He is one of three siblings and comes from the religious traditional Hanafi family. Sheikh Bilal is an Instructor of AlKauthar, as well as the head of the Al-Kawtar Students Guild. He is the founder and director of the Imam Development Program. He memorized the Koran while in school and continued his studies in high school in 1998. Sheikh Bilal received his computer science degree in 1999 and was qualified as a certified Systems Engineer at Microsoft. In 2001, he was admitted to the Islamic University of Madina, where he received a diploma in Arabic and then a bachelor's degree in Islamic law from the Faculty of Sharia Law. Sheikh Tawfiq Chowdhury says of him, He was always one of the most diligent people I have ever met, and he never wasted time in Madina. Also: Sheikh Bilal is my personal friend and I would like to describe him as a true knowledge student - one who speaks with knowledge and has the highest adab and morality. After graduating from university, he returned to South Africa, where he taught Fiqh and Tafsir weekly classes in Durban since the summer of 2007 and says he is still a student of knowledge - and always will be!
