Description : Automatic pressing will help you make repeated touches, anywhere on the screen, at any interval you point. It doesn't require root access. There is no limit to the range of clicks you choose: go safely only 2ms (500 clicks/sec). No matter how fast you install it, you can always stop clicking by clicking the Stop button on the screen. Automatic pressing has a floating control panel to easily control the automatic click. Make the panel automatically appear in selected apps and hide in everyone else. It's easy to choose a place to automatically click through individual click point widgets. Set the click speed, the number of clicks, and the length of each click directly from the control bar. The click location will be saved for each app, as well as the selected click interval and the number of clicks.
