There are different size charts for different images. The most suitable figure can be determined by the way the waist as well as the length of the step. Both values can be determined with the measuring tape. To measure the waist, you need to place the ribbon at the middle point of the narrowest body. The length of the step is determined by applying a measuring tape along the inside of the leg. You have to measure from the length of the step up to your feet. If you want to buy trousers, you should make sure that the size stops right before the ground. This way, you will make sure that the suit trousers fall neatly at the top of your shoes. This is different in the case of casual pants because it is enough for you to measure half the height of the heel. It also ensures that the pants don't get dirty too quickly - for example, during an outdoor trip. Belly size for men If you are a man who prefers a slightly higher waist, you should choose trousers in so-called belly size. To determine the correct abdominal size, you should measure roughly at the navel level. The abdominal size system is designed according to the regular size system but is given in odd numbers. The stomach size starts at a size 47 and ends at a size 79. In terms of size, all well-known manufacturers provide two measurements. While the first size is between 26 and 48 and shows the waist, the second size is between 30 and 36 and reflects the length of the step. Men's trousers are manufactured in a variety of waist and step length combinations so you can easily find the right trousers for your individual physique. Trousers are measured in centimeters in Europe and inches in the US. The waist size is usually indicated by a W. For trousers with a value of W 25, this is taken meaning a pair with the smallest and most common waist width, which is 25 inches. This waist width is mainly for women's jeans, but can be found among jeans for boys and corresponds to a waist of 63.5 centimeters. The standard minimum value for men's trousers is W 28, with waist width up to W 40. The length of the legs is also indicated in inches and is marked with L. Just like the classic clothing size, the inner seam of the trousers is also measured. In principle, the length of men's and women's jeans is no different and ranges from 30 inches long, i.e. L 30, to 36 inches long, i.e. L 36. Individual manufacturers also produce in medium size, which is shown in odd numbers. A two-figure combination, which can be found on jeans and other casual pants thus waist width as well as step length. A pair of trousers in size 30/32, therefore, has a waist of 30 inches and a step length of 32 inches. If you want to convert size to a metric system, you'll need to use a factor of 2.54, because one inch equals 2.45 centimeters. Therefore, a pair with a length of 32 inches has a step length of 81 centimeters. Aside from the size of the trousers, pieces and matches are the most important features. American trouser sizes If you want to change the size of American clothing to European clothing or trouser sizes, this is a kid's game, because you only need to add a value of 10. In other words: A pair of trousers with an American size 40 according to a size 50 in Europe. British trouser sizes If you want to know which European trouser sizes match the size of British trousers, you need to do the same as you do with American trouser sizes, that is, add 10. Therefore, a pair of trousers with a BRITISH size 48 corresponds to a size 58 in Europe. For a more detailed guide on how to convert EU size to UK size, click here. Italian clothing size There is no formal difference between the size of Italian pants and european one because Italy and Europe work with the same measurement system. However, when buying a pair, you should remember that trousers made by Italian manufacturers are usually a little narrower. French clothing sizes of French pants are different. If you want to buy trousers in a size 40, you should choose a size 42 in France. Thus there are differences in various kinds of lots. Asian clothing sizes Find a comprehensive size guide to Asian Clothing Sizes here. This cutting form is available One of the criteria for classifying different types of trousers is pieces. Regarding length, they can be distinguished between trousers, trousers 7/8 and 3/4, as well as hot shorts and trousers. In addition, trousers differentiate according to how wide they are, what shape of legs they have, or how high their waist is. This is how, for example, trousers with rather low waists are called hipsters, and pants with very high waists are called High Waist Pants. So-called baggy pants are cut wide, with waists sitting below the hips. Baggy pants and Cargo pants have the same cut, but Cargo trousers don't sit below the waist. Leggings, Treggings, stirrup trousers as well as drainpipe trousers, skinny jeans, Capri trousers and hot trousers have rather narrow cuts. While Capri trousers reach the middle of the calf and are usually slightly slit on the side, the trousers are hot Tight shorts. Flared trousers are among the models with narrow tops and wide bottoms, which are also often called Trumpet trousers due to their trumpet-like shape. At a glance To determine the size of your trousers, you need to measure (1) waist (W) and (2) feet or long legs (L). Size trousers in on As is usually labeled W(x)/L(y) (for example, W34/L32 or 34/32). To get the appropriate UK or EU size, you need to refer to the international size conversion chart. The belt is always measured at the point of the body,i.e. the waist. For trouser length (inseam), measure the inside of the leg, from the groin to the bottom at the ankle or foot level. Record values in inches and centimeters. Trouser sizes vary between brands and different pieces. Currently, there are no clear standards available, which is why you need to refer to the specific size chart of each brand to find the trousers that work best for you. Best.
