Articles and speeches express the personal opinion of the writer. Entry for an article/speech can be in the form of verbal/visual input. The exit can be descriptive or controversial. Writing an article is quite a challenge. It includes a high degree of creativity, a wide vocabulary, a deep knowledge of the subject, some research and many organizational abilities. You also need to keep in mind the target readers, the purpose of writing the article, and the appropriate style. The article is part of non-fiction prose writing specifically designed for newspapers, magazines or school magazines. The article is written for a specific purpose like informing, persuading, persuading or entertaining the reader. It is divided into three main parts. This Introduction This part sets the content. This sentence or paragraph should have a thought-provoking language in order to get the reader's attention. The Body This part should detail different aspects of the topic as causes, effects, benefits, disadvantages, pros, disadvantages, etc. Conclusion It completes the basic idea and presents your point of view, comments or criticism as well as your recommendations. Articles always end with an appeal, opinion or warning. Points that should be kept in mind to understand carefully the hints / information presented in question. Arrange all the hints/information in the manner in which you want them to evolve to write the article. Use the clues/information presented in the question after they are properly interpreted. Divide your article into a few paragraphs. All sentences in each paragraph should logically lead to the purpose for which the article is written. The whole composition should not be sketchy. Each sentence should be linked to the rest as a whole. The language of the article should be simple, essentially, and objective. Avoid using informal expressions, slang (words that are not used in literary language) or abbreviations, especially in persuasive or argumentative articles. Articles are usually written in the third person. Stick to the word limit of 150-200 words. I. BASED ON VERBAL INPUT Issue 1: Many children get nervous before exams, which affects their health and performance. Good counseling is needed to help them overcome what is called exam fever. Write an article in 150-200 words on the need for counseling before the council exams. You are Mallika/Mihir. A: The need for counseling before the Mihir Council exams when board exams approach, schools work hard to prepare their students for success in them. Additional classes are held, additional tasks are given and trial tests, called pre-installations are conducted. But what many schools are not trying to do is develop mechanisms to relieve students' stress, by organizing seminars or consultations They need help to do this task. Consultants. These consultants identify students who are stressed and help them relieve the anxiety and fear associated with exams. The level of anxiety of such a student automatically begins to trouble during this part of the year. The system has become so competitive that although schools do not want to burden children with their studies, they eventually allow students to enroll in coaching and training. Parents can help their children guide them, not control them, and after simple advice. They need to provide a positive environment at home, in addition to helping the child to balance activities in the day (too much learning is not productive), providing healthy food and snacks during the day, and making sure that the child is able to relax during the day and ensure proper sleep at night for him. Parents should understand that they should also donate to outs or parties and be there when their child needs them, stop comparing them to other children, and avoid statements that create anxiety or fear. Parents should understand that the exam is just another event in life, not a monster or something to be afraid of. Issue 2: You are Aditi / Aditya. You visited the Taj in Agra during the fall holidays when the Historical Society of your school organized the trip. You were impressed and noted the following points: Autumn break - closed school - trip to Agra organized-travel-Taj Express - first look at the Taj Impressions - History Teacher as a guide - some other places that visited - Red Fort, Fatehpur Sikri - trip: educational and entertaining. Using the above notes and your own ideas, write an article on Visit to a place of historical interest in 150-200 words. Answer: VISIT TO A PLACE HISTORICAL INTEREST (by Aditi / Aditya) Schools in Delhi are closed for the fall holidays on Saturday, September 27. The Historical Society of our school organized a trip to Agra. We started early the next morning taj Express. The two-hour journey was very enjoyable and quite comfortable. Half an hour later, we saw the Taj for the first time. It really is a marvel of marble, one of the wonders of the world. The serene beauty of the Taj inspires me. I thought it was a dream in marble. Our history teacher also played the role of a guide. He explained in detail each part of this monument. We then visited other places of historical interest such as Red Fort and Moti Masjid. The visit to Fatehpur Sikri and Buland Darwaja filled us with excitement. This historic city is now uninhabited. In general, the trip was very much fun and exciting. For the first time the story appeared as a bright and lively theme. Issue 3: In most Indian families, especially in rural areas, the girl is considered inferior to the male child As a result of this bias, the daughter of the daughter burden, and it suffers from discrimination in food, freedom, health and education. Write an article in 150-200 words