These are the rest of the issues that I use this drive, aside from the Wi-Fi hotspot and signal network indication. I've seen this theme from @Hami_Do on the P10 Lite forums and thought maybe we can do something similar and collect fixes for hi3650 specific questions on gsi roms. What's fully working on the P9 as well as their standalone charging animation fix. And what also matters is the Hwcomposer fix, which basically brings promotions like the smoothness and quality of the screen to the gsi, and even seems to save some battery life. I doubt their zip works on hi3650 devices, but I've collected files from the vendor and the trick works on our devices too, but it's not yet flashable. Maybe you want to help. BlurryUi workaround in the phh triple app needs to be checked (debug.hwui.profile>true) and disable hw-overs in the developer version togled several times to start it. I haven't tried a backup manager. Whatsapp is not in the game store. Without passing the safety grid, Magisk is version 20.1. For these fixes I think it would be better to ask the guys on the original topic we can use their stuff as a base and than start doing these fixes one by one. I haven't really tried to fix all that cause stuff is my backup phone. We can try for sure. November 26, 2019, 02:56 p.m. #4 More So to begin with I came up with a quick dirty playstore fix. Booted emui, compared its reported features and clearly copied all over that was missing from the report of the havoc. The result is attached. A copy of the /system/etc/sysconfig chmod 644, clear playstore and reboot data. All apps will be displayed. Also there is no FC anymore when trying to access the nfc/Bluetooth settings from the menu. The backup manager is still failing, although it also found an app in the Playstore that can show the real value of the network signal on the gsi, despite the OS failure. TNX BRO for your great work, but can you explain more? How is that? HTML code: phh triple app needs to be tested (debug.hwui.profile>true) and this is it file just flash frm twrp and done? December 9, 2019, 04:55 PM (#6 More Phh treble app) is on the settings menu, on any phh based gsi rom, I think. Just scroll down a bit? Checking the option simply sets the property. You can also add a line to build.prop or use an init script as well. This is not a flashable zip, the files must be copied either through adb or root researcher. A good app to notice the difference is cpu-z.
