JUMP STRAIGHT TO SHOPPING LIST NEWBORN BABY SHOPPING LIST: WHAT TO BUY or PUT ON YOUR REGISTRY If you're mom-to-be keen to get started on your child's registry or baby shopping list, I'm here to help. Having been through this myself, I have learned a lot, and I am sharing all this here with you. I created a useful checklist of all the baby items you need and I've included photos of sure to have baby items because it's easier to plan when you can see what you need to buy! While you can go super minimalist and buy only naked essentials, I'm class needing as things you need to make your life as new a mom as easy as possible. I went back to all the things we bought or kindly gave and looked at how much we used them and how much help they actually had to care for a newborn baby. Take a look through this list and then start registering the baby by adding everything you want to it. You might just be at the start putting together your baby registry, so be sure to save this post to Pinterest or bookmark it. I totally and utterly invite you to start the Amazon Baby Registry right now and then add whatever you want from my shopping list and you'll be ready and ready to welcome your new baby to the world! Amazon's baby registry is brilliant because you can... Add products from any website. Get a FREE GOOD BOX costs $35. Get 10% COMPLETION DISCOUNT (15% for PRIME members) and there is a 365-day return policy. Start the Amazon Baby registry. BABY SLEEP ESSENTIALS Sleep is everything when you have a newborn! And for your baby and for you. So having a means to get your baby asleep and stayed asleep is vital. One of the biggies that we found really helped was creating a uterus-like experience for our baby daughter. Add these items to your shopping list to make the job of getting your baby to sleep so much easier. 1. MOSES BASKET/BASSINET/CO-SLEEPER Safe until the child is about three months old and reduces the risk of SIDS. This shared bed bed is a bestseller on Amazon, with 85% of five-star reviews out of a total of over 2,400 reviews. 2. 3 X SHEETS AND MATTRESS PROTECTORS 3 x sheets and 3 x mattress treads for the Moses basket/ cradle/joint sleeper. I suggest buying sets of three to minimize the nighttime laundry panic!! 3. WHITE NOISE MACHINE White noise machine, these things VIMKUT. They your baby is about being in the womb, which is such a great way to get them to sleep and sleep. 4. BLACKOUT CURTAIN Blackout Curtain. I couldn't recommend getting the curtain dimming higher. The darkened curtain curtain The perfect partner for the white noise machine to create a uterus-like environment for your baby to get a lovely cozy sleep 5. 3 X SWADDLE SACKS 3 x Swaddle bags, another essential for your womb as an arsenal!! SwaddleMe bags come in a wide range of delicious colors and patterns and are very popular on Amazon. I vote for swaddling bags over swaddling blankets because the kids still seem to be able to wriggle out of the swaddling blankets 6. BABY MONITOR Baby Monitor, the trend is to have a video monitor so that you can see and hear your baby while sleeping and then when they are in their room. Infant optics DXR-8 Video Baby Monitor is an absolute bestseller on Amazon, with an almost complete 5-star rating of more than 39,529 parents who have already bought one. Take a look at some of the five-star reviews here. Infant Optics DXR-8 Video Baby Monitor NURSERY NECESSITIES We started with our daughter sleeping in our room at night, which is in line with guidelines that say it is safe for a child to sleep in the same room as his parent/s for the first six to 12 months. However, we also set up a nursery for her where she slept during the day and into which she moved on. So, here are the children's needs you need to buy or sign up. 1. CONVERTIBLE CRIB There are a million different cribs to choose from, we went for one that converted from crib to baby bed - a great way to save money! The Dream On Me convertible crib is a really well priced bestseller on Amazon. It comes in 12 different colors and has an average of 4.6 star reviews from more than 1,400 happy parents. Dream On Me convertible crib 2. NATURAL CRIB MATTRESS We have invested a lot in buying a natural, breathable crib mattress. It was right to make sure that we put our daughter on a natural surface free of potentially harmful chemicals. This Newton Breathe-Thru crib allows air to flow freely to reduce the risk of suffocation and RE-breathing co2. He's won a lot of awards. Newton natural crib mattress 3. 3 x FIT CRIB SHEETS AND 3 X WATERPROOF MATTRESS COVERS The more you have, the less emergency laundry you find yourself doing!! DIAPERING SHOPPING LIST TOP TIP: Disposable diapers will be one of your biggest expenses. If you subscribe to the Amazon Baby Registry and spend $500 you will get 20% off diapers for your baby in the first year. There are two ways to combine your discount with another 20% discount: 1. DIAPERS there are environmental pros and cons like disposable diapers and reusable diapers. So I suggest you go with what you feel most comfortable with. We went with disposable diapers and I am very happy with our choice. So if you want to stock up on disposables, Ready by buying 84 x newborn size disposable diapers. If you want to go with reusable (cloth) diapers, go for a set of 15 x reusable diapers. Diapers. DIAPER CHANGING PAD This is one area where you can really cut costs... not spending on expensive diaper change units. We managed very well by just using a diaper changing pad either on our bed or on the nursery floor. Just make sure you go for the contour pad to keep your baby safe on it. This is the best-selling diaper change pad on Amazon. 