showing how this attitude is harmful and unfair. You are Satien/Sunidi. Answer: EVILS OF GENDER DISCRIMINATION (by Satyca / Surdhi) In our male-dominated society, a girl is considered inferior. The birth of a male child is an event to celebrate while a female child is rued. In rural areas, this prejudice is more pronounced. Daughters are not given quality food. Milk, eggs, fruit, etc. are reserved for boys. Girls are sent to schools that have no claim to any quality education or institutions. On the other hand, boys are sent to the most exclusive public schools. After school, daughters stay at home and help with housework. Boys go out to meet friends, enjoy movies and shows or play games. These are girls who face all kinds of restrictions. This discrimination is unfair and harmful. Ultimately, society suffers. Girls also have intelligence, talent and creativity. Indeed, they have more sensitivity, love and love. We must put an end to the evil discrimination against girls. Issue 4: Information technology has provided students with new opportunities for learning, creativity, discovery, and employment opportunities at home and abroad. Computers led to a quiet revolution. Write an article of 150-200 words showing how information technology has provided the younger generation with new opportunities, the joy of discovery and the thrill of creativity. You are Madhu Munit. Answer: INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY AND YOUNGER GENERATION (Madhu /Munit) Information technology have provided new opportunities for students to acquire knowledge, enhance the thrill of creativity, enjoy the pleasures of discovery, and new employment opportunities in homes and abroad. Computers led to a quiet revolution. These electronic devices are as effective as the best human brains. Computers have become indispensable in data processing and resource planning. Access to the Internet has opened up an extensive field of knowledge for the computer operator. A computer is more than a calculated machine. No doubt he made lengthy calculations and elaborated tedious pleasure issues. Writing articles also helps as a good friend by correcting spelling and grammatical errors. Web design, email and e-commerce are very exciting and useful. Issue 5: Our country is prone to disasters such as floods, droughts, cyclones or earthquakes. Special measures are being taken to deal with every disaster. Slow reaction leads to loss of life and property. Write an article for the newspaper with proposals to eliminate the consequences Disasters. You can offer special equipment, trained personnel, better transport and communication, quick solutions and quick implementation. Your article article be 150-200 words. You're Shishir/Shveta. Answer: DISASTER MANAGEMENT (by Shishir / Shveta) Our country is prone to disasters such as floods, droughts, cyclones or earthquakes. We have neither a clear disaster management policy nor any force in dealing with this problem. Special measures are being taken to deal with every disaster. We wait and watch as others join the fight. There is a heated debate over the jurisdiction-center or state liability, official evaluation and survey before any assistance rushed to the affected area. Slow reaction leads to the destruction of precious human life and valuable property. We must have clear, well-defined guidelines for disaster management. A well-trained task force, equipped with special equipment and trained personnel, should be drawn up. Its supervisor should have the power to make decisions and ensure that they are implemented as soon as possible. Improving vehicles and communications will deliver better results. The bureaucratic structure should not be allowed to interfere with the work of the disaster management team. Issue 6: Hypocrisy exists in abundance in our society. People don't practice what they preach. They have double standards; rude and dishonest, but expect courtesy and honesty from others.- There are numerous examples of lack of sincerity in our daily experience. Write an article of 150-200 words showing how this behavior causes disharmony at home, in the neighborhood and at work. You are Harsha / Christit. Answer: HYPOCRISY (by Harsha / Christit) My neighbor shows great concern for the poor, but beats his fourteen-year-old servant black and blue. Mr. Seth, a wealthy man living in this luxurious house expects the government to do everything for him, but he evades taxes. The pious old woman upstairs feeds the sacred cow, ants and birds, but is merciless to her neighbor's dog and kicks, shoos away and beats the poor puppy whenever he strays in her path. Thus, in small cases and big, we find people lacking sincerity in their relationships with others. The consequences of such hypocritical and discriminatory behaviour are seriously damaging and damaging. They cause a disturbance in the family. Love is lost between brothers and family ties are weakened. Our neighbors are starting to lose faith in us. Suspicion and selfishness replace trust and selfless service. Thus, good neighbourliness is broken and the life of the community is clouded by a virus of hypocrisy. At work, too much dishonesty can ruin a thriving business. Therefore, people should control their selfishness and be truthful in their relationships. Issue 7: You are Renu / Rohit. Write an article of 150-200 words for your school magazine on journalism as a career. You can use moments as well as their own ideas. Journalism: Suitable for those who are good at languages, who want to submit submit for the public - complex and mobile - new forms - television news, sports, travel, journalism - can bring name, fame and money - need courage and honesty. Answer: