Doug Heward-Mills is known for his crusades of the Healing Jesus throughout the African continent with thousands of visitors and many attendant wonders. The son of a lawyer, Doug gave his life to the Lord as a teenager. During his seven-year studies at Medical School, he became a pastor in Accra, Ghana and started what is now a rapidly growing denomination: Lighthouse Chapel International, which has over 1,000 branches and is located on every continent. It was in 1988 in Sukhum, a small town in Ghana, that God placed an anointing on him to teach. He started holding classroom meetings on campus with only a few people. As attendance steadily grew, more and more halls had to be used until finally in 2006, he commissioned the construction of one of the largest church complexes in Africa! The prolific author of several bestsellers, his radio, TV and Internet programs reach millions around the world. Other outreach activities include pastors and ministerial conferences and the acclaimed Anagkazo Bible and Ministry Training Center. Part of the series loyalty, Loyalty and Disloyalty firmly touches on a fine line that distinguishes between two relationships, and speaks of the defining moments that we all need to know in our own lives, and the lives of those around us. This book is a roadmap for both leaders and followers. As leaders, we need wisdom to guide our sensitivity. Picking up disloyalty early on in those around us can prevent disaster later. Taking action quickly and firmly is vital. As followers, we must be well aware when our own devotion to our shepherds is distracted within ourselves. Although this is God's main requirement for leaders, very little has been written on this subject. In this book, Doug Heward-Mills lays out very important principles, with the intention of improving the stability of churches. The content of this book is so relevant and practical that it has become an indispensable tool for many church leaders. Doug Heward-Mills is the founder of Lighthouse Chapel International, which has become a global denomination. I believe that your life will be greatly enriched and renewed as you absorb and apply the truth it brings to light. Of course, it is God's desire that you become a leader who has a purpose, and consistently in your personal life and ministry. You will not only understand your need to be a great leader, but also how to achieve it with victory and confidence. - John Delgado, President of Vision International University, Florida, USA. © 1996-2014, Amazon.com, Inc. or its affiliates

Begin Its Review Review Loyalty and disloyalty stimulate the study of loyalty and disloyalty. But I think the description of Goodreads is for the wrong book. 2017 Popsugar reading challenge #23 book with a red spine. This is the most powerful book I've ever read. His not only the ecclesiastical things he deals with, he goes deeper than jobs, but right into the family when it comes to the fidelity and disloyalty of this book was written to anoint God by his servant He forms the mind of a church member on how to be faithful to God and the pastor. This helps a Christian to be submissive to God and his/her pastor. This book is awesome and will help you take a look at your level of loyalty. I love it... ☺ book for church leaders. it helps leaders be vigilant and members to be faithful. This book should read!! I liked this book because of the author's understanding of the subject. Also, various lists of great heuristics look for when determining a person's level of loyalty, or my own. I thought the book was best for Church leaders. Also, I think parts of the book may not be so effective with churches in North American culture because it is written with African culture in mind. However, there are some cultures in the US that seem to share the same descri issues I enjoyed this book because of the author's understanding regarding the topic. More What a powerful book about loyalty! Its written for ministers and pastors, but the same signs of disloyalty can be seen in the business world. Managers, managers, etc. can benefit from many of the same concepts found in this book. Much is obvious, but this book serves as a good reminder for obvious and less obvious signs of disloyalty. The book is well written and its contents are easy to digest - but even a stone can be easily digested (once it has been properly armored). For me, sticking to the contents of this book makes it difficult, (almost comically so) not to end up with a bad gaggle that closely mirrors the Trump administration. This book has a true element in that there is spiritual submission to each other and that there are presbyteries (church leaders, but the methods it lays out in people are very similar to the secular structure of power, which contradicts the structure of the Kingdom of God. Why teach on the subject of Loyalty and Disloyalty? I believe that the Lord has put this practical theme on my heart for various reasons. First of all, I saw the relevance of this question in the Word of God. Scripture is replete with accounts of faithful and insidious people. There is much to learn from these accounts in the Bible. My few years in the ministry also made me very aware of loyal and disloyal people. I have noticed the impact this has on churches and ministries. In the next few pages I'm told you a few reasons why the topic of loyalty is so important. Seven reasons why the topic of loyalty is an important one. Loyalty is the main qualification for every minister. An inexperienced person is more likely to think that the more gifted you are, the more qualified you are for the ministry. My little experience has shown me that it is believers and faithful people in the church who are most qualified to be leaders. Friendly and flashy! An inexperienced man thinking that a friendly brother would be a good pastor. He may also think that someone with good oratorical skills will make a better preacher. Don't make that mistake. Teh teaches us that a fundamental requirement for leadership is loyalty, not anything else. ... stewards require that the person be found faithful. 