3. DIAPER CHANGING KIT Stock up on biodegradable baby wipes and ointments 4. DIAPER PALE Now, this Ubbi smell of lock diaper pale is just brilliant because you don't need to buy individual diaper bags for it, you can just use any regular pale/garbage bags. It's BIG MONEY and TIME SAVER right there!!! Pale stainless steel and has an airtight lock to keep the bad smell of diapers, so your nursery smells fresh. I wish, wish, wish we had one of these, our pale needed its own diaper bag magazines and when it got full it gave with a flavor that wasn't the best. Take a look at the rave reviews from more than 5,000 happy parents. Ubbi Odor-Lock Diaper Pale TRAVEL EQUIPMENT LIST Leaving the hospital as new parents with a baby for the first time is one of the strangest feelings in the world ever!! We were eternally grateful that we took the time to put the car seat in the car's driveway before the birth. But despite this, we drove home about 10 miles per hour because we were so amazed at how much responsibility we now had to keep our daughter safe!! Here is a list of things we found necessary to travel with our daughter in her first weeks and months. 1. CAR SEAT THAT TURNS INTO A STROLLER You need a car seat by law, so it is very important if you bring your child home from the hospital by car or taxi. We got a car seat that installed on our stroller travel system, but I wish that the Doona car seat was around. Doona is a car seat that turns into a stroller. So on the one hand, you save money, and on the other hand - almost much more important hand - you save yourself a huge amount of time and stress because I can not tell you that the pain in the butt is the transfer of the car seat to the stroller system!! It has an almost complete five-star rating on Amazon. You'll also need a Doona car seat base and rain cover, and there's also a snap on the storage cart. This is just the kind of big ticket baby item to make sure you add to your baby registry (I recommend the Amazon Baby Registry). 2. BABY CARRIER OR SLING So, we started with the front carrier baby, which is a pretty structured piece of kit and my husband loved to wear our baby in it. which I totally and absolutely loved to use, my little daughter felt much more snuggled up to me than she did in the carrier, which was great for comforting her and a wonderful experience for me. It's really a matter of personal choice, so here's a bestseller The four-in-one convertible front-child carrier is worth considering and the bestselling Baby K'tan five-in-one baby sling. Infantino 4-in-1 baby carrier 3. DIAPER BAG or DIAPER BAG INSERT I went for a diaper bag when my daughter was a kid, however I also love the idea of getting a diaper bag inserted like these, which essentially turn any bag into a diaper bag, great if you really aren't in the whole diaper bag look! I like the idea of a backpack diaper bag, it helps to spread the weight when you are, and oh though of course it's good to have a bag that will slide over the handles of your stroller. This Ruvalino diaper backpack is a bestseller on Amazon and toteSavvy's Original 11-Pocket Diaper Bag Organizer Insert gets some great reviews from very happy moms. ToteSavvy Diaper Bag Organizer Insert FEEDING EQUIPMENT ESSENTIALS You can plan to breastfeed your baby, you can plan the formula to feed your baby. Until your baby is born there is no certainty about how you will actually feed your baby. For example, I planned to breastfeed, but eventually combined feeding - breastfeeding and formula-feeding - for a year. So here's a list of feeding essentials that will be prepared for whatever accident. 1. BABY BOTTLES Don't go buy a bunch of bottles until you know for sure how you will feed your baby. However, it is a good idea to have a couple of baby bottles ready for your newborn, at least it relieves the pressure. Go for bottles of newborn nipples that mimic breastfeeding like this from Comotomo (there's a lot of talk about bottle feeding tangled babies, I had no problem at all feeding my baby daughter out of a bottle and breastfeeding her). 2. BOTTLE STERIL'ERER We had this Philips Avent microwave steam sterilizer and it was wonderful. This is a true space saver and also much cheaper than buying a whole big baby sterilizer that sits takes a seat in your kitchen. It is an Amazon Choice product with over 5,000 rave reviews. Philips Avent microwave sterilizer 3. BREAST PUMP I had a hand breast pump, but if I did it over and over again, I would go for an electric breast pump. This Bellababy Double Electric Breast-feeding pump is a product of Amazon Choice, with over 4500 reviews from many happy breastfeeding moms. 4. NURSING PILLOW I've done so much using my pillow for feeding, this is what you think you don't need, but nursing a pillow makes it much easier to get your baby in a good position to feed and makes it much more comfortable for you. This Boppy Bare Naked Nursing Pillow and Positioner enjoys a huge Amazon with an almost solid five-star review rating.

