Thematically kensei based tactics with trapper abilities and focus on movement. Being a WF and having a selection of junk light armor, I would throw 2 monks to the level of movement to fit the theme and form the achievements of more than 2 fighters. With 2 in I say 3 for the sign of healing. Would love ... More Requested WF Amalgam Fighter Dubb has technical issues so we haven't played for a while. Once he's back online we'll be back running free. Stay tuned to hit the intermediate level 1 in the market. As expected, we had to run some additional ringleabers to get to level 5. We took 5 and headed to the cerulean hills for the captives and Nash's farm. Got some small random loot upgrades. Got some small random > Butcher's. Take level 4. No problem yet. I finally got a good axe and got rid of my cave axe. Got a shelter helmet so I was over 30 ppr and mrr walked in the defender. Depends on ... More Freefalling Day two Some notes from our first day in free to play toon first life. 1 Do not expect to see, search or disable any traps that you think are there. even if you find it, your hands and fingers are likely burned and charred when a trap box explodes in your face. Make a point to see ... More Freefalling Day One Part 2 We rolled up our characters and appeared in Korthos skipping caves to group immediately. Dubb quickly discovers that his rogue level 1 can't do much to the elite even in Korthos. At THF man pally sports cleavage at level 1 I have no problem. Quite typical for new characters,... More Freefalling Day One We do life first, using only what you find, just running free-to-play content, up to 20 with Halfling Rogue and Paladin Man. One note: Dubb says he might be mad to stop if we do n/h/e for every search so we'll do elite once and done unless we have to farm... More Freefalling- Free to play to 20 Major changes in TR-ing for the post reaper xp at the same time as the life of the racial past much has changed. Many of those searches just don't bring enough xp worth running rxp ... More TR Reaper Swiftis and Dubble lines are returning from too long layoffs and will respond. We're looking forward to updating the Ouick Rate Guide and adding new post suggestions and builds to the DDO World reaper post. ... More We Return TL: DR DR MS course: Full-time archers gossiped. Some extreme examples of burst damage loss, high RP build with low DS. At 35DS and 28BAB you get the same number of hits over 2 minutes but more RP during MS, so the slightly below number may still be ahead. MS and 10k: Monkchers are still ahead purely... More Manyshot Changes Yes, you can play this game for free! Monthly pay content (VIP accounts) consists of additional classes, races, and searches beyond free content, as well as various cosmetic items and other bonuses to make the game easier, and pay-per-item (Premium account) can unlock some nice gains with just a little real cash, but, yes, you can play 100% free without any problems along the way to end the game. In fact (and not to brag, but ...) DDO is recognized by some as a high standard for free MMO games. The proportion of free searches is smaller at a higher rate. However, content can be paid for using DDO Points and free to play (F2P) accounts automatically earn free DDO Points through standard gaming games. In theory the number of free DDO Points is unlimited, although to get you into end-games. This is fine if you mostly play solo, but if you want to play with groups in raids, make sure you figure out what's best for Adventure Pack to buy to gain access to raids. Otherwise, get a package that has a search with heroic and epic versions if you want to level your character beyond level 20. If you're in a guild (which is free for anyone to join, but charges a non-VIP DDO Points account to create), ask them what adventure package is best. Note that you can also play almost for free with any purchase on the DDO Store (currently at least about \$7.99 in the US, but less during Sales), which makes your account upgraded to a Premium Account even if you never spend anything on the game again. Budget for free Adventure Plan[edit] See Earn DDO Points. You get a free DP by winning help. You get help by completing the search. Each character receives 25 DP for every 100 favors they get. Additionally you receive more DP the first time each single character on the server reaches a certain level of help. The fastest way to get a few hundred DP's is to get characters on each server (there are currently eight servers) to run The Grotto and the first three searches. Each of these quests is worth 2 favors, and when your character has 5 favors, and when your character has 5 favors, and when your character has 5 favors you are given 50 DP. can do this on each server (it takes fifteen to thirty minutes per server) for a total of about 400 DP. But you're going to need more. If you play for three or four hours your character can get 100 favors (around level 3-4 with about 10-40 guests completed, depending on the difficulty). This is worth an additional 75 DP per character, for 125 DP for each character that reaches 100 Favor on the new server. That's a total of 1000 DP across the