JOURNALISM AS A CAREER (Renu/Rohit) Among the many careers open to young people, journalism is perhaps one of the most complex, mobile and adventurous, but also useful. Not everyone has tea in journalism. This requires special skills, primary and the main one is a good knowledge of the language. Only those who can use language effectively should opt for this career. Journalism is currently in charge of current affairs. Therefore, those who aspire to become journalists should have a great interest and awareness of politics, international affairs and social studies. Journalists are the most active media outlets. The influence of the media on the public at large is very powerful. That's why it's a great responsibility for journalists. The journalism under investigation is the last breed. It aims to unravel the truth behind the performances. Some investigative journalists, such as Arun Shuri, have achieved name, fame and phenomenal success through their writings. Some new forms of sports journalism, film, television news and travel journalism. It's a difficult career for young people. It has great promise but requires courage, integrity and the ability to rough it up. Issue 8: You are Asitwa/Ashita. This year, your students have organized many campaigns to raise public awareness of some rampant social ills. Your school's efforts have been praised by both the press and the public. Write an article on the Role of Students in National Development for publication in The Indian Express (word limit 150-200). Answer: ROLE OF STUDENTS IN NATIONAL DEVELOPMENT (by Astitva/Ashita) Students are the pride and glory of the nation. They can play a very constructive role in the progress, recovery and development of the country. In the new millennium, information technology has turned the world into a global village. Our educated youth bear great responsibility for their young shoulders. Our country is overcrowded and suffering from poverty, ignorance, illiteracy and superstition. Young students can play a positive and constructive role in all areas of national development. They can educate residents about new methods in agriculture. By making them literate, students can provide them with valuable advice in building cooperative societies. This will help in getting money through self-employment. In short, they can bring transformation to society. Issue 9: You are Sudhir Ranjan from Cambridge Senior High School, Gurgaon. You have visited a hiking and hiking expedition to the hills organized by your school during the summer holidays. Write an article (approximately 150-200 words) for your magazine, expressing their opinion on the tour and suggestions for improvement. Answer: Answer: TREKKING EXPEDITION (Sudhir Ranjan) Our hiking and hiking expedition to Gaumuh, the source of the Ganges River in the Himalayas of Garhwal, was partially successful. We had to hire ponies to cover the difficult terrain. Sometimes we had to ask for the help of vehicles to accommodate two or three members of our trekking party who were either suffering from exhaustion or lack of acclimatization. Despite these minor stimuli, we managed to get to Uttarkashi, from where we hired some equipment for our expedition to Gangotri. Located at an altitude of 3048 meters, Gangotri was a bit of a disappointment. Not only was it crowded with pilgrims, but the ashrams were commercialized. Most pilgrims do not go beyond Gangotri. We walked 11 km to Bhojbasa at an altitude of 12,000 feet. The next morning we started in Gaumuh, which was still 4-5 km. However, the sight of the Ganges rushing from the mouth of the glacier into a thunderous stream made us forget all the fatigue. It was bliss. In the future, only strong students who will be able to cope with long walks in difficult terrain should be selected. Issue 10: Rita, a grade 11 student at St. Mary's Monastery in Kanpur, is appalled by the municipal unrest and unrest in the city. She discusses the issue with her teacher, who tells her about India's secularism, democracy and socialism, and the efforts of religious fanatics to spread inter-moon hatred that cripples the economy and hinders development. Motivated by discussion, Rita writes an article about The Bath of Communalism for his school magazine (limitation of words: 150-200). Write an article for her. Answer: BANE OF COMMUNALISM (by Ritu) Communalism is a black spot on the fair name of secular India. The cancer of communism is driving into the vital forces of our country. Every year we riot and arson in a big city. Mass riots are common in cities such as Aligarh, Meerut, Moradabad, Kanpur and Ahmedabad. Religious intolerance is the root cause of communism. It is fanned by religious fanatics who spread community hatred to feather their own nest. These narrow people, suffering from sectarian or communal prejudices, have no rational, scientific and democratic approach. They harm the nation, damaging the economy and hindering development. Communism is also spread by politicians seeking to become self-re seek. It is time for organizations and peoples who divide people in the name of religion and block the progress of secular, socialist and democratic India to be brought to the book. Issue 11: You are Rahul/Rashmi. You are faced with news about the migration of talented and highly educated young professionals to advanced countries for good salaries and benefits or lack of proper News hints at mother nation's loss in talents and resources. Using these moments and your own ideas write an article about the threat of the brain-Drain for publication in the Hindustan Times. Answer: MENACE FROM BRAIN DRAIN (Rahul / Rashmi) India faces a huge scale problem these days. It's made by man. Every