Stop! Don't you realize this is against the rules? Fighting outside the stadium is a serious violation that will get you both kicked out of the tournament. – Jackie Chun to Goku and Giran He's Here! The mighty enemy Giran Monster SmashSwan of Goku Monster Beast Giran (中中シーン敵中シン秋, Detà! Kyōteki Giran, light. He's here! The Mighty Foe Giran is the 23-year-old episode of Dragon Ball and the 10th episode of Tournament Saga. This episode first aired in Japan on July 30, 1986. Its original U.S. airdate was September 19, 2001. Contents[show] Summary While the World Martial Arts Tournament continues, Goku learns that he is arranged to fight a creature called Giran. While the two are on the ring, the match is postponed due to rainy weather. As a result, some of the world tournament competitors decide to go to a restaurant nearby. In the restaurant, Goku eats with his friends and Giran calmly orders his milk when he hears the monks from the Temple of Orin laughing at him, so he threatens them. Giran then tells the bartender for more milk and starts attacking the monks. Before the glass fills, he's beaten them all. Yamcha then stands up to Giran to hurt them. After a little quarrel between the two, Jackie Chun steps in and tells them to stop. Goku gets wrapped up in Giran's Merry-Go-Round Gum the next day, they start the game, but Goku is late. Ranfan, Krillin, Yamcha, Nam and Jackie Chun are looking for him. World Tournament Announcer may arise that if Goku does not arrive in two minutes he will be disqualified. Ranfan finds Goku sleeping in a corner of the arena. They wake him up, and he informs them that he had sat down and slumbered in the wind. The announcer pulls him to the ring before he's even fully awake. The audience is exasperated when they heard Goku took a nap, but Giran believes that Goku mocked him. Giran surrenders The fight begins with Giran threatening Goku, but he is not paying attention. As they fight, Giran lands a powerful blow on Goku by a dirty trick. Everyone thought he was going to be knocked out, but Goku gets up and continues to fight. Goku throws Giran out of the ring and thinks he's won, but Giran can fly and gets back in the ring and shoots merry-go-round gum around Goku, catching him. He then throws Goku far away, but he calls Flying Nimbus and lands back in the ring. The judges say they would allow it, but he is prohibited from using it again. As Giran is about to beat Goku again, his tail grows back, and he manages to stay in the ring. Goku breaks away from the purple rings and after seeing Goku's strengthened strength after his tail grew back, Giran gives himself up and Goku advances to the semifinals.