Boppy Naked Nursing Pillow 5. BABY FORMULA Buy baby formula even if you have a heart set to breastfeed your baby. He's relieving the pressure. I am eternally grateful that we had some formula in hand, and as soon as I happens with breastfeeding I still used the formula at times. I've always gone for organic dairy formulas like Earth's best organic baby formula. There is a bunch of baby feeding items you want to add to your shopping list, they include: Speaking of nipple cream, this is a good chance for me to offer you a look at my checklist of everything you need in a postpartum care kit for yourself. While it is natural for most of all to focus on being on a newborn baby, you should also take care to take care of yourself and give your body a chance to recover and heal the postpartum. KEEPING BABY SAFE AND AMUSED Much like sleep is a big focus, it is also important to be prepared to keep your child safe and amused during his or her wakefulness. If you feel tired or need to get things done, waking can feel very long at times. I think it's pretty much important to have a baby seat and it's an added bonus to have an activity mat as well. Both will keep your child safe and stimulated during their wakefulness. 1. BABY SEAT Fisher-Price Infant-to-Toddler Rocker has soothing vibrations to soothe your baby, clackers and rollerball toys attached to help stimulate them and keep them amused and has two positions recline. You can use it to feed your baby in too, in the early days before you get to the highchairs. It's another great thing to make sure to add to your child's registry! Fisher Price Baby for Baby Rocker Chair 2. BABY ACTIVITY MAT So, this baby Einstein 4-in-1 Kickin' Tunes Music and Language Discovery Activity Play Gym is all you could ever want your child to amuse!!!! Baby Einstein Activity Mat BATHING AND HEALTH SHOPPING LIST I found useful to have a pair of baby towels with hoods and a stack of baby washcloths (these bamboo ones are great). Plus baby shampoo, baby wash and baby lotion. Don't buy talcum powder, it's really not good for your child! There is a lot of debate about whether you really need a baby bath, but my voice is firm in what you do. It just makes life that little bit easier (and safer) and it's something you really appreciate when you're tired and struggling with a wet, wriggling baby. 1. BABY BATHTUB First years sure comfort Deluxe newborn for baby Tub is an extremely popular bestseller on Amazon, just look at 9500 reviews from happy buyers. It can be used in a sink or bathtub. It is ergonomic, easy to clean and comes with a sling to sit your baby in the bath. The first years of Baby Bath TUB NEWBORN BABY CLOTHES NECESSITIES I'm going to stick to the need here, you, Get bought gorgeous baby clothes as gifts - and find yourself buying tons of gorgeous baby outfits as well. So here are the absolute needs that you need for your newborn baby. 1. NEWBORN AND 0-3 MONTH ONESIES Buy yourself 8 to 16 newborn onesies and the same in Months. It's amazing how fast children grow up in the first weeks. Onesies keep your baby comfortable, super easy to put on and take off and give you easy access for diaper changes. These Gerber organic cotton onesies are Amazon's bestseller, they come in packs of five and are really well priced. Gerber Organic Baby Onesies 2. SOCKS AND HATS you will need a sunny hat for summer kids and a cozy hat for winter kids. Also, you need socks to keep your newborn's feet warm. Now one discovery I made is that kids know how to get their socks off, so we bought some sets of these wonderful things called Sock Ons. They do as their name suggests and keep babies socks on!! Genius! Want to have a copy of this full newborn baby shopping list with photos? Download the FREE PDF printed version. He got all the shoppable links to the best buy baby products. So it's worth taking some time to plan how you are going to shop for the baby. Here is a list of some useful things to consider that will help you plan your baby shopping better. WHEN SHOULD YOU START BUYING THINGS FOR YOUR BABY? Even if learning that you are pregnant can be one of the most joyful moments of your life, I would suggest you pac yourself before rushing to buy a lot of stuff for your baby and nursery. Maybe satisfy your desire to spend by buying yourself some first trimester pregnancy should be a mute. There are a few things that you should take into account before you start buying your baby: 1. TIME on your SIDE If you don't find out late, you have a few months between figuring out you are pregnant and giving birth. 2. 