day we are faced with news about the migration of talented and highly educated young professionals to the developed countries of Europe and America for good salaries and benefits or for lack of adequate funds. This continuous drain of talent has had a negative impact on our country. India and its people are deprived of the fruits of their knowledge and experience. Their migration, sometimes forever, results in serious losses for the mother nation in terms of talent and resources. It is recognized that India lacks the funds and equipment offered by developed countries. In addition, our organizations suffer from bureaucracy, corruption and nepotism. Stagnation and lack of promotion are disappointing and despair. Effective steps must be taken to preserve the best brains in our country. Issue 12: India has been confronted and fought against terrorism for the past twenty years. In fact, terrorism has broken peace and harmony in the country and created panic and insecurity in some areas/States. Write an article in about 150-200 words for the song Terrorism: The Curse of Humanity. You're Deepak/Jioti. Answer: TERRORISM: CURSE TO HUMANITY (by Deepak/ Jyot) Terrorism is the biggest threat that the world faces today. Modern terrorism thrives because of its ability to insing where it hurts the most. The aim of terrorists is to create fear, anxiety, panic and anxiety in the minds of ordinary people. They believe in destruction and death and create lawlessness. Innocent citizens are now victims of terror and violence. Helpless citizens are used as pawns and ransoms for putting pressure on governments. Sometimes Governments also feel helpless and succumb to their illegal and exorbitant demands for money, material resources and the release of other terrorists. As the authorities bow to the demands of terrorists, citizens lose faith in the government. On September 11, 2001, terrorists attacked twin towers in America, killing thousands of people. The state of Jammu and Kashmir was contaminated by terrorists. Even the Indian Parliament was targeted on 13 December 2001. The last attack in Mumbai on the Taj Hotel on November 26, 2008. The Government must enact strict laws to combat this scourge against humanity. Issue 13: Computers have brought a revolution in our lives. For students, they offer great joy, information, excitement of creativity and discovery, as well as employment opportunities in India and abroad. In fact, the computer has become a necessity in day-to-day life. Like Manish/Manju, 150-200 words of words showing how computers are computers a new world of discoveries and opportunities for young people today. Answer: COMPUTER-AN ESSENTIAL AID (by Manish/ Manju) Computer is the latest science boon of youth modern. It is a device that has expanded the boundaries of knowledge, opened up a new world of discovery and provided new employment opportunities. The establishment of the Internet has made possible and accessible the flow of the latest knowledge. A computer with its excellent ability to solve complex problems is an important one called helping modern youth. Schools and colleges teach students how to use the computer logically and methodically. Information technology makes extensive use of a computer. Now the computer is used in almost all offices, banks, hospitals, business institutions and even in defense. Computer and software professionals have many jobs in India and abroad. Using a computer also offers great joy, excitement of creativity and discovery. The computer is the most effective servant a man has ever had. Issue 14: You are Namit/Neha. You recently read a report in the newspaper that children have developed a tendency to be obese, physical inactivity, but mental dexterity as a result of watching too many television programs. Write an article to be published in your school magazine about how cable TV is both a boon and a scourge.

Your article should not exceed 200 words. Answer: CABLE TV-A BOON OR A BANE (by Namit/Neha) Television has brought a remarkable transformation in people's lifestyle and outlook. Through news and views, documentaries and short films he highlighted social problems such as the evil dowry system, black marketing, falsification, corruption, political bribery taking campaigns, etc. Several national development programs, such as family planning, adult education, campaigning on small savings, eye donation, blood donation, plantation trees and anti-pollution, were familiar to us on television. Cable TV is working one step further. It provides us with TV series, plays, live musicals, live sports, face-to-face interactions with prominent people and instant news. But cable TV has a thorn a/o. Children sit glued to it. They watch their programs and eat junk food. They expand their knowledge, but are usually obese and physically inactive. These sofa potatoes also become stubborn, uncivilized, ill-mannered and cruel as a result of violence, nudity and foreign culture on screen. In this sense, television is a scourge. Parents should advise their children to choose their children carefully. Issue 15: Meenakshi, a grade XI student feels very concerned when she reads about the price increases of basic commodities such as gas, legumes, vegetables, etc. article on the price-hike of major commodities for publication in the local daily, offering certain steps to curb this threat. Threats. PRICE-HIKE OF ESSENTIAL COMMODITIES (by Meenakshi) Prices for basic commodities such as gas, legumes, vegetables, etc. have been steadily increasing over the past many years. The escalation of prices affects the common man and hired classes the most. Leaders talk about eliminating poverty and pursuing a price line, but consumers