it's still a great way to eat tons of fish at once. Good way To learn how to play and score big in Hungry Shark World simply by playing the game. However, with these tips and and Now you have an idea of what to look for in each session to maximize your score. Happy hunting! Hunting!
