As with the word processr, Paper offers many ways to create a document: Start from scratch: just click to create a blank document, and start typing. The paper automatically formats as you enter- even creating a content table for you-to keep you focused. Work from the template: Paper displays several document templates. Or you can create your own template from the document you're using, complete with text filling. Then share your template with your co-workers to edit or start a new document. Create from events in your calendar: Connect your Google calendar or Microsoft Office 365 account, and you can easily create meeting notes. With just one click, Paper can automatically start a new document with meeting attendees and agendas from your event, as well as sections for topics of discussion and action. Imports from Microsoft Word: Have you created a document in another app? Paper can import and convert existing DOCX and TXT files so you can edit documents online. Let's see what happens in the Ferry Building. Tom When can you finish this editing? You can create documents with our OffiDOC app. This is software similar to Microsoft Word online.
