Beautiful Byway can be your new home as a commercial truck driver carrying the aerospace and automotive parts that make up Kentucky's largest export industry. To join the growing field of commercial trucks, you must obtain your commercial driver's license, and the first step to achieving your goal is to study the Kentucky Commercial Driver's License Manual 2020. How to Prepare To prepare for a written test, you must first download the CDL handbook and then read it thoroughly, taking a lot of notes. This test may include hundreds of possible questions, so it's important to concentrate and pay attention. Most likely you want to add support to make you more marketable, and you'll find information to learn for those tests in your manual as well. If you feel your mind is starting to drift or you are distracted, try a short walk and then refocus your mind and re-learn. Once you've fully read the handbook, look at your notes and if something still seems hard to remember or unclear, go back and reread those passages. The questions on the written test will be pulled directly from the handbook so the more you learn, the more confident you can be. Remember, what you learn will not only get you on your way to a new career but it will keep you, and others sharing the road with you safely and making sure your cargo travels for a job well done. Final Step! If you feel confident in your knowledge, it is useful to read the material once again to keep it in front of your mind and then head to your local exam station. Your test will be administered by the Kentucky State Police and can be done in oral form if necessary, with the exception of HazMat support. Good luck, you will soon be on your way to a new and exciting career as a commercial truck driver! Why try and fight through without the help of this official permission test study guide, when accessing it conveniently and will not cost you a dime? Many people assume that the KY driver license manual is only for new CDL students who are studying for general knowledge of their initial DMV written test – this is not the case! This permission book can also be used to prepare for smaller support exams, if you want to add qualifications to your license! Finding specific support material in the handbook is simple, because HazMat, Vehicle Combination, School Bus, Tanker Vehicle and all other qualifications have their own chapters in the CDL driver manual for Kentucky. If you already have a manual copy, look at the content section at the beginning and you'll easily be able to identify the part we're referring to. If you aim to use the KY DMV manual to revise for general knowledge DMV tests for 2020, you should ignore the support chapter for now. The time will come to focus on this subject later, once you have passed the DMV permission test and know which additional qualifications you will need. For now, it is better not to confuse yourself with this material. Instead, you should study a general topic that applies to all commercial drivers, regardless of their vehicle type or specific driving role, as this will be the focus of Kentucky's 50 permit test questions. As you begin to feel more confident in understanding the topics in the KY driver's manual for 2020, you may start testing your knowledge with a practice permit test quiz - We got some here in ePermitTest.com! A Commercial Driver's License (CDL) is a driver's license required by Kentucky to operate any type of vehicle designed to move 16 or more passengers, including the driver. These include (but are not restricted to) tow trucks, tractor trailers, and buses, transporting a number of hazardous supplies requiring commemorative plaques under Department of Transportation regulations has a gross vehicle weight rating (GVWR) of 26,001 lb or more for commercial use of CDL ruled by the Commercial Motor Vehicle Safety Act of 1986. CDL rules are designed to insure highway safety by requiring truck drivers and tractor and bus trailer drivers to meet minimum standards. The law also allows the removal of drivers deemed unsafe or ineligible. States like Kentucky are authorized to issue Commercial Driver's Licenses, but minimum federal government requirements must be met. Get ready for your CDL KY exam with our free Kentucky CDL practice test CDL License Groups – KY CDL Classes Commercial Driver's License issued by Kentucky based on the CDL License class specified below. CDL Group A (Combination Vehicle) License Any vehicle or combination vehicle that has a gross combination weight rating (GCWR) of £26,001 or more provided that the GVWR of the towed vehicle exceeds £10,000. If you have a Group A CDL license, you are permitted to drive vehicles or combinations of vehicles of any size. CDL Group B (Heavy Straight Vehicle) License Any single vehicle with a GVWR of £26,001 or more, or such a vehicle towing a vehicle for less than 10,000 GVWR pounds. With a Group B CDL license, you may be allowed to drive any single vehicle regardless of weight. In addition, you are allowed to pull the trailer if the trailer's gross vehicle weight rating (GVWR) is less than 10,000 pounds. If your trailer may tow more than 10,000 pounds of GVWR, and a combined vehicle weight rating of more than 26,000 pounds, you will need a Class A CDL. Cdl Group C (Small Vehicle) License Cdl Class C license is intended to include single vehicles, or mixed vehicles, that do not meet group A or Group B definitions, but are designed to carry sixteen or more passengers (along with drivers) , or intended to move Hazardous Materials (HazMat). With a Group C CDL license, you can drive any vehicle that is to move 16 or more passengers, along with the driver, if the GVWR is less than 26,001 pounds and you have passenger support. In addition, cdl Class C also allows for to operate any vehicle used to move hazardous materials if the GVWR is less than 26,001 pounds and you have the correct support. Kentucky CDL Exam Overview Test for CDL KY License includes skills test and knowledge exam. The CDL Knowledge Exam includes general exams, one or more support checks, and air brake exams. The checks you will take depend on the classification of the license you obtain (Class A, B, or C) and the type of vehicle you will be involved in (e.g., Tanker, Double/Triple, Passenger Bus). Please consult our free Kentucky CDL practice exam that can help you prepare for your CDL KY test. The Driver General Inspection Overview of each CDL class must pass a General Knowledge check that contains questions about driving safety, vehicle inspections, road indicators, traffic laws and other information that you must specify for driving a commercial vehicle in Kentucky. Endorsement Exam Overview Along with general knowledge tests, you also need to follow and pass various support checks depending on the type of vehicle you are about to operate. The authentication exam is described below. Tanker support - for driving commercial tank vehicles (more than 26,000 pounds) designed to move liquid or gas in tanks permanently or temporarily attached to vehicles or chassis. Portable tanks that have a fixed capacity below 1,000 gallons are not required to have this support. Trailer support is double and triple - to pull the trailer double and triple. Passenger support - to drive any vehicle, except school buses, designed to carry 16 or more people, including drivers. Endorsement of school buses - required to drive school buses designed to carry 16 or more people, including drivers transporting students to or from schools and official school activities. In addition, drivers must receive passenger support before getting school bus support. Support hazardous materials - to drive any vehicle carrying hazardous materials. Hazmat supplies are recognized by the Federal Department of Health and Human Services and require Hazmat plaques. Air Brake Test If you plan to drive any commercial vehicle that has air brakes, it is necessary to take and pass an air brake test to remove air brake restrictions from your CDL. The air brake test is completely different from the authentication check because the air brake test works as a restriction rather than an endorsement. If you do not pass the air brake test, your CDL will bear a restrictive mark which means you do not have a license to drive a commercial vehicle with air brakes.