entire eight servers for maybe half a dozen hours of blav! You can use this time to test different classes and blav styles, and/or see which server you want to call home. In addition, each main character on an individual server will take (some) more FREE DP because they level beyond level 4 and reach 200, 300, 400 favors (etc.) for your account on a particular server. (This is multiplied if you place each main character on a different server.) There are currently regular sales at Adventure Packs 20% or sometimes 25% off (and rarely more!), so if you can budget for it. Finally you can create a new character on the server where you already have characters outside around level 4, but this will only give you 25 DP when that character has reached 100 favors. You are limited to three characters per server with an F2P account but you can remove the characters you use just to earn DP points and create others. Example #1: Vale of Twilight[edit] The Vale of Twilight adventure package is a popular choice for higherlevel characters (at the mid-late teens level) as it gives access to Green Steel items. Currently costs 850 DP in DDO store Assuming 20% off sale (which may happen maybe every 2-3 months ???), the cost is ... 680 DP required Main characters you may have earned 500 favors, for 275 DP, just by playing regularly. It takes another 405 points. You can achieve it with low-level characters on seven other servers. 6 characters each runs only the first 3 searches = $6 \times 50 = +300 \text{ DP}$, + 500 (from other characters) = Total 925 DP, the search package obtained, and can be purchased through the in-game DDO Exchange link. Example #2: Vale of Twilight + Ruins of Gianthold edit] The Ruins of Gianthold adventure package contains quests with Heroic Levels ~13-15 (plus Epic level quests) making it a very popular choice. They currently cost 850 + 950 = a total of 1800 DP in the DDO store Assuming 25% off sale, the cost is 637 + 712 = ... : 1349 DP required you run two main characters, each on a different (new) server, with 500 help each, for 550 DP. It takes another 799 points. To achieve that, you start with low-level characters on 6 other servers. 6 characters each run to 100 favors = 6 x 125 ... = +750 DP To get the remaining 49 points, vou have to run 2 more characters up to 100 favors, for each +25 DP. (They are only worth 25 DP each, not 125, because they don't get the first 100 bonus on the new server.) = +50 DP, + 750 + 550 = DP 1350, both search packages are acquired, and can be purchased through the in-game DDO Store link. Tips for scoring DDO Points with minor characters[edit] You must run a Grotto search on each server can choose to skip the search of Korthos Island and go to Stormreach. It doesn't matter if you only need to get the first 50 DP, which only requires the completion of 3 searches, but if you need to get 125 DP, you have to run about 30-40 searches and you don't have to run all over Korthos Island and complete a very long Peak of Misery search to get the right to go to Stormreach with an abundant number of short searches. You may want to experiment with different classes, but if you just want to do it as guickly as possible try out characters who have access to Expeditious Retreat that will make you run faster between searches as well as within them. All humans can get it using Dragonmark's achievements. You will be able to get 100 favors around level 4, so even caster spells should have a lot of power, as you will mostly hit things even with caster spells. Free to Play (F2P) players must run each search three times to achieve the final maximum favor for that search. That means running it on Normal, Hard, and Elite. If the search takes 30 minutes to complete once, then you should spend no less than an hour and a half grinding your way through the same thing over and over again, which can get guick old. Quests that have a Casual/Solo listing generally have only one mode and do not open Normal, Hard, or Elite modes. You can get into a group, whose leader has run a search (complete hard mode mode), has run (and completed) elite mode on that search (but is willing to run it again), or is a VIP or premium pay-to-play player. The group leader can then select elite setting is selected (open Elite mode for that search in the search entry window - Permanently open that mode for that search, if elite search is then completed). Example DP Runner[edit] Barbarian 1/Wizard 1/Fighter 2 A DP Runner was built to pass the initial search as a donkey for other long-term build characters. This build will start to fail around Level 6, but for Level 1-2 searches in Elite, and/or Level 3 on Normal, it is pure gold. Level 1: Human Barbarian (For Martial Weapons (Big Axe), but also for +10% Barb running speed to make things much faster.) Str 18 Dex 10 Con 14 Int 12 Wis/Cha 8 (you can access enhancements screen at any time press Ctrl + r. You can't select/change upgrades while in the search area or wilderness.) Choose to pick up the Big Axe at the beginning, then use the best 2-handed martial weapons (Great Axe, Great Sword, Falchion, Maul, or even Great Club or Staff) that you find along the way (but