need to shell out more money every year to maintain their standard of living. Defective planning, funding shortfalls, lack of dynamic price management policies, antisocial trends such as hoarding, black marketing and greed to become rich overnight are the main cause of this problem. The average person is a wool manufacturer as well as a consumer. Trading is in the hands of private traders. Government efforts to provide basic articles through food stores are limited only to people below the poverty line. There is an urgent need for cooperative traffic to act as a bridge between farmer and consumer and eliminate the profits of the hungry trader. People need to unite to rein in anti-social intermediaries in their deal-making campaigns. Issue 16: Komal had a conversation with his IT friend. Having received a lot of ideas from her, she decides to write an article about information technology for her school magazine in about 150-200 words. Imagine you're Komal. Write an article. Answer: INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY (Comal) Applied science and technology have changed our lives and ways of functioning. Technological advances have made the world a global village. Revolutionary advances in telecommunications have enabled us to communicate with people in the farthest parts of the world. Telecommunication has allowed us to communicate all over the world. Information technology has been revolutionized with the invention of computers. She opened a new window into the world. Computer information technologies have improved the efficiency and ability of a person to work. The Internet provides instant knowledge and services through its worldwide network. E-mail (e-mail) and e-commerce (e-commerce) are in vogue. Genetic engineering, cloning and miraculous treatment of diseases are now available to mankind through information technology. Issue 17: Strict discipline in schools and colleges is a big problem these days when cases of indiscipline have become quite frequent. When you look at the following points, write an article about the importance of discipline in life in about 150-200 words. You're Chitra/Chetan. Discipline - order - sense of duty and obedience - necessary in all areas of life - absence: chaos and confusion - House: nursery discipline - indiscipline in educational institutions - strikes- demonstrations - boycott of classes - elections to student unions. Political intervention - proper advice and guidance parents and teachers. Answer: IMPORTANCE DISCIPLINE (Chitra/Chetan) Discipline provides order. This is the basis of the whole universe. Even the Earth, the Moon and other planets orbit Sim in established orbits. Hence the perfect beauty and harmony in nature. Discipline instills in us a sense of duty and obedience and is important in all walks of life. Lack of discipline will lead to chaos and confusion. The house is a nursery discipline. It should be vaccinated at an early age. However, a glimpse of the existing scenario shows the discipline is unfortunately lacking in all walks of life. We hear about strikes and demonstrations in schools and colleges. Students boycott trivial classes. Student union elections have also destroyed a healthy academic environment. Direct political interference has caused student unrest, clashes and violence. Students forget that they come to school to study. They are easily misled and misled by vested interests. Appropriate counseling and guidance from parents and teachers can help students maintain discipline. Issue 18: Write an article in about 150-200 words for your school magazine on the meaning of education-a remedy for social evil. You are Mohit/Mona. Answer: VALUE EDUCATION-A REMEDY FOR SOCIAL EVILS (Mohit/Mona) The current scenario of our country is not good. Newspapers carry accounts of thefts, murders, terrorist attacks, robberies, rapes, dowry deaths, etc. Unemployment scares them in the face. The crime rate is also increasing among educated people. Many social vices have crept into society because of the lack of moral education. Modern education is only academic and there is no stress to lift students mentally, spiritually and physically. Value education instills morality, ethical values, fulfillment of duty, respect and attention to others, empathy and compassion. Value education makes a person responsible, sensitive and decent person. In short, value education can help eliminate all social evils. Issue 19: The government has banned smoking in public places. Write an article on the dangers of smoking in about 150-200 words for your school magazine. You Anu XI A. Answer: HAZARDS OF SMOKING (by Anu-XI A) This is a welcome move that the government has banned smoking in public places like a train station, bus fin, parks, cinemas and public gatherings. Smoking is bad for your health. This endangers our lives and is a serious health hazard. Smoking is a very bad habit. Children take it for pleasure at a tender age and soon become addicted. You can start with a cigarette a day and finish with a pack or two a day. Smoking is very damaging to our mind and body, heart and wallet. Tobacco is the victim of many diseases such as cough, cancer and heart disease. Heart, and respiratory as well as blood systems get impaired. Even the digestive system has suffered greatly. Smoking is a slow poison that keeps its prey in its clutches firmly. The sooner he stays, the better it will be and it is better not to start smoking. Issue 20: The Delhi administration has launched a campaign against the use of crackers on the occasion of Diwali. Write an article on Ban Crackers in about 150-200 words for your school magazine. You're Dipty/Dhruva. Answer: BAN CRACKERS (by