50 W. San Fernando St., San Jose, CA 95113 on BRIAN S ULTRASOUND Aug 03, 2015 02:48 PM EDT Stock quotes in this article: NWL, PG, TUP Newell Rubbermaid's (NWL) strong results No. 2 have been boosted by heart sales of innovative new Sharpie magic markers, Contigo and Bubba water bottles, and even Baby Jogger strollers and Jogger wheelchairs. The advances in the field reflect ongoing efforts to diversify into new categories of major retailers around the world. A huge part of what drives high performance is the quality and strength of our innovation,' said Newell Rubbermaid President and CEO Michael Polk in an interview with TheStreet. Newell Rubbermaid's sales rose 4 percent to $1.56 billion in the second quarter, ahead of consensus forecasts of $1.54 billion. Excluding the impact of currency fluctuations, what Newell Rubbermaid calls core sales, rose 5.1 percent year-on-year. Sales growth in the second quarter was driven by the company's writing and children's segments, where core sales grew by 10.8% and 6.0%, respectively. Sales of water bottles were also strong. Excluding one-time earnings per share, earnings per share were $0.64, exceeding Wall Street's estimate of $0.62. The company raised its full-year sales forecast to 4% to 5%, from 3.5% to 4.5% previously. Earnings per share are now seen reaching $2.14 to $2.20, compared with previous guidance of $2.10 to $2.18. The strength of the second quarter and the leadership lift added more fuel to Newell Rubbermaid shares, which have now gained an impressive 13% year to date. Over the past year, the stock has risen about 30 percent, easily outpacing a 6.6 percent gain on the Dow Jones Industrial Average and an 8.5 percent gain on the S&P 500 index. Updated August 2, 2010 AM ET/Original August 2, 2010 12:34 p.m. ET Order Reprints Print Articles Newell Rubbermaid (NWL: NYSE) by Caris Co. ($15.50, August 2, 2010) NEWELL RUBBERMAID (TICKER: NWL) reported second quarter 2010 2010 per share 51 cents versus 47 cents, beating consensus by seven cents and our estimate at 11 cents. A one-time tax break added three cents. The core sales growth excluding SAP (SAP) (software implementation) induced a transition of sales to the first quarter from the second quarter was 4%, with strong international growth accounting for a slower recovery in the U.S., which was roughly flat. Gross margin rose strongly and more than expected as pricing, performance and a favorable combination more than offset the worst commodity comparison of the year. Newell lifted 2010's underlying sales growth to the middle of single digits from low to average single digits (percentage), but increased EPS guidance by only two cents to $1.40-$1.50. We increased EPS estimates for 2010 and 2011 by seven cents each, to $1.52 and $1.67, but lowered EPS estimates in the second half of 2010 by four cents, mainly due to a 32% increase in the tax rate from 30%. We tweaked our target price to $17 from $16, based on 10 times the 2011 ESTIMATED EPS of $1.67. While Newell has high goals implying at least average teen EPS growth over the next few years, we remain on the sidelines given the cyclical nature of sales and revenue and comments about spotty selling point (POS) data. We're going to rate Newell on average. Sales fell 0.5 percent, including a 3.8 percent normalized underlying sales growth, down 2.3% due to a SAP-related sales shift in the first quarter from the second quarter, down 1.9% from the grocery line outlet and down 0.1% from exchange rates. Core sales growth, including SAP,100, was 1.5%, slightly below our estimate of 2.2%. Exchange rates were in line with our estimate, but the decline from the product line was worse than our negative score of -0.8%. Sales were reported to be $1.50 billion, which was $1.52 billion, excluding SAP, Tools, Equipment and Commercial Products (THCP) posted the highest underlying sales growth of about 10%, driven by 20% of international growth (the U.S. was roughly flat). Office Products (OP) core sales rose 3%, while Main Family (HF) was flat, with beauty and style (Goody) up to double digits and Baby and Parenting Down. Gross margin increased by 220 basis points compared to expectations of growth of 100 basis points). The overall and administrative sales ratio (GSSA) was 24.1% versus 21.9%, which is lower than our estimate of 25.0% (last quarter Newell stated that some strategic expenditures were shifted to the second quarter from the first quarter). Newell would not comment on whether there was an increase in strategic spending of $40 million to $50 million planned for the first half of 2010 or not. Operating profit decreased by 1% compared to the year to $226 million, which is higher Two of the three segments of operating margin decreased year-on-year with operating profit posting only an increase (by 60 basis points year on year). The HF margin fell below our estimate. Operating and cash flow in the second quarter of 2010 compared to $99 million in the second quarter of 2009 and $183 million against $88 million a year to date. Free cash flow before dividend payments was $117 million versus $65 million in the quarter and $108 million compared to $15 million a year earlier. Newell said 2010 operating and cash flow will exceed $500 million - with year-on-year declines in the third quarter and fourth quarter, we estimate $610 million. Newell still expects a 31% tax rate for 2010, implying 32% in the second half (we had 30% before). Although Newell warned of higher freight production costs in the Chinese market, we raised our estimated gross margin in the second half of 2010 to a 140 basis point per year increase from a 100 basis point increase; Newell's guidance is still up to 75-100 basis points for 2010 (we rated up to 150 basis points). We maintained an estimated growth in core sales in the second half of the year, including 7% operating profit, 10% in THCP in the third quarter and 5% in the fourth quarter; and HF's apartment in the third quarter and up 2% in the fourth quarter. The SG-A 2010 ratio will not exceed 25%. -- Linda Bolton Weiser Email: online.editors@barrons.com NEWELL RUBBERMAID (TICKER: NWL) reported second quarter 2010 earnings per share of 51 cents versus 47 cents, beating consensus by seven cents and our estimate at 11 cents. As the bag gets fuller lightly lift the blue trash can so you can add more yard waste/leaves. Continue to do so until the bag is full. Remove the blue can. Then put a trash can with a bag in it on its side, grabbing the trash in two places to pull it out and stand the garbage bag upright. Then you'll notice that you have a garbage bag that still has a lot of space left in it. Keep doing this until you run out of yard waste to dispose of. My city doesn't allow plastic bags in a composting facility, so I just carried them there, emptied the bags and brought them home again to reuse. Note! Imagine that most composting facilities allow you to use only Kraft paper sheet bags that will be left on the composting sites official RULES NO PURCHASE NECESSARY ENTER OR WIN.