1 Corinthians 4:2 I have many wonderful pastors who work with me. Many of them are not too friendly, flashy or especially gifted. But time has proved that they are the best gifts God has given His church and me. 2. To fight the 5th Column Very early on in my ministry I realized that the devil is an expert on the destruction of the church from within. If you are a good minister, called by God and do the right thing, the devil will have very little opportunity to fight against you from the outside. As Jesus said ... prince of this world cometh, and hath nothing in me. John 14:30 You will realize that Satan often has no reason to launch deadly attacks on you from the outside. Jesus said that although the enemy was following him, he had no reason to destroy him. There are many anointed preachers in the same category. Satan has no reason to overcome them, so he must use someone from within. In the case of Jesus, it was a traitor (Judas) who was used by Satan. I remember reading the story of an army general who surrounded a big city to conquer it. This city was heavily fortified by a high and imposing wall and gate. An army general surrounded the city in readiness for attack. A friend of the general came and asked him, sir, how do you think you are going to overcome the defenses of this city? No one in recent history has been able to conquer this great city. The army general smiled and said: This is my fifth column. I depend on them to do the trick. The general's friend was very interested and asked, what is this fifth column? I thought you only had four columns. The army general replied that I had a fifth column. Oh I see. Is it a special commando unit or are they airborne paratroopers? the man asked. I'll fight from within the general laughed, no, this is not one of them. My fifth column consists of my spies, agents, friends and supporters who are already in town. Just wait. They will open these big gates from the inside and my armies will rush in. only so the enemy can destroy a successful and powerful ministry that does everything right. It has to come from within. The fifth column consists of disloyal, double-faced, two-headed and dissatisfied people in every ministry. If these people are allowed to wreak havoc as they can so well, they will destroy the church. I had a disloyal assistant I remember years ago, when I started in the ministry, I experienced the effect of having a disloyal partner. This man, though officially standing on my right side, did not believe in me and mutter against me all the time. His house was a meeting place for all disgruntled In the church. Every time they met, they discussed and criticized me. Sometimes they talked about how I preached. At other times, it was like I was drinking water in the middle of my sermon. Once again, some felt I wasn't friendly enough. But the Lord revealed it all to me. I prayed about it and asked the Lord what to do. God told me to get rid of this guy. I said, Lord, do you mean he has to leave the church? And the Lord said, I mean just that! Fire him otherwise you will never have peace and your church will never grow. So I called for a meeting of the church elders. At the meeting, I said I understood that Brother X did not support me. It is constantly full of bitter criticism. I told Brother X, I know you no longer believe in my leadership. I've coached you. I raised you. And today you're too big to stay under my authority. I said, what do you think we should do? Then my brother said, Let's get it ready. But the Scripture that the Lord showed me came to my mind. Produce contempt, and discord must come out; Yes, the struggle and reproach will stop. The parables of 22:10 I spoke, pointed to my assistant and said: You know, as well as I do, that it will not work. You don't believe in me anymore. I continued, from today, I have relieved you of all your duties in this church. He sprayed that! Then he said that I would continue to come to church, even if I may not have certain responsibilities. You have to leave this church right now! But I told him no! You have to leave! You're not a part of us. Your presence in the church will be devastating. I'm telling you, it wasn't easy to fire a friend and associate for years. But it had to be done. The Bible tells us that when Abraham was in conflict with Lot, he ordered Lot to go somewhere else! Abraham said: if we are apart, there will be peace and God's work can continue. A disloyal man breeds hostility, hatred and murmuring. These disloydly moods are like the smoke that fills the whole house. The only way to get rid of the smoke is to get rid of the fire. If we want to have a big church, we have to work with love and on the one hand. If we can't be one of them, let's stop pretending. You see, I encourage people to come out of my church if their hearts are not with me. The one who is not with me is against me... Matthew 12:30 I'll ask you to leave if I have to. I'm serious about it. I'll even give you money to pay for your transportation and snacks as you leave us! So that those of us who love each other and are confident in each other can stay together and continue to work. Get rid of the challengers. I don't know how to pretend. I just don't know how to do it. But there are many applicants in the church. They pretend to love you and support you, but in their hearts they despise 3. For the Love of Love to fill the church the ministry must work with the power of love, unity and teamwork. By doing so, all people will know that you are my disciples if you have love for each other. John 13:35 To be a minister as effective leaders, you must show the love that Jesus spoke of. People are attracted to love. When they see leaders who flow together in genuine love they are attracted. You must never forget that your members are not blind. They're not deaf either. They can see and feel disunity and discord when it is. Sheep only drink from still Waters One thing that every pastor should know about sheep is that they drink from other waters. If the water is muddy and rough, the sheep will stay away. You see, they're not sure there's no crocodile in the water! ... it leads me beside other waters. Psalm 23:2 Whenever there is betrayal and distrust, members of your church become frightened and careful and stay away. 4. Having a large and successful one person ministerial team can only do so much. One pastor can only be in one place at a time. He can only minister until his power (which is limited) is exhausted. Because of this, anyone who wants to expand their ministry and bear many fruits must learn to work with many other people. These people are the team I'm talking about. However, it is better to work alone than with a team of disloyal, dissatisfied, disjointed and dissatisfied people. In fact, there can be no effective team with such people.