Dipty/Dhruva) Many harmful practices have been associated with some of our religious festivals and social events. Explosion crackers on Diwali, weddings, etc. are such an evil practice. This is not only wasteful, but also harmful. Perhaps the desire to show wealth and the misconception of fun encourages people to enjoy the look of their hard-earned money, and in the smoke. Smoke emitted by fireworks emits harmful and poisonous gases. People with asthma and other respiratory disorders should suffer further. The condensation in this practice encourages the social evil of child labour. Most fire factory crackers use children as workers. These unfortunate children are deprived of education and a healthy childhood. They also come into contact with diseases, processing poisonous chemicals. So it takes an hour to ban crackers. Issue 21: The Delhi administration has launched a campaign against the use of plastic bags. Write an article on the dangers of plastic bags in about 150-200 words for your school magazine. You are Swati/Sanjay. Answer: HAZARDS OF POLYTHENE BAGS (from Swati/Sanjay) Polyethy plastic bags pose a potential threat to our environment. They have many negative effects on human health and hygiene. Plastic bags are not biodegradable. They don't dissolve in the mud. Rather, they clog pores and do not allow the ground to suck water. Thus the power of the earth's fertility is lost. New kidneys don't get a chance to come up. The greens are hard. They produce unpleasant gases when burned. These gases cause serious diseases such as bronchitis, eye rash, allergies, cancer, etc. heaps of discarded plastic bags are an ugly sight. They dissipate with the wind and smother drains. Deadly microbes breed in pools of dirty water. The sewer system is suffocating. Stray animals eat them and their digestive system is disrupted. We need to raise public awareness of these dangers. Campaigns against polyethylene should be organized. Issue 22: You Priya/Piaush. You have noticed a growing trend of violence among young people. Write an article for a school magazine in about 150-200 words, emphasizing the role of media, TV visas and movies. Answer: VIOLENCE AMONG YOUTH (By Priya/Piyush) Lately very The trend has been seen in the behavioral model of teenagers. This is a growing trend towards young people. They became aggressive and assertive. They indulge in violent protests and loud outbursts of emotions. They go to the marches and hold demonstrations at the slightest provocation. If against, they indulge in arson and looting. They take an ominous delight in damaging public property. The tendency to splash out their anger, show themselves and impress others with their heroic exploits makes them into a no-bit-up. Media, cable TV visas and overdose films are largely responsible for fanning the trend of violence among young people. Lack of proper parental care and control and the desire to emulate one's peers are other factors contributing to this. They need to realize the difference between a life coil and real life. Issue 23: You are Rajat/Rajani. You worked for the Pulse Polio campaign in Delhi. Write down your experience of government-run health programs. Write an article of about 150-200 words for a newspaper under a health column discussing the need for a health center in every locality. Answer: NEED OF HEALTH CARE CENTRES (by Rajat / Rajani) The government has launched many health schemes for smallpox, tuberculosis, leprosy and HIV infections. The Pulse polio campaign has been a resounding success. These efforts by the Government are commendable, but not sufficient. Recently, city authorities reported the recurrence of some infectious diseases, such as cholera, smallpox, malaria, dengue, etc. The number of HIV infections has increased several times. Therefore, in each settlement there is an urgent need for a medical center. These centres can screen diseases, diagnose them at an early stage and provide effective treatment. In short, health centres are essential to a country free of disease. Issue 24: The Pollution Control Awareness Drive launched by your school student Kapil Mathur has concluded that Delhi is the most polluted city in the world. He mentioned some reasons as well as a suggestion in his diary for writing an article for a school magazine. Use the following notes along with your own idea to write an article in about 150-200 words for your school journal. Delhi : The most polluted city... Reasons: No. vehicles is increasing. - no increase. industry that emits poisonous gases. The flow of waste into the pita water. Some suggestions: - Check for increased carbonation. Plant trees. To raise public awareness. Answer: DELHI-THE MOST POLLUTED CITY OF THE WORLD (By Kapil Mathur) Among the most polluted cities in the world, Delhi enjoys a dubious distinction to top the list. It's not just the most polluted India, but the whole world. The reasons are obvious. Delhi has developed and expanded phenomenally. With ever-growing the number of vehicles plying the road has also increased many times. The growing number of industries emitting poisonous gases is another contributing factor to air pollution and environmental degradation. The dumping of chemical waste into the Yamuna contaminated the river's water. Now it is unsuitable even for animals. Immediate measures must be taken to verify carbonation. Plantation and tree conservation must be given priority. Public awareness needs to be raised. Citizens must realize their responsibility to keep Delhi tidy and clean. Campaigns like Delhi-Griner's Cleaner Delhi have circulated a message about keeping pollution under control. ICD's efforts to collect household waste in individual bins - biodegradable