the first one listed is better.) Note - Be sure to character sheet (by pressing c), and under the Enhancements tab, drag the active enhancement (the square one) to your hotbar to use/activate. Passive (round/ octagonal) is automatic, but you have to click on the Active one to enable/use it. When you have to click on the Wizard Trainer (above korthos town square on the hill, or in the northeast Port at the pier, or the south-central port along that road), and talk to them. Level 2: Wizard (For some combat support (pet dog), 2nd Cleavage, and Invisibility - easy button. Characters who complete 4 searches of Korthos Village in Elite should easily create Level 2 before proceeding to the search for Korthos Island.) Be sure to go into the tavern (green mug icon on the map) and slot your spell (found under your Character Sheet section) and drag/fall into the hotbar, and then buy ~100 pinches of sand (that's cheap) from vendors in the square before you go out the gate to the Island search. Right-click the spell in its hotbar slot to make sure Summon Monster benefits from Augment Summoning (Always on). You don't care about Arcane Spell Failure because of your armor, none of these are spells in battle - you'll throw all this at the beginning of the search, before your first step, so some failures only cost a few more moments. For you, these spells last for 5 minutes, much to the search for beginners - if you search slowly, or anytime after you use the temple, remember to re-air (or when the dog dies). Level 3: Fighter (you must reach Level 3 by the time you finish with Korthos Island Elite and head to the Harbor guests by talking to the NPC at Korthos pier. (Don't bother with Misery's Peak for now; it's a good search, too long for what we're doing here, which only grabs 100 guick favors.) Achievements: Lvl 3: Cleave; Fighter: 2 Hand Fighting Skills: 1 point per Balance, Quest, Place. Enhancements: FB Die Harder III (just more Hit Points); and ignore the 4th AP - I would be surprised if you get it before you get 100 Favors, unless you do not find the opener and have to run every search 3 times (N/H/E). Fighter trainers are on top for the wizards, except in Korthos Island. Level 4: Fighter (If you need level 4!) Achievement: Ftr 2: Focus Weapon: Slash (or Bludgeon if you have a maul you Ability to level up: Strength Skills: max the rest wherever you upgrade: anywhere - you have to be a lowly killing machine already, taking whatever looks good. Rav: Cracking Shot for boss beating, FB: Power Rage for more Str while Raging, Human Healing Amp for a little more love potion, whatever. Variations – Go with 11 Int (dump Haggle @ Lvl 1, then Balance), 11 Cha and 8 Dex, and select Bard Bard your 3rd grade. Be sure to take 4 Levels of Perform, choose Cure Light Wounds for your spell, and Enhancement: Warchanter Core: Skaldic Rage - much longer, and you can still throw CLW! Remember – This build is not recommended for long-term play, designed to front some powerful abilities early, and then removed (or retire to be a donkey to store excess of your stuff). If you like something about it, there's a better way to start with Level 20 in mind – this one will probably start to fail around Level 5-8. However, if you really enjoy the fight, you can continue with Barbarian or Fighter (not both) up to Level 20, survive with 2-handed weapon achievements, and pump up Power on each upgrade. (Or, if you go Bard to Level 3, stick with the Bard and go mostly with the Warchanter upgrade – tho' which is a more difficult path with this start.) If you can verify that all the information on this page has been updated correctly, please edit this page and delete this template. Reason: Total favors are outdated All the number of favors listed to complete the search on elite difficulties. F2P accounts usually have to run searches in Normal, then Hard, then Elite struggles to get all the help. A third of the total favor is given after each. Base XP is an experience to complete a search on Normal difficulties without bonuses or optional. Quests that only have solo difficulties are marked with (S). Everything you need to know to get the most out of this game. Credit is given to everyone who contributed to this thread in the official forum. Yes, you can play this game for free! However, it is very time consuming to do so and most people will pay for content instead of grinding the help system for DDO Points (DP) to pay for content. Some math is guick to confirm: There are currently 89 free searches to play in the game (Including The Grotto which gives 0 Favors) and U12 House Cannith Challenges. This search provides 1263 assistance. It's profitable enough to open a delicious server up to the 5th level that will give you 250 DP. Do this on each server and you get a total of 1750 DP. Free search will also provide enough help to give you 250 DP. server you will get 5250 DP. Combine that with the 1750 we totaled earlier and you get 7000 DP, from grinding 100% free content. You can then grind to earn more points. Then of course there are rerolling options that can provide more DP and will only be limited by your willingness. to continue rerolling.
