Bullish chart patterns across the utilities sector suggest that it could be a group review over the final weeks of 2020. Project Plant It!, an environmental education initiative created by Dominion Energy in 2007, is abuzz with a major announcement in 2021. The new bee pollinator program joins the popular tree planting program. In addition to the free redbud fruit seed that program participants usually receive in spring, they also receive a free packet of wildflower seeds specifically designed to attract bees and other pollinators. As the holiday season approaches, Dominion Energy is helping its customers prepare for the expected increase in scam activity. Throughout Utility Scam Awareness Week (November 16 to November 20), the company provides useful tips and resources to its customers so that they can easily spot and protect themselves from the most common communal scams.