and nondegradable by biodegradable - can also reduce pollution. Let's all join forces to keep Delhi pollution free. Only then will we be able to control the demon pollution. II. BASED ON VISUAL INPUT Learn visuals carefully - you can get a picture, diagram, graph, table, etc. - watch the highlights. You've got to think carefully and celebrate the highlights. An oral contribution may contain a proposal or guidance. The article should be organic. Issue 1: You are Manish / Manisha. You went to the circus, known for its extraordinary animal shows. You saw people clapping and screaming with joy, applauding the tricks and exploits performed by some of these wild animals. But you felt miserable to learn the cruel ways and methods used in the circus to force the animals to perform antics and dangerous feats. Your father showed you the pictures below. Write an article in 150-200 words on the fate of circus animals. Answer: PLIGHT OF CIRCUS ANIMALS (manish /Manisha) animals were born free, but man tamed them and uses them to their advantage. Even wild animals have not been spared. The more dangerous the animal, the more spectators it attracts to the circus. Thus, man uses these animals as an object of fun, leakage and fun. In the world of public entertainment, the circus is prominent. We are very happy to watch the antics of the lion, bear and elephants, who dance to the melodies of their master of the ring. The tricks and exploits of these animals provide a sharp contrast with the adventurous exploits of the performers. Children express their joy with applause, while adults simply admire the courage of the ring masters. People ignore tough and harsh facts. Bears, tigers, lions and elephants are caged, starved and lashed for extended periods of their training. They are subjected to bloodthirsty cruelty until they become tame, weak and obedient. Even their angry snarls titillate people. It is necessary to stop the cruel With animals. Issue 2: Recently Govt. nct banned the use of plastic bags throughout Delhi. But you see the use of plastic products in every area of life. Some of the Below are the photos. Think about other uses of plastics in human life and write an article about the role of plastic in the modern of the century in about 150-200 words. You are Varsha/Vijay. Answer: PLASTIC AND MODERN AGE (varsha/Vijay) Plastics are synthetic polymers produced by chemical reactions. They are mostly made of oil. Plastics are everywhere: pipes that carry water to fields to irrigate crops, bright light, comfortable and portable furniture, light weight, but durable and unbreakable utensils are some of the elements made of plastic. The soles of our shoes, the cases of the machines and even their bodies and details, such as the camera body, TV, computer, washing machine, mixer grinder, etc. are made of different types of plastics. The steering wheel of your car, a mobile cell phone and even a ballpoint pen in your hand are made of polymers. Plastic has entered our lives deeply. High consumption of plastic has created a problem of solid waste. Recycling plastic is highly polluting, so carrying bags of recycled plastic has been banned. Plastic is not biodegradable. Burning plastic releases toxic gases in the air. Plastic bags suffocate drains and check the flow of sewers. Some hungry stray cows eat plastic bags and die. However, despite the dangers associated with the low quality of plastic bags, plastic products are popular in almost all vital parts. Issue 3: Below is a picture of Aditya's room. He had a meeting with an intruder in which he came out with flying flowers with his presence of mind, though internally he trembled with fear, and his tongue was too dry to pronounce the word. Reproduce Aditya's experience in your own words in 150-200 words. You are Prajesh/Preeti. Answer: COWARD TURNS A HERO (by Pravesh/ Preeti) Aditya is well known as the chicken-hearted guy. He was afraid of even small insects, but the tension and fear of examination forced him to learn late into the night. He kept his door a little ajar to go to Grandma's lobby. One night he heard some heavy steps, stepping on the floor. He was afraid that some devil or ghost was about to devour him. So he turned off the lights and hid under the bed. In the dark, a giant figure moved towards him. The newcomer gropes in the dark. Aditya was so scared that her mouth was dry. He dare not pronounce a sound like it can show his presence. When the figure turned his back on Aditya, he grabbed both hands by one of his legs and dug his teeth on his calf. The man screamed in panic. Aditya's father and their servant burst in with a torch and sticks. The attacker was depressed. The man was handed over to police. Later, Aditya was honored for his courage as he helped in nabbing/wanted criminal. Issue 4: You are Navin/ Neha. You just visited a glass factory that children and witnessed the dreadful coi.dition of the boys and their place of work. You share your experiences with your classmates, who talk about the plight of child labor, the carpet and cracker industry, brick ovens, roadside restaurants and household help. Using the sketches below and your own ideas, write an article in about 150-200 words advocating a total ban on child labor. Answer: BAN ON CHILD LABOUR (by Navin/Neha) Witness of the plant where child labour works is a nerve-wracking experience. The other day I was shocked to see the plight of young boys working in a bracelet factory in appalling conditions. Their tired looks, emaciated bodies, dirty and languous clothing, lowered eyes and blackened hands and faces showed their suffering. He clearly showed the height of exploitation motivated by greed. Child labour also produces