I'm wondering if any of you have experience of using or currently using the Bell Fibe TV app on the Android box. Does it work? Official support on Bell's website only lists MiBox, NVIDIA Shield and Amazon firestick. Since MiBox works android, theoretically it should work on other Android boxes as well, right? I mean, it's just an android app that needs to be installed. Please let me know your thoughts. So much so that I think that soon, they will start charging a monthly fee for this feature, as for me, I returned one of my extra receivers, which I didn't use anymore (using the shield with the Fibe app instead). It works great on the Amazon Fire TV Stick though. Great solution for the $30 I paid for the sale ($50 regular price). There is one drawback though. If you have records on your PVR that have been there for too long, you lose the ability to watch them on the Amazon Fire TV Stick or other streaming boxes or online. For very old records, you can only look at pVR or Bell TV, which is connected to this PVR. Limited warranty. Bell Canada (including Bell Aliant, Bell) (Bell) guarantees you as the original buyer (Buyer or you) a battery purchased for fiber equipment (original battery) within 12 months of the purchase date of the original battery from Bell (Guarantee Period) when used in fiber equipment (Guarantee). Fiber Equipment means Home Hub 3000 modem or UPS (continuous nutrition), if necessary, provided by Bell in conjunction with some of your bell bells if the original battery fails due to a defect during the warranty period, Bell will replace the original battery with a new or repaired battery (Battery Replacement). Any warranty coverage that remains during the warranty period on the original battery (when replaced with a replacement battery under this warranty) will be applied to the battery replacement. No battery replacement has any new or separate warranty coverage. Bell reserves the right to limit the number of replacement batteries provided to the buyer during the warranty period. My battery doesn't work. What should I do? Ontario and quebec residents, please call Bell on 1 866 310 BELL (2355) and residents of the Atlantic provinces, please call 1 866 342-7367, so that Bell can confirm that the original battery is within the warranty period and try to diagnose and fix the fault by phone. Be sure to keep proof of purchase to set the date of purchase of the original battery; Otherwise Bell may have to estimate the date of purchase. Limited warranty exceptions. This warranty does not apply to the original battery or battery replacement (each, battery), which is: damaged due to: abuse, neglect, misuse, accident, theft, vandalism, force majeure events (e.g. fire, flood, contamination, freezing, overcharging), overcharging or altering; Improper or unauthorized repairs, maintenance, installation, installation or storage; Or accessories, wiring or cables; Simply discharged and can be recharged and put back into operation; In fiber equipment in other places other than the Bell service address or in a modem or device other than equipment fiber; or not owned by the Buyer. Exclusive warranty. To the extent permitted by applicable law (which may vary from province to province) and except where it is prohibited for residents of quebec, this guarantee is exceptional and is instead of all other safeguards, submissions, guarantees, conditions, express and/or implied, including trading and suitability for a specific purpose. In addition to the rights described in this guarantee, the buyer may also have other legal rights (which may vary from province to province). Limitation of responsibility. To the extent permitted by applicable law and except where it is prohibited for residents of quebec, Bell's total cumulative maximum liability for negligence, breach of contract, tort or any other claim or cause of action, including a fundamental violation, in relation to any battery or this warranty is limited to payment, on request, for actual and direct damage in up to the maximum amount equal to the purchase price of the original battery, and all other losses, including non-limited indirect, special, consistent, accidental, economic, exemplary or punitive losses. You may also be subject to other restrictions and exceptions of liability, as well as obligations, as those of any Bella Bella services that apply to you. These conditions survive after the warranty expires. Separation: The purpose: Date in effect; Agreement. If no provision of this guarantee is within its reach, all other provisions of the guarantee remain in full force and in force. This warranty is not assigned by the Buyer. The original warranty applies only to batteries purchased on or after April 23, 2017, until Bell amended or was verified. You accept the terms of this warranty at an earlier date of receipt of a copy or use of the original battery. If you do not agree with the terms of this warranty, you have 30 days from the date of the original purchase to return the original battery to Bella, unused, for a refund. More information. For more information, Ontario and quebec residents should visit www.bell.ca/battery or call Bell on 1 866 310 BELL (2355). Residents please visit www.bellaliant.ca/battery or call 1866 342 7367. Bell Streamer is available to television customers in Ontario and quebec, and the device looks like a thinner version of the Apple TV 4K. It brings access to Alt TV, Crave, CTV, Fibe TV, Netflix, Prime Video, YouTube, D'A'N, hayu, CBC Gem, ICI TOU, TV, Tooby and more. Running on Android TV, Bell Streamer also has a Google Play Store to download apps, while Google Assistant's voice remote. Users will also be able to throw videos on Bell Streamer as Chromecast is built in. Tiny but powerful Bell Streamer is a major breakthrough in providing a simplified and convenient way to access all the content you want on the screen of your choice, said Rizwan Jamal, president of Bell services, in a published statement. What is the price of Bell Streamer? For Alt TV Premium subscriptions, it is included for free for a 6-month period, while standalone purchase is $79.95, 79.95, online and in bell and source retail stores. In a time-20 ad, Bell says Fibe TV will bring direct access to prime video with its 4K Whole Home PVR, starting Wednesday, August 5, available via the Apps button from the Fibe remote control.
