St luke's whitestone cyo

ebrooklyn media/Photos by John Alexander The St. Anselm Angels girls' swimming team rubs off on the springboard at the awards ceremony. The St. Anselm Angels celebrated a winning season and finished second against teams from all over Brooklyn and Queens. The school consists of two teams, a girls' team and a boys' team, with a total of over 200 swimmers aged six to 14 in the first grade to ninth grade. Ted Ghorra trains the teams with January Mark. Brian Doherty and Nancy Ngai serve as assistant coaches. We are swimming as part of the CYO League's competition program, Ghorra told this newspaper. Our guys have reached the top of the Brooklyn Division teams and qualified for the Division A championships, according to Ghorra, who has been training for nine seasons. Our girls have finished their winning season in second place in the overall standings. We currently have 108 girls and 94 boys in the teams. The girls' ceremony took place April 11 at Fort Hamilton High School Pool. The team finished second overall at the Nassau Aquatic Center at Eisenhower Park in East Meadow. The winning team was FLUKES, a combined team of Holy Family, Flushing and St. Luke's, Whitestone. All 14 graduates from St. Anselm received an award for individual recognition. Two of my three daughters have gone through this program, says Doherty, who has been training for ten seasons. My older one completed this program last year. The great thing about the CYO program is that it's intramural - you swim against other parishes - but the format of the swimming program allows you to have a team that has 15 swimmers or a team that has 150 and they just work it in different heats. Everyone gets the chance to swim, so our program is gigantic. Ghorra's three daughters all compete in the girls' swimming team and his son participates in the boys' team. This swimming program is nams not just about swimming. Ghorra said. It's about life, it's about discipline, it's about self-respect and every week it's about respect for teammates and opponents. Win, lose or draw, we always cheer the other team that is nice to see. It's also about hard work and results like any other sport. It really is a lesson in life and the time we give the children comes back to us tenfold. This is our ultimate reward. Assistant coach Nancy Ngai, coaches Ted Ghorra and January Mark and assistant coach Brian Doherty. DIOCESE OF BROOKLYN'S MASS FOR LIFE KICKS OFF NOVENA TO PRAY FOR THE PROTECTION OF ALL HUMAN LIFE The Diocese of Brooklyn honors the holiness of human life with an opening mass for life on Thursday, January 21, 2021. Watch m at St. Joseph's Co-Cathedral, 856 Pacific Street in Prospect Heights, Brooklyn. The fair will be the start of the Days for Life Novena, which will provide daily reflections and opportunities for prayers and actions to promote respect for the whole of human life. Every year, parishioners from the Diocese of Brooklyn take part in the March for Life in Washington, D.C. to pray for an end to the tragedy of abortion. This year, the march for life is virtual due to the pandemic, so participation was not possible. But here in our diocese we can pray in communion for the protection of all human life, either at one of our masses or through this year's special novena, said the Rev. Joseph Gibino, Vicar for Evangelization and Catechesis. 9 Days for Life is sponsored by the United States Catholic Conference of Bishop's Committee on Pro-Life Activities and began in 2013. To participate in the Novena, the Mass will be broadcast live on NET-TV, the cable channel of the Diocese of Brooklyn, on <https://www.usccb.org/committees/pro-life-activities/join-9-days-life-thursday>. NET-TV, New York's Catholic station, is on Channel 97 on Spectrum, Channel 30 on Optimum and on Channel 548 on Verizon from Fios. The final mass for life will take place next week on Friday, January 29, at 7:30 p.m. at the Co-Cathedral of St. Joseph in Brooklyn. 2020-2021 Sports Season Good Day CYO Families.In accordance with the State of California– Health and Human Services Agency, the Diocese of Stockton CYO Ministry has met with Bishop Cotta and the Chancellor ...