carpets, the cracker industry, the gaming industry, brick stoves and roadside restaurants, as well as household assistance. Poverty, hunger and unemployment will force poor parents to work anywhere, provided they can bring money. Child labour is cheap, obedient and disorganized. They may be forced to work longer hours. The Government must take effective measures to stop this threat. Offenders should be awarded harsh punishments and penalties. This will act as a deterrent to others as well. Issue 5: You are Madhur / Madhuri. During your trip to school, you notice some masked scooters carrying oxygen inhalers. Sudden radiation of black smoke at the intersection flashes the answer : pollution - the real culprit. Using the above sketch/pictures and your own ideas, write an article in about 150-200 words advocating steps to prevent environmental degradation. Answer: PROCURRATIVE ENVIRONMENTAL DEGRADATION (Madhur/ Madhuri) Environmental degradation is a serious problem for modern citizens. Unprecedented progress in industrialization, mining and rapid urbanization and increased vehicles has put a heavy strain on facilities. Emissions of poisonous and harmful gases, discharge of wastewater and industrial waste have destroyed the purity of air and water. Deforestation and the arbitrary cutting of trees deprived the mother-land of the lungs. Citizens were victims of respiratory disorders and diseases related to the thoracic lungs, such as asthma, bronchitis and whooping cough. There is so much suspended particulate matter in the air that scooters have to put on masks and carry oxygen inhalers. Black smoke emitted by vehicles sends clouds of smoke. We must take action to prevent further environmental degradation. Issue 6: Another dowry victim reads the caption over Picture: You are deeply moved and excited when reading the report. you interact with your peers who relate to more harrowing fairy tale tales girls at the hands of greedy dowry seekers. Using this sketch and your own ideas write an article (about 150-200 words) about the vices of the dowry system for publication in the Indian Express, Chennai. You're Shreya/Shirish. Answer: EVILS OF DOWRY SYSTEM (Shreya/Shirish) Dowd, which used to be a symbol of love and affection for her daughter at her wedding, has now become a necessary evil in the modern materialistic age. The dowry actually took such a threatening proportion that the merit of the girl is secondary. The value of a girl is measured in terms of the dowry she brings. All laws and regulations, such as gender equality, equal opportunity, respect for the girl, are thrown aside when a marriage agreement is concluded. Many educated, talented and beautiful girls fall into the clutches of this demon. Avid dowry seekers invent new measures to find and retrieve the dowry. Cases of burning of the bride Eyre increase day by day. Gender bias cannot be eradicated without eradicating social evils such as dowry. There is no shortage of laws and regulations. Strict measures and deterrent punishment are needed. A well-established society of enlightened youth can help curb the evil of the dowry. Issue 7: Artie Gupta, a social worker, visits the office in connection with some of the work. She was shocked to see the following scenes. It is very painful from rampant corruption in the public and political life of our country. She decides to write an article on Corruption - The Cancer of Our Society for Times India, New Delhi. Write her article in 150-200 words. A. CORRUPTION-THE CANCER OF OUR SOCIETY (Artie Gupta) Corruption has become a dangerous ulcer that has penetrated deep into all walks of life in our society. It is deeply rooted in the social, political, economic and religious life of the nation. Even the faces, the highest-ranking faces, rested in a web of corruption. The names of former prime ministers Rajiv Gandhi and Narasimhi Rao are linked to the scandals. Corruption seems to be a top-down smear. You pay a trumpeter and call a tune. Files don't move into offices until the wheels of illegal satisfaction pull them. Everything seems to be for sale. The best positions and jobs can be bought. Corrupt officers and businessmen hand in hand with each other. Smuggling, hoarding, parallel black marketing are the scourges of corruption. If this virus of corruption is not eradicated now, it will destroy our social, economic and political fabric after redemption. Issue 8: Smoking harms smokers as well as non-smokers. It should be banned in public places. Look at the picture below and write your views on the subject in an article for publication in a school magazine. You are Vinay/Varsha. (Limitation of the word: 150-200) Answer: BAN SMOKING (by Vinay/Varsha) The dangers of smoking are too serious to be Slightly. Virtually all of the mayor's health problems are caused by smoking, and are aggravated and exacerbated. High blood pressure, heart disorders and cancer are the main killer diseases caused by smoking. Doctors, health workers and social workers are making every effort to quit smoking around the world. Banners, posters, posters and street plays loudly and clearly proclaim that every cigarette smoked reduces the life of a smoker for a couple of minutes. Few people realize that non-smokers can also suffer from diseases caused by smoking if they go to inhaling smoke from other people's smoking. These passive smokers have a high risk of the disease because they do not take any precautions or remedial measures. Our government must recognize the dangers of smoking and ban smoking in public places. Awareness, motivation and a sense of responsibility on the part of smokers are necessary in order to limit smoking and avoid smoking non-smokers.
