Since It is DivX Certified, the Playstation 3 guarantees to play any file converted with DivX Converter or Dr DivX on its 'home theater' profile. All DivX Certified devices are box-independently capable for playing Burnt (non-VOD) DivX videos on CD or DVD. (Please Note: Playback from your computer via USB or wireless streaming may work, but is not guaranteed as part of the DivX certificate.) If you have DivX files on your computer, for example, you can only Play to an empty disc and on your device using DivX Player. Other divx files can be played back, but DivX can guarantee that only files that match the 'home theater' profile will play. If you want to watch DivX VOD content on your PS3, first save your device to your VOD code by following the instructions on this page. Q: What is the DivX VOD registration code on a DivX Certified Device? A: DivX VOD code can be used to activate your DivX Certified device for playing DivX Video-On-Demand (VOD) content purchased online from our partners' websites. Q: How do I record my PS3 for DivX VOD playback? A: If you want to save your device for DivX VOD (video on demand) playback, you can follow the instructions here. Q: How do I find DivX VOD content? A: We do not offer any DivX videos on our website, but you can buy or rent divx videos online from one of the vod partners (click here). After purchasing or renting videos from a partner's website, you can download the video to your computer to play it in divx player. Once downloaded, your VOD content can also be played on any DivX Certified device registered to your DivX VOD account. Having difficulty burning or playing activation file or other DivX files on CD? Please be sure to burn your DivX video as a Data Disc. Many third-party burning programs have DVD or Video/Multimedia burning modes, but they are not compatible with DivX files. Using data writing mode for third-party writing programs usually resolves this issue. We also recommend burning in clean (empty) environments. If this still doesn't work, check the specifications in your DivX Certified user manual for compatible CD and DVD formats. Many DVD Players accept only -R discs (CD-R, DVD-R, DVD-RW) and do not accept +R discs (DVD+R). If you couldn't play your DivX video that reverberated to CD/DVD+R, try rewriting it on CD/DVD-R.
