Cub scout bear requirements printable

Special thanks to Celeste Hunt from Peck 1781 in Washington, Utah in the Zion area of Utah National Parks Council for making this amazing tracking sheet and donating it to us. Tracking, planning, and very important recognition in cub scouts. This new tracking sheet will help you to track where each guy is headed towards bears, adventures, and cyber-chips needed. I like to print this tracking sheet on the cardstock, and I print a sheet for every guy in binder my leader to be kept next to his tracking sheet for his religious prize, and every other prize we have worked on. I keep a different tab for every boy with all the tracking sheets (Age Group & Religious Award). then i have full information about every boy . It helps to do this this way if you need another week and another week differently. Not every boy is there every week, so i can always know where every boy is and everything is in the same place. I keep a roll, and next to the roll i write what we did that week, and then every two weeks i update all the tracking sheets for each guy. If parents had questions, i would always have a place to look back on the roll, and i could always copy any trace sheet to show them where their son is. Please do not download these files and emails or send them digitally to others. These are for your personal use only. If you want to share these files with others, please copy this link and send it to our site so that they can be printed themselves. We would love for anyone who wants to come here to print themselves completely for free, we get money to keep our website open where we store all our documents and PDF files by people visiting our blog. Please don't take money out of our pocket by bypassing our blog. Please help us keep all this information free of charge.
