Truecaller is a free call management app that shows who is calling your number. This android app helps identify incoming ID subscribers in case you don't have that number saved in your local phone book. Truecaller has built a reputation as the most reliable subscriber identification app in the world. If you work in a business, or if you get a lot of calls from different numbers, then Truecaller is your go to the app. For a normal user, it acts as a protection against spam calls and protection against unwanted calls from unknown numbers. You can manage all incoming calls with an app that supports mobile, landline and prepaid phone numbers. You can see who called you before answering the calls on your phone. Also, prevent unwanted calls by using a list of spam numbers. Truecaller only allows you to access the app with Facebook, Yahoo! or Gmail. If you don't have one, you can't connect to its database. If you use one of your social sites, all your contacts, including contact numbers, contact names, email identifiers, will be uploaded to a secure server. If you log into the app using mobile phones, your entire address book will be sent to the app servers. They are organized in the recording, and each number will be assigned the caller ID. When someone searches for a number by searching for a Truecaller number, the caller ID associated with that number will appear. You can enrich an app that can work with social networks with your photos on Twitter, Facebook and LinkedIn. You can also tweet or follow the person by connecting your Twitter account. You can safely use an app that also offers the ability to create your own profile. How does it work? Truecaller acts according to the scenario of give and ves. You want these unknown numbers, then you have to part with phone book contacts.

This app is a crowd of sources from millions of users who have downloaded the app on their smartphones. As part of the end-user agreement, the app asks the user to allow access to the user's address book. The data is then uploaded to the company's servers by the app. Although the service does not charge its users a penny, the data it collects from your address book is vital to expanding Truecallers and the database. The algorithm that uses this app is that when you work your profile, it caches all your contacts. Similarly, when other users make an account, they will use your cached contacts and show other users saved contacts. Same way it shows other contacts with you. Truecaller provides an experience that goes beyond the limitations of modern phone book applications. It has grown significantly to 250 million subscribers worldwide. With the majority of users in the subcontinent and China. You can also subscribe to his Facebook page for updates. 250 million people trust Truecaller for their communications needs, whether for subscriber ID or for blocking spam calls and SMS.