12 WEEKS Consider waiting until you have passed the 12-week point and done the first scan. Maybe meet your short-term shopping hikes by putting together your child's registry/wish list? 3. GENDER I am massively pro gender-neutral children's clothing and toys. However, if you know you are going to find out the sex of your baby ahead of birth, you might well be better off buying some things on your shopping list prior to after a big show. 4. BABY SHOWER If someone throws you a baby shower it would be good to sign up for a baby registry and then do your own shopping once you have had a shower. Baby showers usually occur between month 6 and month 8. So think about the timing that works best for you. 5. AIM FOR DONE BY 8 MONTHS It's a good idea to buy important baby things by the time you are 8 months pregnant. There are several reasons for this: You'll be on your heaviest and the most tired by this pointA deadline is the approximate estimate, your child may come earlyIt will keep keeping Stress levels are down and you can focus on buying more fun stuff Like a note, it's also a good idea to have your hospital bag prepared and packed for eight months too. I have a message about a hospital bag of essentials to include for you, your new baby and the baby daddy/birth partner. 6. MONEY SAVING Depending on the time of year your baby should, there might be some good opportunities to buy great baby stuff and save money. I think Black Friday, January sales, summer sales. It's a good idea to have a budget drawn up and then you can plan into buying something if you find it with big savings. Speaking of money saving, here are some great tips on how to save money on buying stuff for your new baby. FREE BABY SHOPPING TOOLS I love the list and I think compiling a baby shopping list is a great way to make sure you stay on track with buying your child essentials. I've included two free children's stores list of tools for you. A free google shopping list is complete with a budget tracker and a free printed child registry list. Don't worry, no email sign up for access or freebies. 1. FREE NEWBORN BABY GOOGLE SHEETS CHECKLIST PRINTABLE WITH BUDGET TRACKER Use a free Google checklist list to keep track of the needs you need to buy, where you plan to buy them and cost. This is a great way to keep to budget and not get overwhelmed by the process of getting ready for your baby to arrive. Links to the Google sheet click up to the current bestselling products for each item. Please note I will get a small commission if you make a purchase after clicking on the link. Access shopping list here: Newborn Baby Google Shopping List. Just click on the link and then follow the instructions to copy and save this copy. 2. FREE NEWBORN BABY REGISTRY CHECKLIST PRINTABLE I have created a newborn print checklist for your baby registry, it's free for you to access (no email required) Just print it out to plan your newborn baby's shopping list and what to add to your baby's registry. Access to the children's PDF registry here: FREE Children's Registry Printed Checklist. Just click on the link and then follow the instructions to copy and save this copy. HOW to save money on your BABY SHOPPING Here are some great tips about things to keep in mind before you start putting together your newborn baby shopping list. 1. PLAN in front of you SHOP ONLINE online shopping is so easy and I sincerely accept it. However, this is not always the best way to save money. Especially if you End up filling the cart to get free shipping! Sometimes a well-planned shopping trip will save you money. 2. DIAPER SAVINGS diapers are a big expense. Your baby is likely to use them until sometime between 18 months (super before in my book) and three years old. Of course, some children need them longer. When buying the first packet of diapers Be the thrill of buying your fiftieth will be less! Some parents would like diaper stocks ahead of the baby arriving so they can home on the best deals. Be sure to hold on to receipts if you do this as you won't know for sure that the diapers you bought work well for your baby while your child uses them. TOP TIP: Sign up for the Amazon Baby registry, spend $500 and get a 20% discount on diapers in your child's first year of life. Amazon Prime members can also subscribe to Amazon Family and get an additional 20% discount. Or anyone can sign up to sign up and save and get up to 20% extra discount (maximum total discount 40%). 3. BUY MULTI-PURPOSE BABY STUFF You can't do it with everything, but here are a few ideas: The baby crib that is transformed into a toddler bedThe Stokke Tripp Trapp baby seat is an amazing piece of kit as it can be adapted as your baby becomes both toddler and child. Children's travel system - can fit a child car seat, will support your child lying down and then when they sit. 4. CHANGE UP YOUR WASHING AND GROOMING ESSENTIALS The most important thing when washing and bathing your child is to make sure that the products you use are as simple and free of nasties as possible. However, this does not necessarily mean that you have to buy everything, especially for the child. If you haven't already, consider replacing your everyday shower gel, washing your face, shampooing for delicate, organic, chemical products that everyone in the family can use. 5. BORROW RATHER THAN BUY There are some beautiful imu substances like the Moses basket that your baby will be in for a few weeks. Ask a friend for one to borrow or have as a hand me down and then pass the favor when you're done with it. I really hope that this list of children's essentials helped you put together a baby shopping list, which means that you are ready for the arrival of your newborn baby with plenty of energy to spare in order to most of the first few days, weeks and months with your precious new baby. I have a growing list of new mom and baby posts, so take a look and see if there's anything else I can help you with.
