BIONICLE Stars is a bioNICLE sub-theme introduced in 2010 and was the last BIONICLE to be released before the BIONICLE break in 2010. The contents of the show Star's Detailed Line consisted of six final sets of BIONICLE that will be released before the break and was originally intended as a farewell to the theme of his retirement. Each of the six sets was a cult race or character of BIONICLE, upgraded with the latest parts and construction techniques, and each includes a piece of Golden Armor to fit on the Tah shape. According to the story, the Stars sets have characters fighting on Bar Magna. Von Mata Nui, who has now taken over the body of a huge prototype robot, needs to return to the planet Bara Magna with fragments of the planet Botha Magna and Aqua Magna. However, the robot prototype is too weak to pull the planet along with a gravitational explosion. Makuta, a haven taken over by the giant robot spirit of Mata Nui once inhabited, arrives at Bara Magna to defeat his brother. When the two robots begin to fight, veteran Glatorian Gresh finds a small door in Makuta's leg. He wrenches his open, only to find that it is filled with Rahkshi Heat Vision and Skakdi. Sin quickly ducks behind the rock as enemies storm. Later, Takanuwa, Toa Light, comes out the door. Gresh assumes that he is another invader and attacks him. Finding that they were fighting for the same side, they quickly became close and joined the fight against Makuta's forces. Skrall, once defeated by Mata Nui in his Glarian uniform, wants revenge and join the fight on Makuta's side. Tahu Nuva Mystic, Toa Fire, finds himself on Bara Magna. Mata Nui sends Kanohi Inyika, The Mask of Life, to turn Tahu into his mat shape, creating a suit made of gold armor. He informs him that he must wear armor to defeat Makut and his henchmen. However, before Tahu can take it, Makuta sends an explosion of energy that scatters the armor over the battlefield. He meets with Takanuwa and Gresham, who agree to help him restore the figures. Meanwhile, Makuta threatens to destroy the planet with an explosion of gravity, but Mata Nui manages to ward off the explosion. It falls into the fragments of Aqua Magna and Bota Magna, which begin to drift towards Bar Magna. Eventually, they find all the pieces and Tahu puts on armor, which causes raw energy to pulsate through it and strike Kraat every Rahkshi on the battlefield, switching Rahkshi off. Sensing this, Makuta is distracted for a moment. Mata Nui sees his chance and pushes his brother into the path of the oncoming fragment of the planet Botha Magna. The fragment crashes into his head, destroying the robot's systems and killing him. Skaddy and Scroll surrender, and Botha and Aqua Magna reunite with Bara Magna, forming the original planet Ofes Magna. In order to help Toa, Matoran and Glatorian, Mata Nui uses her energy to fill the surface of the planets with plants and wildlife, creating paradise. The prototype of the robot dissolves and Mata Nui returns to Kanohi Ignika. He announces that he will remain in the mask so as not to be part of any further conflict. Sets Set Descriptions and Heritage 7116 Tahu is a red-orange figure. He holds a fiery sword as a weapon. This set is designed to have Golden Armor attached, and includes Golden Canohy Howe. This set resembles 8534 Taha. Tahu was the leader of Toa Mata, and Toa Nuwa. It is the Toa Of Fire and has been changed back to its original form of Kanohi Inyika, so that the tahu can fit in gold armor. He made his debut in 2001. The 7117 Gresh is a lime green and dark green figure. He holds a blade in each hand. This set resembles an 8980 Gresh and includes a piece of Gold Armor that can be used as a chest or shoulder armor. Gresh is a Glatorian veteran and controls the elementary power of the air. He made his debut in 2009. 7135 Takanuwa is a grey and white figure. He holds double light poles one in each hand and wears a Mask of Light. The set resembles the 8596 Takanuwa and includes a piece of Gold Armor that can be used as a chest or shoulder armor. Takanuwa is the legendary Toa Light, who used his powers to become a silver. He made his debut in 2003. 7136 Skrall - black and green figure. He holds one sword, with two others in his arms, and is based on the 8978 Skrall. This set includes the Golden Toa Nuva shoulder armor element, which is used as a Pommel sword. Scroll has the power of shadow and is allied with Makuta. He made his debut in 2009. 7137 Piraka is a blue and grey figure. He holds a metal weapon in one hand. The set basically resembles the 8902 Vezok, although the actual character is called Nektann, and includes a piece of Golden Armor that can be used as chest or shoulder armor. Nektann is Scaddy's warlord. Skaddy (Piraki Race) made his debut in 2006. 7138 Rahkshi is a yellow-grey figure. He keeps the headquarters of the thermal vision. The set is a common Rahkshi thermal vision and includes the Golden Gahlok-Kal Shield. Hkshi are makuta's mortal henchmen and made his debut in 2003. The Combine Model was a competition for fans to name and characterize the combine model bioNICLE stars that can be built using all six sets. You can watch the video here. Club magazine LEGO showed a combination of models to combine all-stars bioNICLE to create a larger model. Go to 1 for instructions. This figure was first seen on the back of the last LEGO comic, this code BIONICLEBUILD was above the contest to name it. Originally, the 2010 sets were the six Element Lords, the only residents of Bara Magna who have elementary powers. But the theme was cut for a full year, and as a result the sets were changed to remakes of fan favorites as retirement tributes to fans. 2010 was the only year that BIONICLE kits did not have any form of long-range weapons (2001 in Matoran was Kanoka throwing discs and Pohatu was a stone ball, 2002 had the face clutching Krana, 2003 had Kohlii balls, 2004 had launchers with Kanoka discs, 2005 had Rohituka Spinners, 2006 had spheres of zamora, 2007 had the squid Barraki and Cordak and air spheres, 2008 had spheres Of Midak and The Ghost Blasters , and 2009 was Thornax Fruit) BIONICLE Stars, considered by many fans to be one of the worst sub-topics in the history of BIONICLE, with many believing that it was the weak end of the storyline, and criticizing the simplicity of the sets comparable to the Matoran figures of 2008 and Agori figures of 2009.
