Planned vacation or business trip and wondering about American Airlines (AA) carry on baggage policy 2020-2021, luggage sizes, permitted and limited items with American Airlines? We're here to help you with the size of your hand luggage and the personal size of your luggage and the details of your laptop bag. What is the American Airlines (AA) carry-on baggage allowance: American Airlines has below guidelines when it comes to domestic and international policy on Carry On Baggage 2020-2021. Scroll down to capture the information. According to the AA, one carry-on bag plus one personal item like a purse or briefcase or laptop bag is allowed, usually without weight restrictions. Coats, diaper bags while traveling with baby, cans, crutches, portable oxygen hubs, breathing devices or any other assistive device, and foot rugs for use during prayer are all free to continue in addition to your one personal thing. What is the size of American Airlines hand luggage (AA) and weight limits: The first thing to remember is that hand luggage has its own size restrictions. The size of hand luggage should be 22 x 14 x 9 inches or 56 x 36 x 23 centimeters (including handles and wheels). And the size of a personal item should be 18 x 14 x 8 inches, which must fit the bin above the seat or storage space under the seat. Soft clothing bags up to 51 inches / 130 cm (length and width) can also be taken as hand luggage. American Airlines hand luggage has no weight limit, but it must be placed in the hold or under the seat. Valid items in American Airlines (AA) carry-on luggage: First, Common rules to consider while transporting on board are liquid items such as personal care creams and toiletries, breast milk and duty-free alcoholic beverages with sealed bags, food, especially on travel with children and medicines consumed, as well as expensive items such as jewelry, currencies and electronic gadgets such as a mobile phone, laptop and portable chargers can accompany you in the cabin. Secondly, items not taken into account regarding hand luggage, but can be taken on board (depending on safety restrictions) are as follows: Ladies Handbag Coat Blanket Small Briefcase Walking Stick or Crutches Duty-Free Items Baby Basket Diaper Bag of Breast Milk for Baby in a Soft Side Cooler Camera Bag or Binoculars While, Out-of-Touch Items in the Cabin, as What are the limited items in American Airlines (AA) baggage: Here are additional restrictions and regulations applicable to American Airlines, in addition to TSA guidelines. Extra bags will be charged extra. To add with, passengers will need to check in hand luggage when it does not match the space in the hold or under the seat. And also pre-check bear on the restrictions to which are covered by specific airports or airlines. The fee for checking excess baggage is $100 for bags weighing 51-70lbs and $200 for bags weighing 71-100lbs. Special gear and sports equipment on American Airlines (AA): American Airlines allows you to carry up to 75 kg of musical instruments in hand luggage per ticket person. In addition to this allowance, the passenger can also book an additional ticket at the expense of an adult for his musical instrument, if it does not correspond to the specified place. To notify, you can also have a pet in the carriers. The passenger must make sure that the animal can stand, turn around and lie down in its natural comfortable position. Currently, the fee for a single pet carrier is $125. In addition, American Airlines' carry-on baggage policy allows a passenger to carry sports equipment with applicable fees in accordance with the relevant weight and size rule. American Airlines Liquid baggage policy: If you are traveling with liquids or are unsure of any item, please contact TSA. AA has seasonal baggage restrictions. In other words, there are different baggage rules and restrictions for different destinations. Also, the fees collected for these bags during seasonal periods are different from the usual fares too. For later updates and details of additional baggage fees and American Airlines to pursue policies, restrictions, weight, please visit the American Airlines website. If you plan to travel only with your hand, you should be keeping up with the speed with the airline's manual policy. Specifically, the different rules and regulations each carrier has for what you can and can't carry on the plane. The rules of each airline are different, so don't just assume that running for one will work for all airlines. Here's American Airlines Carry-On Rules, You should be aware: American Airlines Carry-On Bag Guidelines American Airlines allows one personal item and one carry-on luggage on a free basis. What does American Airlines consider a personal commodity? Personal items include wallet, briefcase, laptop, backpack, bag or similar size item. Dimensions should not exceed 18 x 14 x 8 inches (45 x 35 x 20 cm). Diaper bags (1 per child), soft