Iron grip dumbbells for sale

Iron Grip was founded in 1993 with the simple but revolutionary idea of putting hand handles on Olympic weight plates. Now, with over 25 years of practical experience in innovative equipment design and manufacturing, we are the largest supplier of the highest quality commercial free weight equipment worldwide. Our exclusively American dumbbells, skitchens, weight plates and Olympic bands lead the way to quality and customer satisfaction. Industrial power materials and construction guess the competition. The products are designed with regard to safe management and ergonomics. Clever design and reliable quality control mean that you never have to worry about maintenance. Iron Grip dumbbells, levers and weight plates are produced here in the US, we-end. Our fully internal production capacity exceeds the highest product standards in the industry and ensures continuous innovation. Iron Grip Equipment is trusted by premier fitness facilities in more than 95 countries, including leading health club networks, professional and university sports training institutions, military fitness centers, business fitness programs, and hotels and resorts around the world. These elite customers have every brand of free weights for them, but they continue to choose Iron Grip because they know working with us provides the best overall value. LEARN MORE Iron Grip's state-of-the-art, in-house custom logo process will put your name in the best light. We produce more customized weight plates, dumbbells and beams than all our competitors combined. Iron Grip ultra-strong dumb shoes are built in the USA to ensure better safety and durability. We press a suitable ox solid steel handle to precision-machined solid steel heads under extreme pressure, and then apply the patented welding process to the overall added stability. Iron Grip urethane is formulated in the USA for superior strength and longevity. It will never tear or delaminate and will not scuff or damage equipment, walls or floors. And the resistant texture finish is designed to better resist wear and keep your dumb shoes looking new for longer. The compact, sturdy design makes Iron Grip hanets easier to operate than bulky pro-style dumbbells. Unique 12-sided heads do not allow the dumb bells to rotate dangerously. Flat, screw-free ends make them more stable and more resistant to nozzles. High contrast weight marks are constantly engraved and tied to the surface. PREMIUM DURABILITY Ultra-wide 1-3/4 inch handle diameter insertion site makes these strongest dumbbells on the market. IMPROVED ERGONOMICS Patented design conveniently helps the handle in the center of the handle. Iron Grip has stimulated urethane production technology to create the first liquid injection casting line for heavy parts such as and olympic olympic Over the years, we have perfected our property urethane composition and manufacturing process to increase longevity and adhesion, and we will continue to produce our urethane line in the United States to ensure strict quality control. We mix our patented urethane formula only in our factory and rigorously check each batch for stability and consistency. Our many years of experience and technical experience allow us to produce the strongest and most reliable urethane-based products of strength. All options feature Iron Grip's heavy engineered lame, which resists rust and abrasion. Our standard straight handle is a long-term best seller. Our comfortable contoured design tapering slightly towards the ends. Our muscular XL handle, designed specifically for sports training, is a solid 1-3/4 inch diameter from end to end. Fixed urethane are fixed interfaces. Choose either our heavy straight bar or standard EZ curl bar, both price the same.
