JBCC Small and Simple Contract Works, Edition 1.0 - May 2020 This JBCC® Small and Simple Contract Works is designed for changes, renovations and additions to existing buildings, or new construction work, which are no more than three floors high and where complex construction systems are not used, nor complex services must be installed by JBCC Direct Contractor Contract, Edition 1.0 - May 2020 This JBCC® Direct Contractor Contract is designed to be used when the employer chooses to appoint, prior to practical completion, the contractor directly to perform the work where the main contractor was appointed under the JBCC® Basic Construction Agreement, Minor work or minor contract. Direct contracts are typical, but not limited, to the production/supply and installation/installation of kitchens and/or other cabinets, security and access systems, audio-visual equipment, irrigation systems, medical equipment, tenant installations, landscaping, non-central air conditioning, and how the global construction industry spends more and more on resolving disputes, with financial costs in the last two decades reaching billions of dollars. The construction sector is of strategic importance for many African countries, especially southern Africa, where total construction and related activities are estimated at more than 430.2 billion rubles ($29.9 billion). With such a large amount spent on construction projects, any disputes that arise should not be a diversion of business resources, prolonging for months, and in some cases, years. Litigation, an accelerated and cost-effective form of dispute resolution, unlike other dispute resolution tools, is fast becoming the preferred method of resolving building disputes in southern Africa. As a result, there is a growing demand for experienced and qualified judges who can help the parties by quickly and economically endorsing the definition. To understand the importance of a qualified judge in dispute resolution, we speak with Professor MJ Maritz, who is the author/co-author of various model documents for the South African construction industry and has served on several governing bodies and technical committees, such as the Quantitative Survey Board (SAC-SP) and the Joint Committee on Construction Contracts (JBCC). He is currently acting CEO of JBCC and RICS Diploma Coach in South Africa. Click here to continue reading. A Covid-19 advisory note entitled 23.0 Review of the date of practical completion - coronavirus and listed on the page of the Advisory Notes - has been published. You are welcome here to view the advisory note. Advisory notes to be published in 2020 on a permanent basis CONSTITUENT BODIES AND STOCKISTS JBCC, CIDB, CIDB, TREASURY AND OTHER USERS OF JBCC DOCUMENTATION Please inform that JBCC, following the Board of Directors' decision on Friday, November 29, 2019, intends to discontinue the release of all its older versions, including Edition 4.1 (2004) and Edition 5.0 (Reprint 1 - 2007). Both recent editions are now still widely used by the public and private sector bodies, respectively, and their use on existing projects already purchased will continue for some time until such projects are closed Motivation for this decision is based on the following: JBCC intends to be fully electronic within 2020. Thus, the storage of the printed stock of old publications will become problematic for the administration and storage of the reasons the latest JBCC agreement in May 2018 will not undergo any changes until at least the end of 2022, as it has been carefully designed to ensure a fair distribution of contractual risks without any errors in the various agreements and its forms of support During 2020 it is expected that the national state, sectors of provincial states and local municipalities will start to use, if not yet used, the latest agreements in May 2018 plus the relevant contract data documents by the Association of South African Quantity Appraisers (AS'AS), in conjunction with JBCC, has updated, based on the latest May 2018 agreements, General Preliminary (free downloaded from www.jbcc.co.za) , Bill 1 Preliminary for both the Basic Building Agreement (PBA) and the Minor Work Agreement (MWA) and also extends Win'S software programs and software , and specific preliminary projects on one-time contracts (both for PBA and for MWA) This will go a long way to alleviating the confusion of employers, consultants, contractors, subcontractors, suppliers and others when having to deal with publications that contain different terms from other editions of JBCC Training and other accredited speakers on behalf of JBCC focused now only on the last May 2018 agreements and contract data. Therefore, newcomers to department procurement departments who continue to use old publications will not benefit fully from participation in training seminars, please help JBCC in its efforts to improve procurement and contract management for all stakeholders in the South African country, Lesotho and other construction industries JBCC® Basic Construction Agreement Edition 6.2 May 2018.