breast bags, child safety seats, strollers and medical or mobile devices are not considered your personal item or hand-held stroller fabric. American Airlines Carry-On Bag Guidelines for Basic Economy Fares There is not charged for carrying bags when you buy American Airlines Basic Economy fare. The rules are the same for all service classes. However, with the Basic Economy ticket, you will be one of the last to board, so overheads will be limited. American Airlines Carry-On Dimensions American Airlines- 22 x 14 x 9. If you're not sure what size your carry on this, American Airlines provides size check templates located on their ticket counters and gates. But by the time you get to any of these places, it's too late if the bag is too big, so it's best to always know the size of the bag in advance. Soft clothing bags up to 51 inches / 130 cm (length and width) can also be taken as hand luggage. American Airlines Carry-On Weight Limits As rule, American Airlines does not impose weight restrictions on a hand bag. American Airlines Carry-On Rules for Small Regional Airlines Regional Airlines have limited space overhead. If your carry-on luggage is larger than the size of your personal item, you should check your bag before boarding. Carry-on baggage within the size limits of American Airlines will be checked, free of charge, during the boarding process and returned after deplaning. Depending on the time of year and where you fly, this will give you the opportunity to mingle with 50 of your new friends in either steam hot or freezing cold jet bridge. Fun! Despite this official rule there are some bags you can continue on a regional plane. Check out this article about the best hand luggage for regional aircraft. American Airlines Carry-On Prohibited Items There are certain items considered dangerous and classified as hazardous materials. Dangerous cargoes are prohibited with both manual and checked bags on all American Airlines flights. These rules are not specific to American Airlines and are sanctioned by the Federal Aviation Administration. The list includes items such as aerosols, fireworks, matches, etc... The full list can be found on the FAA website and on the TSA website. American Airlines Carry-On Liquids The rules for manual liquid are set by the TSA and FAA. American Airlines does not make the rules, but they must enforce them. Passenger TSA 3-1-1 Rule Each can carry liquids, gels and aerosols in containers the size of 3.4 ounces or Milliliters. Each passenger is limited to a one quart-sized bag of liquids, gels and aerosols. Common travel goods that must match Rule 3-1-1 liquids include toothpaste, shampoo, conditioner, mouthwash and lotion. Any liquid that does not meet the TSA 3-1-1 rule must either be checked with your luggage or discarded at the security checkpoint. Here's a short video to help illustrate: Exceptions to this rule are some medications and baby food/baby food. American Airlines Carry-On Food there are two different scenarios here. The food you bring with you from home and the food you buy at the airport after you have gone through security. It is important to note the classification of liquids compared to solid food. A general rule of thumb: If you can shed it, spread it, spray it, pump it, or pour it, then it is considered liquid or gel. This means that your food can be considered a liquid and fall under the TSA 3-1-1 liquids rule, which requires that any liquid, gel, cream, aerosol or paste in your hand luggage must be 3.4 ounces or less, and fit in a one quart size of the sealed bag (only one such bag is allowed per passenger). Here is a link to the TSA website advising that food can be delivered with you on your American Airlines flight. This applies to the food you bring from home through safety. Once you get through security, you can bring almost any food on the plane that you buy at the airport. American Airlines Carry-On Pet Policy On American flights you can bring 1 nursery as hand luggage if: You pay a hand-held pet charge Your pet stays in the nursery and under the seat in front of you the entire flight You can travel with your pet carrier and one personal item, but you will not be allowed to bring carry-on luggage in addition to the pet carrier and personal belongings. Instead, the nursery will replace your carry-on luggage. Carry-On Pet Fees Here is a diagram showing American Airlines pet fees charged each way. Double them for a round-trip flight. To/From Destination Pet Fee Every Way Within and between the United States and Canada, Mexico, Central America, Colombia and the Caribbean (based on the country's entry policy) the $125.00 Service Animal has some separate guidelines. Here's a link to the AA animal service rules. TSA Approved Pet Carriers If you plan on bringing your pet with you, make sure you follow the TSA Pet Policy and approved Pet Carrier, which complies with American Airlines pet policies. Policy.
